

ALUMNI NEWS

1964-1966

BOSTON COLLEGE

ALUMNI NEWS

WINTER, 1966

HERE IS YOUR

CHAIR

THUMB BACK

Traditional New England Style.
An ideal side or extra chair.
Gold trim with seal.
Price: $20.00

BOSTON ROCKER

The incomparable Boston Rocker. Made for relaxing. Gold trim and seal.
Price: $35.00

The B.C. Favorite. A classic adaptation of the Hubbard Chair by New England craftsmen. Black with walnut arms, gold trim and seal.

Price: $35.00

HUBBARD ARM CHAIR

ALL CHAIRS FURNISHED IN BLACK OR ANTIQUE MAPLE

LIBERTY SIDE CHAIR

Need an extra chair for office or den? Here is a strong, sturdy Liberty design side chair. Gold trim and seal.
Price: $25.00

Great for young eagles! A miniature of the famous Boston Rocker. Gold trim and seal.

Price: $18.00

CHILD'S ROCKER

All prices include Delivery in Greater Boston.
Write or Call Alumni Office

"I left a secure, satisfying job after 15 years for a new and even more rewarding career!"

Says — MELVIN WEISZ, C.L.U., The Gold Agency, Detroit

"My 15 years as a high school teacher were personally rewarding and now, as a representative for Mass Mutual, I'm still enjoying some of the satisfactions of teaching. I'm now educating adults in the art of solving their financial problems. Helping people save money, create estates, and guaranteeing their families the resources they'd need in case of premature death."

"Financially, the rewards of a career with Mass Mutual have been gratifying, too.

In fact, each of the 5 years I've been at it, I've put in force over $1 million in life insurance! This has made possible foreign travel, a new home, a college education for our son, and the leisure time to participate more fully in community activities!"

"And Mass Mutual representatives are a skilled group of professionals who work for themselves, but not by themselves. Backing them is the prestige of a company over 100 years old, with over $3 billion in assets."

If you're looking for the same rewards that appealed to Mr. Weisz in his new career, write a personal letter to: Charles H. Schaaff, President, Mass Mutual, Springfield, Massachusetts. He's always interested in hearing from a good man!

MASSACHUSETTS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Springfield, Massachusetts/organized 1851

Some of the Boston College alumni in Massachusetts Mutual service:

Robert K. Powers, C.L.U., B.S., '39, A.M., '40, Spokane

Ira E. Mogul, C.L.U., '49, Miami

ALUMNI EVENTS

OPEN HOUSE ALUMNI HALL

After All Home Hockey Games

FASHION SHOW FEBRUARY 19

Lyons Hall, 1:30 P.M.

Chairman: Mary Lou McHale, N. '57

LAETARE SUNDAY MARCH 20

Speaker, James J. Norris

Executive, National Catholic Welfare Conference. Official Catholic Lay Representative at Vatican II.

9 A.M. Mass—Roberts Center

10 A.M. Breakfast—McHugh Forum

Chairman: Peter Quinn '32

ALUMNI WEEKEND JUNE 10-13

See Announcement—Page 22 and 23

ALUMNI HALL

ALUMNI OFFICERS

President: CHARLES F. MURPHY, '30

First Vice President: PETER C. QUINN, '32

Second Vice President: ALFRED W. BRANCA, M.D., '39

Treasurer: JAMES F. STANTON, '42

Secretary: GARRETT L. SULLIVAN, M.D., '30

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Joseph A. Cancelliere, '45

Richard J. O'Brien, '58

Richard J. Condon, '28

Cornelius W. Owens, '36

James M. Connolly, '33

Rt. Rev. John M. Quirk, '37

Andrew A. Dominick, '37

William A. Ryan, '33

Joseph D. Goode, '51

J. Daniel Walsh, '50

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Walter G. Boudreau '43

EDITOR AND DIRECTOR OF ALUMNI RELATIONS

Thomas O'C. Murray '43 CBA

FACULTY ADVISOR

Rev. Francis V. Sullivan, S.J. '21

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Albert J. Sullivan '37

Rev. John A. O'Callaghan, S.J.

Thomas H. O'Connor '49

John F. Norton '22

CLASS NOTES EDITOR

Teresa M. Bruno

PHOTOGRAPHY

James Coyne

BOSTON COLLEGE

ALUMNI NEWS

VOL. XXVIII No. 2

WINTER, 1966

Contents

Communicators of the Faith Vatican II and Seminary Reform	3
Development Report	7
Humanities The Things That Matter	10
A Tribute to Dave	12
Editor's Memo	13
B.C. Club News	15
The Bookshelf	16
Sports Report	17
Class Notes	20
Alumni Weekend Announcement	22

Published by

THE BOSTON COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Fall, Winter and Spring

Member: American Alumni Council

OUR COVER

Scholastics and seminarians, training for their ministry as communicators of the Faith, are familiar sights on the modern campus.

COMMUNICATORS

OF THE FAITH

Through

SEMINARY REFORM

by

Rev. James A. O'Donohoe, J.C.D.

THERE is no more urgent task confronting us than a reconsideration of the methods by which our priests are trained for their ministry. If we fail to face up to it, the developing crisis may strain to the breaking point the relations between a laity in desperate need of a new approach and a clergy incapable of supplying the need." These frank words were written four years ago by the Most Reverend Denis E. Hurley, O.M.I., Archbishop of Durban in South Africa and an articulate member of the Commission for Seminaries established at the first session of the Second Vatican Council.

For the past twenty years, many responsible articles have been written and many learned conferences have been held on the question of reforming seminary training. Most of this activity took place in Germany, Holland, Belgium, and France but serious consideration of the problem could be also found in Italy, Spain, Ireland, Canada, Latin America, and the United States. It is not surprising, therefore, that this matter was placed on the agenda of the Second Vatican Council. In this connection, it is interesting to note that shortly before the Council began its deliberations, a prominent Catholic layman, editor of a well-known daily paper in northern Italy, was asked to indicate an area which was essential for the Council's consideration. Without a moment's hesitation he replied, "the seminary." He went on to explain that every effort to bridge the gap between the Church and the world would come to nothing without a serious reform of the institutions in which the Church trains her priests for their ministry in the world.

The seminary system, as we know it, was established by the Council of Trent in 1563. It is by a singular coincidence that the present Council's discussion about seminary reform occurred as the Church was celebrating the fourth centenary of this historic event. It was this which led Leon-Joseph Cardinal Suenens to remark to a large assembly of bishops that the best way to commemorate this event would be to adapt seminaries to the needs of the twentieth century. "After four centuries," he facetiously reflected, "normally a few changes are needed."

THE reform of seminaries was placed on the agenda of the Council from the very beginning. On June 5, 1960, Pope John announced the formation of the Preparatory Commission on Studies and Seminaries. Its president was Joseph Cardinal Pizzardo, Prefect of the Sacred Congregation for Seminaries and Universities and it represented a good cross section of the Church. (Archbishop John Cody of Chicago was named a member and Archbishop Patrick O'Boyle of Washington, D.C. was appointed a consultant.) On October 16, 1962, the newly-convened Council established its own Commission for Seminaries, Studies, and Catholic Schools. (Archbishop Cody was numbered among the nine nominated by the Pope and Archbishop O'Boyle was among the fifteen elected by the Council Fathers.) Behind the scenes, there were many discussions and deliberations prior to the drafting of a document on priestly formation. Toward the end of the third session (1964), one which satisfied the majority of the Commission was prepared and submitted to the Fathers of the Council for their discussion and emendation. On October 28, 1965, Pope Paul VI promulgated the document which the Bishops finally approved. It is entitled simply "A Decree on Priestly Training."

Scholastics from Weston as well as Seminarians from St John's are part of the campus scene.

(Photo Credits, Ted Lawson, '67)

Like all the other constitutions and decrees promulgated by the Pope and the Council, this presents nothing new or unheard of. It merely embodies and canonizes much of what had been written in learned articles and discussed at high-level conferences on the necessity of seminary reform. For that reason, prior to our presentation of the contents of the document itself, it might be well to summarize some of the points made by those who have been writing or speaking on this subject.

ALL bemoaned the fact of excessive centralization under the Sacred Congregation for Seminaries and Universities. While admitting the necessity of a central governing agency in Rome, they felt that more power in the direction of seminaries should be granted to local dioceses through the establishment of territorial seminary committees. The one point constantly made by all the writers was the profound need for a thorough pastoral orientation of the entire seminary program. As Cardinal Suenens once remarked: "we are still living with the Council of Trent's idea of seminaries. The stress is on spiritual and intellectual formation but there is really nothing on practical apostolic training." The same notion prevailed in the mind of Archbishop Hurley who wrote: "the principal preoccupation of the seminary should be to mold its pupils into competent communicators of the Faith. Its chief object is not to promote academic knowledge but to impart communicable knowledge. In order to achieve this pastoral emphasis, all were of the opinion that the entire intellectual and spiritual program of the seminary had to be re-thought. That the intellectual program might be improved and given the necessary pastoral orientation, it was suggested that philosophy be not treated separately from theology but, following the example of St. Thomas, integrated into one sacred science; it was also felt that theology should not be studied merely from a speculative point of view, but presented as something rooted in Scripture and constantly developing in history. That the spiritual program might be bettered, many proposed a thorough liturgical orientation which would make the daily celebration of the Eucharist a genuine religious experience, which would present a true evaluation of so-called private devotions, and which would form not the monk for his monastery but the shepherd for his flock.

SUCH are some of the principal ideas which constituted the framework within which the conciliar decree was formulated. In itself, it is a brief document and, in no way, envisions the solution of every problem facing the seminary. It merely strives to present a series of fundamental guide lines which will lay the foundations for a thorough reform of the seminary system. It is a document which is realistic, forward-looking, and progressive. What follows is a detailed summary of its contents.

It is with a deep consciousness that the renewal of the whole Church depends to a great extent on the ministry of its priests that the Council undertakes its directives for seminary reform. While it desires to preserve all those elements which sound tradition has demonstrated to be valuable, it does not hesitate to urge all those things which will make seminary education not only obedient to the other decrees and constitutions emanating from the Council, but also conscious of the need of adapting to the changing conditions of modern times.

Of great significance is the decree's directive that the episcopal conferences of each country set up "special programs of priestly training" which, if they are to function properly, are to be revised periodically and are to be subject to the approval of the Holy See. By taking this step, the Council establishes official and competent organs to insure sensible but thorough adaptation of the Church's general laws on clerical education to the particular circumstances of each diocese and nation. In this way, priestly training will be undertaken with a special consciousness of the pastoral needs of the specific territory in which the priestly ministry is to be exercised.

A SPECIAL section re-affirms the necessity of the major seminary as the proper place for priestly formation. Its program must be the traditional one of spiritual, intellectual, and moral training, but the Council insists that in all these areas the primary orientation is to be pastoral. The spiritual, intellectual, and moral training which is given must be such that it will prepare the candidates to be ministers of the word (in teaching and preaching), ministers of worship (in the celebration of the liturgy), and ministers of the parish (in the service of the people).

It goes without saying that those who teach in the seminary and those who are engaged in its administration must be qualified educators. The Council insists that they be carefully prepared not only in sound doctrine but also by suitable pastoral experience. It also requires that they receive special spiritual and pedagogical training. Under the leadership of the rector, the seminary faculty is instructed to form a closely knit community with the students so that all might develop "a deep joy in their own vocation." The local bishop is urged to encourage "with a constant and loving solicitude" those who work in the seminary and is asked to be a "true father of Christ" to the students. All the priests in the diocese are requested to look upon the seminary as "the heart of the diocese" and are asked to be solicitous in making it what the Council desires it to be.

THE decree gives some specific instructions in regard to the selecting and testing of candidates for the seminary. It orders that careful inquiry be made into their personal intentions in seeking the priesthood, into their freedom of choice, into their spiritual, moral, and intellectual qualifications, and also into their physical and mental health. In addition, it requires that special attention be given to the candidate's ability to bear the burdens of the priestly office and to exercise the pastoral ministry. And it is rather adamant in stating that in the whole process of testing and selection, due firmness is to be adopted even in those places where there is a lack of priests!!

The principal section of the decree is dedicated to the necessity of a pastoral emphasis in the whole process of formation. The Council insists that pastoral concern would "permeate thoroughly the entire training of the students." To that end, they are to be diligently trained in preaching, catechetics, and liturgy; they are to be given careful instruction "in the art of directing souls"; they are to be especially trained to be able to "dialogue with men" and are to be taught "the ability to listen to others and to open their minds to the needs of men"; they are to be given a training which avoids provincialism and is truly catholic; they should be taught to employ all the aids to the ministry which pedagogy, psychology, and sociology can provide. It is the mind of the Council that pastoral training avoid mere theory and, to insure that this be done, it directs that the seminarians "should be initiated into pastoral work, both during their course of studies and also during the time of vacations, by opportune practical projects."

It is within this pastoral framework and with this pastoral orientation that the Council envisions its reform of spiritual and intellectual training. Specific details are given for each of these areas.

SPIRITUAL formation must be closely allied to doctrinal formation. Traditional exercises of piety are to be cultivated but they are not to be seen as the essence of the Christian life. The students must be taught the spirit of the Gospel. They are to be instructed that they are not "destined for domination or for honors" but for total dedication to the pastoral ministry. A spirit of true obedience is to be cultivated and an attitude of simplicity of life and self-denial are to be inculcated so that, as priests, they might be able to give up willingly those things which are permitted but not expedient. The decree makes special mention of education to celibacy so that it will not be seen in a negative sense as mere obedience to law and the giving up of a family but in a positive sense as a most valuable opportunity to develop priestly love and service. In this connection, the Fathers insist that the seminarians be realistically acquainted with the burdens of the priesthood and direct that no problem of priestly existence is to be concealed from them. The latter, of course, is to be done in such a way as not to frighten them but to prepare them for a ministry in a real world. Finally, the spiritual formation of the student must aim at developing a maturity which is genuinely human, a stability of mind which will make them capable of personal decision, and a sense of true urbanity which will produce sincerity, a sense of justice, and refinement in manners.

Closely allied to spiritual formation is observance of the seminary rule. The Council sees the rule as a necessary means of enabling the student to acquire "an internal attitude whereby they accept the authority of superiors from personal conviction and for supernatural reasons." It also directs that it is to be regulated in accordance with the age of the students concerned and must be so constructed as to enable them to acquire self-mastery, to become accustomed to use freedom wisely, to act spontaneously, and to work harmoniously with their fellow priests and the laity.

THE section on spiritual formation ends with three rather interesting recommendations to the territorial body of bishops: 1) they should establish some sort of period of time (maybe similar to the novitiate in religious communities) to afford to the students a more intense introduction to the spiritual life; 2) they should consider the possibility of providing a period of interruption in studies to permit the students to do pastoral work which would more conclusively test their vocations; 3) they should discuss the advisability of extending the age for ordinations to the priesthood beyond that laid down in law so that, at the end of their theological studies, the young men might exercise the order of deacon for a fitting period prior to being promoted to priesthood.

A profound pastoral orientation is also given to the Council's plan for the intellectual formation of candidates for the priesthood. It directs that before they are permitted to begin their ecclesiastical studies, the students should be "equipped with that humanistic and scientific training" which other young men in their respective localities have as foundations for higher studies. The Council also requires the knowledge of Latin so that theological writings and Roman documents might be readily employed and understood. One of the most interesting features of the section on intellectual training is the directive which states that there be a greater relationship between the study of philosophy and that of theology. The Fathers direct that the former discipline must be taught in such a way as to give the students a solid and coherent knowledge of God, man, and the world. To that end, philosophical studies must comprise not only that which is perennially valid but also that of the contemporary period so that the future priests might be adequately prepared to dialogue with the men of their own day and appreciate their actual problems.

Exchange of ideas, a familiar lunchroom session.

The classroom — beginning of knowledge.

THE Council insists that, in the study of theology, the emphasis be placed on the mystery which is Christ and his work of salvation. The Bible is to be employed as "the soul of all theology" and its principal themes are to be the foundations upon which theological study is based. The great doctrines of the Faith are also to be studied within the context of their historical development and due place must be given to speculation on the mysteries of salvation according to the manner indicated by St. Thomas. Moral Theology, Canon Law, and History are to be presented in a manner which reveals their intimate connection with the mystery of Christ, the history of salvation, and the concept of the Church as outlined in the Council's Constitution on the Church. Liturgy must be presented in theory and in practice as "the primary and indispensable source of the true Christian spirit" and through ecumenical orientation, all the students are to be brought to a fuller understanding of the churches separated from the Roman See so that they might be better equipped to work for unity. Finally, all methods of instruction employed in the seminary must be renewed in the light of modern pedagogical advances so that the purpose of all philosophical and theological training might be seen not merely as the communication of ideas but as a true and intimate formation of the student's mind in accordance with that of Christ.

AS the above summary indicates, there are many fine elements in the decree. The following, however, are worthy of special mention: 1) the constant emphasis on the fact that every element in seminary training be given a pastoral orientation; 2) open approval of the aids to education which can be provided by modern pedagogical, psychological, and sociological developments as well as an insistence that they be employed; 3) emphasis on an integration of philosophy with theology so that the latter can be seen as having a genuine relevance to the problems of life in the world; 4) the instruction to establish national boards of bishops to supervise and direct seminary training in the light of local problems, mentalities, and conditions.

The decree is a splendid document. Its mere promulgation, however, will not solve the problem of priestly formation. If it is to produce its desired effects, it must be thoroughly studied by those concerned and then implemented with courage and imagination. There is a grave danger that it will be seen merely as "more of the same" and therefore met with the attitude "we have been doing those things all along anyway." This can be avoided if the document is seen within the context from which it comes (the spirit of renewal which permeates all the constitutions and decrees of Vatican II) and if it is implemented with that same spirit.

We are all living in great days of crisis. In the Second Vatican Council, the Church like the "head of the household" in the gospel of Matthew has brought "out of the storeroom the new as well as the old." Some of us seize merely upon the new while others cling firmly to the old. In this way, unfortunate tensions can be produced. As Archbishop Hurley has pointed out "there is no better way of promoting a crisis than by allowing a situation to drift into change without adjusting the approach of those most directly involved in the situation." The conciliar document on priestly formation has climaxed and brought to fruition two decades of responsible clamor for seminary reform. It has given all concerned a solid means of "adjusting their approach." If its directives are heeded, the Johannine and Pauline renewal will blossom in the Church of the future; if they are ignored or half-heartedly and reluctantly applied, the fruit which is the renewal will die on the vine which produced it.

Rev. James A. O'Donohue, J.C.D. ('43), is Professor of Canon Law and Moral Theology at St. John's Seminary, Brighton and is a special lecturer at Boston College on Contemporary Christian Moral Problems. Fr. O'Donohue is also Secretary of the Liturgical Commission of the Archdiocese of Boston and is the author of various articles on Seminary training appearing in 'The Jurist', 'The Clergy Review' and 'The Living Light'.

THE GREEKS HAD A WORD FOR IT

KNOWLEDGE of MAN and UNIVERSE

THE Greeks had a word for it: LOGOS. And that word carved in limestone above the impressive entrance of Higgins Science Center now taking shape rapidly at the Heights expresses in brief the objective of Boston College scientists. Knowledge, understanding, and more knowledge. Of man and of the universe, from the apparent simplicity of the atom to the incredible complexity of human physiology—modern science encompasses all these things, and many more yet undiscovered.

The new center, the tenth major building to be constructed at the campus since 1960, represents a giant step forward in the progress of Boston College towards increased "Strength in Excellence."

Named in honor of John P. Higgins, long-time friend of Boston businessman and philanthropist Stephen P. Mugar, who contributed more than half a million dollars towards its construction, the building is moving towards completion at the site just east of Devlin Hall, center for the sciences at Boston College since 1923. The departments of biology and physics expect to be moving into the new facility in the late summer of this year.

The five-million-dollar edifice comprises 136,000 square feet to be divided between the two departments, each occupying a wing of the 260-foot, V-shaped main portion of the building. Within its five floors topped by a duplex penthouse and an observation deck are 178 separate rooms for instruction and research, experimentation and departmental administration. There will be seventeen teaching laboratories for undergraduates (ten for biology, seven for physics), and forty-one research laboratories for advanced work by faculty and graduate students. Two large auditoriums (each with a seating capacity of 155) and six classrooms (40 students each) will serve for lectures and demonstrations, two smaller seminar rooms for conferences.

The exterior is of granite facing with limestone trim to blend with the traditional collegiate buildings on campus. Very little else in the new center is traditional. Of split-level construction to conform with its site on the face and side of the hill east of the middle campus, the building may be entered at the lower level not far from McHugh Forum or through the more formal marquee entrance at the upper level adjacent to Devlin Hall. The observation deck, which affords a commanding view of Boston and environs will be used for radar, radio, and optical tracking experiments. A stainless-steel spire jutting thirty-five feet skyward will act as an antenna for radio and television transmission. The building will be air-conditioned throughout to permit year-round use in teaching and research.

The use of space has been planned with great care. The penthouse complex, for example, above the fifth floor would normally be used only for ventilating and mechanical equipment and the standby power generating units. In Higgins a radio laboratory and a biology laboratory share the pent-house as well.

Workmen installing ventilation louvres in the new Science Center.

Another unusual feature of the building is the very high ratio of laboratory and classroom to total space. Though the typical university science building gives over about one half its total space to service and administrative functions, the design plan of Higgins Science Center has reduced these support areas to one third, thus permitting two thirds of the building space to be devoted directly to the sciences proper.

In a sense, the new center is two buildings in one, the lobby and auditorium areas at the west-side main entrance rising only to the height of the third story of the main portion behind. This design principle serves to modify the massive appearance of the main building and also provides the necessary space for large numbers of students traveling to and from the major lecture halls.

A linear accelerator and accessories for generating neutrons will be installed below ground in a special facility and connected to the adjacent physics wing by a tunnel. Four-foot concrete walls and lead shields will protect scientists against radiation hazards.

Intensified research in cellular biology and solid-state physics will be made possible through the acquisition of additional laboratories and equipments.

The most modern teaching techniques will be employed in the new building, including closed-circuit television, facilities for which have been installed in several of the teaching laboratories.

Bas-relief carvings on either side of the entrance marquee will honor Mendel, the father of modern genetics, and Roentgen, the discoverer of X-rays.

When the departments of biology and physics have moved to the new building, work is expected to begin in the conversion of Devlin Hall to the exclusive use of the departments of chemistry and geology.

In addition to Mr. Mugar's generous gift, the largest private contribution to the building, four United States Government grants totaling just over $1,680,000 will help to defray construction costs for the center.

By mid-January most of the exterior construction work at the Higgins Science Center had been completed and the new building had very nearly assumed its final form. Within six months Boston College biologists and physicists will begin to move their records, equipment, and scientific apparatus to the new facility.

VIEWS FROM THE TOP

A part of the downtown Boston skyline as seen from the observation deck of the new Boston College Science Center. No, the Prudential Tower isn't really that close to Chestnut Hill; a 300-mm. lens was used.

Photographed from atop Higgins Science Center are the new tennis courts and intramural playing fields just north of Alumni Stadium. The fields are filled land, a former reservoir. Peot from the reservoir bed forms the top sod for the playing fields. At the far right can be seen part of the new track encircling the stadium. Note St. Ignatius Church to upper left, Law School in center and present parking problems!

A new view of Gasson Hall and Baptist Library, looking west from atop Higgins Hall.

The lower quadrangle from Higgins Hall, (Left to Right): Fulton Hall, Lyons Hall, Devlin Hall.

HUMANITIES:

THE THINGS THAT MATTER

By Francis Sweeney, S.J.

The invitation to speak to you today reminds me of a similar request I received two years ago. The Physics Club asked me to address their annual communion breakfast, and when I expressed surprise, the young man who had called on me, wearing a slide rule in a sheath at his belt like a bayonet, said, "We tried to find a faculty member who was the furthest away from science, and we thought of you." I declined, though I expressed my gratitude at being selected as the spokesman for mankind before the invention of the wheel.

Never has liberal education been concerned with so many people as it is today, as it is in the country. The question whether liberal education was of any practical value has been adequately answered by business and the professions, which commonly require the bachelor's degree before a young man can begin his professional studies or his career in business. Whether this patent of the higher literacy is a good thing or not I do not know; I think that universities are too large, that there are too many of them — but that is an opinion for another forum. The liberal arts college is a large segment of our national landscape; the campus is the recruiting ground for all the enterprises of man apart from manual labor.

Since my arrival on this campus fifteen years ago, I have seen the number of buildings trebled, and the geographical base of the student body widened to include most of the fifty states. (We even have students from New Jersey, though I am mindful of the warning of Cleveland Amory's grandfather that nothing good ever came from a warm climate.)

What brings young people to a college of liberal arts? Speaking for that segment of the liberal arts known as the humanities, I would say that colleges like this one exist to give people happy memories. But I mean this in a wide sense: not just the mind knowing again what it knew through the senses beforehand; it is vicarious memory too — the experience of others known again as memory is instructed by testimony. It is something more: the habits which are the structure and fabric of a life; the attitudes towards reality which adjust the intellect's line of vision and plot the will's trajectory; the informed choice which we call taste in literature or art or conduct is a form of memory; the superego itself I take to be a form of memory. Even below the level of consciousness there must be an accumulated image of experience which we may call folk memory or something like instinct in the lower animals.

The humanities energize in this large field of remembrance. And by humanities I mean here literary studies. They concern man as man, the wisdoms he does not share with the lower animals. Remember the account of the creation of the world as you read it in the Book of Genesis: how God parted the waters from the land, and set the lights like harbor beacons in the sky, and made the growing trees and plants, and fashioned the animals to the whimsy of His mind, and scattered the birds like petals on a May breeze. Then at the end of the tremendous week of creation, before the sabbath of God's silence which is our age, He created us. And we are His masterpiece because He made us most like Himself — the animal that thinks, the animal that wills, the animal that is immortal.

The humanities are so called because they perfect man in his humanity. Because they train the skills of man — those abilities which God added to man's animality: the discourse of intellect, the rhetoric of will, the dialogue in which beauty speaks to man and delights his mind. The university says: These are the things that matter. And memory is the key to all of them. Among all the objects and events and utterances that memory can record, some at least, and an increasing proportion as one grows older, should be in the field of humanities. Mere curiosity can dissipate the intellect, and intemperate pleasure debauch the will, but these happy memories bring order into life.

We must seek out what Howard Mumford Jones calls the "data of greatness." Robert Frost once remarked that science is man's property, but the humanities are man himself. Though C. P. Snow has sketched out another charter for science, or more properly technology, as a culture worthy of equal respect, the humanities of literature are still the best record of what man has been and has done. It is still poetry that best expresses the emotional life of man; the novel and short story that best portray man in conflict or acquiescence with society; in a day when the ancient liberties of royalty have become the common freedom of every man, the play is still the thing wherein to catch the conscience of the king.

The culture of our times is but the growing edge of a culture which remembers Jerusalem and Alexandria and Rome, which records "what the Greek did, what the Florentine." We need the past, we need it desperately. We need it as the summer needs the spring, as the harvest time needs the time of plowing and planting.

T. S. Eliot once wrote: "Someone said: 'The dead writers are remote from us because we know so much more than they did.' Precisely, and they are that which we know."

The aspiring humanist must make room in his life for the things that matter: the data of greatness, the humanities of literature. Anyone can name off a score of the great books which are the treasures of our culture: Plato's Republic, the Greek tragedians, the odes of Horace, the satires of Juvenal, Dante and Tasso and Petrarch, Goethe and Calderon and Molière, and the whole cavalcade of writers in our tongue from Chaucer to Robert Lowell. It is remarkable how well known they are and how little read. But the serious humanist must read them — and not in snippets or to face the hazard of examination or term paper, but at his own initiative and at the cost of persevering effort. He must believe that to pursue excellence and to know what excellence says to him is worth all the lonely asceticism of scholarship, the sacrifice of present convenience and pleasure.

Cicero says that literature is the bread and meat of youth and the wine of old age. And Eliot reminds us that the function of art lies "in imposing a credible order upon ordinary reality and thereby eliciting some perception of an order in reality to bring us to a condition of serenity, stillness and reconciliation."

The man whose memory is instructed by the culture of books is more equipped than another to understand his own world. He can measure the hot certitudes of yesterday's headlines against the ancient fortunes of humanity. He will find that books have a perennial strength to nourish and calm and delight him.

A. E. Housman said that the function of poetry was to harmonize the sadness of this world; and though Housman seemed to cultivate sadness as other men cultivate golf, the man of books will know what he means.

We have been speaking of the humanities as knowledge, as disciplines of wisdom by which modern man in judging his world takes the past into counsel. In what way are the humanities an influence on conduct? Newman, in the Idea of a University, says: "It is well to be a gentleman, it is well to have a cultivated intellect, a delicate taste, a candid, equitable, dispassionate mind, a noble and courteous bearing in the conduct of life; — these are the connotative qualities of a large knowledge; they are the objects of a University."

But will the culture of books, the memory of man instructed by great literature, affect morality? Francis Bacon says it will "Abeunt studia in mores." — Books influence conduct. Certainly the man whose passion it is to seek the data of excellence will be inclined to admire moral excellence, especially since the natural asceticism of the scholar has schooled his heart to self-sacrifice and deprival of present comfort in view of the larger goal. The man instructed by the humanities can only with difficulty be the irresponsible beachcomber on the shores of the world, the man with no promises to keep, living at his ease on other peoples' absolutes.

Humanistic studies without religion shatter the perfect round. They exclude from the data of excellence the most potent force we know in the gathering of a culture and the ennobling of a life.

A few years before his death, T. S. Eliot wrote: "... culture springs up with and in the practice of a religion: the major cultures have been in the past so involved with the major religions as to be the other aspect of the religion." And then he points out the alternatives for the individual man: "If you will not have God (and He is a jealous God) you should pay your respects to Hitler and Stalin."

But I suggest further that the spirit and the atmosphere of the place where the humanistic studies have been made will give them a coefficient of moral influence. In a university like this one, the student acquires a moderate skepticism which is the proper habit of a scholar. But he learns also that the pursuit of truth has not been in vain, that some certitudes have been arrived at which will survive the simplistic dialectic of unbelief and the more subtle rhetoric of ennui.

This affirmation of an order, a providence, a revelation, a presence, may be with one from childhood; or it may come fully, as it came to Eliot, in middle life, and at the furthest pitch of disillusion beyond illusion. But it is the crown of the humanist's life to find faith at the heart of the mystery, and to realize in the sabbath stillness of old age what Newman wrote on his shield: "Ex umbris et imaginibus in veritatem." — After the shadows and the masks the face of truth.

"Science is man's property, but the humanities are man himself." Rev. Henry M. Brock, S.J. (Boston College and M.I.T.), and Robert Frost (Harvard and Dartmouth) found common ground in their love of the Greek Classics. (Photo taken on April 3, 1957, on Frost's first visit to Boston College.)

The humanities form and uplift everything in us that memory serves. But there is a further function of memory. By searching out the data of excellence from all of man's history we shall have acquired a knowledge of the heart of man as close as we can now come to God's knowledge of that heart. But our knowledge is a shadow of God's, and our humanism an imitation of the humanism of Jesus. So has the fabric of our experience taken on the quality of profound metaphor and morality, that the universe becomes the "poor man's book" of medieval iconography.

At the end of his biography of Dickens, G. K. Chesterton wrote:

"We have a long way to travel before we get back to what Dickens meant: and the passage is along a rambling English road, a twisting road such as Mr. Pickwick traveled. But this at least is part of what he meant; that comradeship and serious joy are not interludes in our travel; but that rather our travels are interludes in comradeship and joy, which through God shall endure forever. The inn does not point to the road; the road points to the inn. And all roads point at last to an ultimate inn, where we shall meet Dickens and all his characters and when we drink again it shall be from the great flagons in the tavern at the end of the world."

Francis Sweeney, S.J., is an assistant professor in English. His poems and essays have appeared in Atlantic, Commonweal, Spirit, Thought, etc. He is the author of two books, and the editor of three others. His latest book, The Knowledge Explosion, will be published in May by Farrar, Straus and Giroux. A book now in progress, Agnes Repplier, a volume in the Twayne United States Authors Series, will appear in the spring of 1967. He has been a book reviewer for The New York Times Book Review since 1950.

This address was given on May 7 at Parents' Day sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences.

BETWEEN THE DARKNESS AND THE DAWN

By ANTHONY MOONEY '67

Anthony Mooney of Great Barrington, Mass., records his memories of David Spangler '67, of Hillsboro, Iowa, in an eloquent tribute to his classmate's joyous courage and faith. Originally published in The Heights, it was reprinted in The Boston Globe. It is reprinted here with the thought that many of the Alumni will find it an extraordinarily moving document of the Boston College spirit.

On Oct. 30th in a little farm house in Hillsboro, Iowa, David Spangler died.

David Spangler was assigned as my roommate, freshman year. One of the things that puzzled me was why someone would come 1500 miles to go to school when there were so many well-known colleges in the midwest. He explained that the reasons for his decision were a desire to form a better understanding of the attitudes and outlooks of people in the east and the wish to be near a major cultural center. He believed that college should be a horizon-broadening experience, so he decided to start in a completely new environment. To do this he knew that he might have to sustain the disapproval of friends at home who felt that his plans were somewhat extravagant. He also knew that he would have to sacrifice the comfort and convenience of being relatively close to home.

Freshman days flew swiftly amid mixers, meetings, football games, Physics tests, "library campaigns" and mid-year panic. Dave never panicked much, though, in the midst of all the social activity his unique organization always kept him "caught up." During first semester he got stuck with a murderous Physics course. Week in and week out Dave would start a "Physics campaign" on Monday and spend every available minute of the week preparing for Friday's exam. I marvelled at how, without fail, Monday would find him back at the library beginning another grind.

Second semester of freshman year saw the first clouds begin to gather on Dave's horizon. He got up one morning complaining of a soreness in his knee. This soreness worsened until he decided that he should have the leg x-rayed. The x-rays disclosed that osteogenic sarcoma, a treacherous form of bone cancer, had begun to form on the side of his knee.

I returned from a weekend home to find Dave gone and a note explaining, in a few terse sentences, that he had flown home for exploratory surgery on what was believed to be a malignant growth on his knee.

The note said to wish him luck and to pray for him because "... if their findings are affirmative the leg may have to be amputated."

By Tuesday of that week we received word from Iowa that Dave's leg had been amputated. Immediately Dave expressed his intention to return to B.C. He asked us to send him his books, his assignments and carbon copies of all class notes. His exams were sent out to be proctored by his pastor, Father Goetzman, and Dave finished the semester with a cumulative average of B—.

During the summer of 1964, Dave was fitted with an artificial limb, and he went about the arduous task of learning to walk again. I received a letter at home that summer announcing that "if all went well" he would come walking back to B.C. in September". Dave did that one better by stopping by my house in western Massachusetts a week before school opened. In about a month he had overcome the problems of maneuvering with an artificial limb well enough to ride halfway across the country in a Volkswagen and walk around the World's Fair before dropping in to say "Hi."

We began our sophomore year and Dave and his leg faced the challenge of the hills and steps of B.C. He had been psychologically prepared for rejoining college life as much as possible. He realized that there would be disappointments.

Dave's first semester was a monument to determination. He developed what he humorously referred to as his "saddle sores" from the leg. With the free-swinging kneejoint there were the inevitable surprise spills, especially on stairways and slippery floors. Normally treacherous ice was doubly so for Dave. Still, I never heard Dave complain ... ever. He was constantly trying new methods of going up and down stairs, and concentrating on smoothing out his walking rhythm. He scorned assistance, even on icy days, and he improved very rapidly. I'll always remember his embarrassment when he was given keys to the elevators on campus: "How am I ever going to learn to use this leg if they want me to ride all over the place?"

Dave always maintained his sense of humor. He admired Al Capp, the cartoonist, who also has an artificial leg and has written hilarious accounts of his adventures with it. Dave would caution me to walk behind and "pick up any loose nuts and bolts that happen to come flying out." He called it his "Al Capp leg."

Shortly after his return to B.C., Dave said he had to go to Saint Elizabeth's for a chest x-ray. He explained that the type of cancer he'd had sometimes gets into the bloodstream and "moves around." Fully realizing the implications, I asked if the chances of this were very high. "Not very," he replied, "but enough to make them want to keep an eye on it." Dave was a master of the understatement whenever it came to his own condition.

The first couple of trips to Saint Elizabeth's were uneventful and Dave's confidence was on the rise. Then, one winter evening, shortly after the monthly x-ray trip, he got a call at the dorm to see the doctor as soon as possible. I think he knew then what had happened. He called the doctor immediately and virtually forced him into leveling with him. The doctor told him that the cancer had shown up in one of his lungs. When Dave returned to the room he told me that he probably had until Christmas to live. The only emotion he manifested was his irritation at the fact that the doctor had been reluctant to tell him.

He left immediately for Iowa, with his hopes of completing his first intact year of college dashed once again. Doctors decided to try an operation and they removed the diseased portion of Dave's lung. He responded with a vow to return to B.C. He mapped plans for make-up summer courses and changed his major. The operation had involved disconnecting a number of the main muscles in the right shoulder. He had to undergo therapy, but by the time he returned, the arm was perfectly normal.

And Dave did return, for the second time, looking somewhat harried, but still effusing perseverance. The first set of the continuing monthly x-rays showed two tumors in his other lung. There was talk of a "new experimental" treatment, since an operation on this other lung was not feasible, but doctors said it could wait until he had finished the semester. Surveying his situation towards the end of the semester, Dave dryly remarked: "Looks like it's last ditch time, Ton."

As the semester drew to a close and finals approached, the tumors had grown in size and were causing him back pains and coughing spells. By now, people were leveling with him because that was the way Dave wanted it. Despite the tremendous load on his mind he achieved another B-cumulative, after missing most of his first semester's work. Before he left for home after finals, he told me that if, by some outside chance, the chemical treatments served to arrest the cancer, he would return to B.C.

For a year and a half now, David Spangler's foremost thought and fondest ambition was returning to B.C. A Boston College banner hung over the bed on which he spent most of his last days. At the foot of the bed hung a framed etching of Gasson Tower. As his final hours neared, Dave lapsed into a semi-coma from which he would awake intermittently. During one waking period he was concerned whether he was being a burden to anyone; his grandmother encouraged him to think of "something pleasant." Drifting off into sleep again, Dave mused, "We're on that big hill . . . looking over B.C. . . . I can see Boston."

Waking at another time, and finding his mother at his bedside Dave asked, "Do you know where the first place I'm going when I leave here is? . . . Back to B.C."

A letter, from his mother, a week or so before Dave died praised him for bearing his struggles "with all the courage and fortitude one should expect of a B.C. man." This was a courage and fortitude rooted firmly in faith and solidity of his lowa background. When Father Robert Ferrick and I attended Dave's funeral in Houghton, Iowa, we departed with a deep and sincere respect for a people whose faith in God and whose basic understanding of life can be described in no other terms than profound. David, like the people from whom he came, always had both feet unquestionably on the ground.

In a letter to Father Ferrick this summer, Dave expressed his concern for the fact that some students here didn't seem to appreciate B.C. or realize what it had to offer them. What did Dave see in B.C. that we failed to see?

To Dave, Boston College was Boston, with its bridges and buildings, its harbors and museums, its heritages and history. Boston College was also a constant challenge to his ever-inquiring mind. Here was all he could absorb about any subject he chose, just for the asking. But, most important to Dave, B.C. was people like you and me. Dave taught me that we should not be so reluctant to reach out around us and get involved for and with each other. In so doing we might be fortunate enough to meet someone like Dave. He had a world of wisdom within himself, and his only way of imparting it was through exemplification. This he accomplished brilliantly.

Despite the numerous interruptions, he managed to accumulate the necessary eight public service events for admission to the Gold Key Society by the end of last year. Voted an outstanding sophomore at last year's Gold Key Banquet, Dave was assured of being awarded his key this year. Although he died before the keys were to be awarded, Dave did receive the key for which he had worked so hard. Father Ferrick, Moderator of the Gold Key Society, pinned Dave's key on his lapel at his wake.

Dave died at dawn, just as the Iowa sun was rising on the fields outside his window. Its rose hue flooded across his face, and he opened his eyes for the last time to gaze upon the dawn.

Later, at Dave's funeral Mass, I felt a strange stir within me as, recalling his sunrise passing, I heard Father Goetzman's voice pronouncing the words of the funeral ritual over Dave's coffin:

"My soul waits for the Lord more than sentinels wait for the dawn.

More than sentinels wait for the dawn, let Israel wait for the Lord."

Psalms 129

editor's memo ✓

VISITORS

Among some of the distinguished visitors to the campus in recent months have been: Rev. Jean DeFraine, S.J., Professor of Old Testament at Louvain, Belgium who spoke on "Adam and the Family of Man". The Department of Theology also sponsored a lecture by Rev. Robert E. McNally, S.J., Professor of Church History at Woodstock College, Maryland, whose talk was entitled "The City of Man—The Secular City". Col. Amos A. Jordan, Professor of Social Science at the U.S. Military Academy spoke on the involvement of the United States in Southeast Asia, in a lecture sponsored by the CBA Honors Program.

FACULTY

Rev. James W. Skehan, S.J., Chairman of the Geology department was a featured participant in the annual meeting of the Geological Society of America, held in Kansas City. Fr. Skehan was also chief speaker at the dedication of Northeastern University's new planetarium. . . . Rev. Martin D'Arcy, S.J., former Master of Campion Hall, Oxford, returns to the campus as Theologian-in-Residence. . . . Rev. Charles F. Donovan, S.J., Academic Vice President has been elected a member of the corporation of the Perkins

Robert J. M. O'Hare

School for the Blind. . . . Prof. Walter Fimian, Jr., of the Biology department has received a $75,000 grant from the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Science Foundation to conduct a summer institute in radiation biology. . . . The U.S. Office of Education has awarded Prof. Richard Hughes of the English department a $54,000 grant to direct an institute for the advanced study of English. . . . Robert J. M. O'Hare, Director, Bureau of Public Affairs is President of the Boston Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration. . . . Sister Theresa Ann Donovan, SUSC, of the History department, represented the religious orders of women at the inaugural session of the Religious Educators Foundation, meeting in Washington, D.C. . . . Prof. Georges Zayed, visiting lecturer in the Modern Language department, holds degrees from Cairo University and the Sorbonne, Paris. A specialist in the symbolism movement of French Literature, Dr. Zayed is the author of numerous books and articles. . . . Rev. J. Frank Devine, S.J., of the Theology department is a General Editor of the Bruce Publishing Company's 20 volume series on Contemporary College Theology, the first 4 volumes of which will appear in February. The introductory volume of the series contains an article by Rev. Francis X. Shea, S.J., Professor of English. . . . Prof. Leonard Casper of the English department has been commissioned to do an article in Modern Philippine literature for the Encyclopedia of World Literature. . . . Rev. John V. Driscoll, S.J., Dean, School of Social Work, was elected to the Board of Directors, National Conference of Catholic Charities and was sworn in by Gov. Volpe as a member of the Massachusetts Advisory Council on Mental Retardation. . . .

Rev. John J. Lynch, S.J., School of Theology at Weston was a featured panelist at the University of Kansas Medical Center, speaking at a symposium concerned with science and religion. . . . Prof. Peter S. H. Tang Political Science department gave a lecture at the Inter-American Defense College, Ft. McNair, Washington and was a participant in a panel discussion at the U.S. Army War College. Prof. Tang's address at the U.S. Naval War College appeared in the November issue of the "Naval War College Review" and has been reprinted as educational material by the U.S. Air Force. . . . Rev. Robert Drinan, S.J., Dean, Law School, in addition to numerous speaking engagements at Villanova, Fordham and Indiana University, among others, has been named Chairman of the Family Law Section of the American Bar Association and was re-elected to the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Bar.

Marie S. Andrews, Chairman, Graduate department of Nursing gave the principal address at three recent meetings; the national conference of the American Heart Association and the American Nurses Association meeting in Miami and the annual meeting of the West Virginia Nurses Association in Martinsburg.

Rev. John J. Lynch, S.J.

alumni almanac

Alumni on the move: The Boston Globe recently announced the appointment of JOHN GIUGGIO '51 CBA to the post of Assistant Business Manager. . . . EDWARD F. CALLAHAN, '50, who has been Director of Special Studies Program at Holy Cross has been named Chairman of the English department. . . .

The Gillette Safety Razor Company has named PAUL M. CUE-NIN '44, Vice President with responsibility for the world wide operations of the company's hospital and surgical products. . . . A graduate of the School of Nursing, Miss ALICE R. REILLY has been promoted to Captain in the Nurse Corps, U.S. Navy. Capt. Reilly, presently assigned as Chief of Nursing Service, Naval Hospital, St. Albans, N. Y. and is a former winner of the B.C. Nursing Alumnae Medal. . . . JAMES F. CLEARY, '50, a resident partner of Eastman Dillon Securities Co., has been named the 1966 Cancer Crusade Chairman for Massachusetts. . . . The International Resistance Company of Philadelphia named JACK M. HIRSHON, '50, its new General Manager. . . . THOMAS DROHAN, '56 represented Boston College on the Alumni Committee for the E.C.A.C. hockey tournament held in Madison Square Garden. . . . The Delaware Valley Sign Association has elected PAUL K. DUFFEY, '40 its President for this year. . . . Rev. ELMER O'BRIEN, '35 is Chairman of the

James F. Cleary, '50

Jack M. Hirshon, '50

Theology department at Loyola College, Montreal. Fr. O'Brien is the founder of the Contemporary Theology Institute at Loyola and author of "Varieties of Mystic Experience" and "The Essential Plotinus". . . . The New England Telephone Company recently promoted JOHN P. MCCARTHY, '50 to the post of Assistant Comptroller. . . .

JAMES M. TAYLOR, '56 a mathematics major who holds an MBA from Northeastern, has been appointed Administrative Assistant at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, Cambridge. . . . PAUL I. McNAMARA, '51 of Lexington has been named Comptroller of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. . . . The Congressional Record of the House of Representatives in its issue of September 9, 1965, contains a provocative article on college finances authored by JOHN C. GILL, '31. . . . The Boston College Band, through its Vice President Jack McCarthy, '67, expresses its thanks for the tremendous support it received from former members at the first annual Alumni Band Day held in October. . . .

John P. McCarthy, '50

JOSEPH G. O'BRIEN, '53, President of the Worcester B.C. Club and manager of the Worcester office of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, has won the 1965 company award for sales excellence. . . . The National Catholic Welfare Conference has named the family of DR. WILLIAM A. LYNCH, '38 the "Catholic Family of the Year for 1965" according to the announcement by Bishop Christopher Weldon of Springfield. Dr. Lynch is the author of "A Marriage Manual for Catholics", is an organizer of the Pre-Cana program of the archdiocese of Boston and was the 1957 winner of the Linacre Award by the National Federation of Catholic Physicians Guild. . . . JAMES E. DOWD, '47 was recently named New England Chief for the Securities and Exchange Commission. . . . The national magazine, Sports Illustrated has honored MSGR. GEORGE KERR, '41 by his selection to the annual Silver Anniversary All American team. . . . JOHN K. HIGGINS, JR., '63, former reporter for the Alumni News has been named Assistant Editor at the Cleveland News Bureau of Business Week magazine. . . . The Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank of New York has named

Rt. Rev. George V. Kerr, '41

William A. Donahoe, Jr., '54

WILLIAM A. DONAHOE, JR., '54 its new Assistant Comptroller. . . .

HUMANITIES SERIES LECTURES 1966

- March 10: Walter Starkie
- March 15: Samuel Noah Kramer
- March 24: Stephen Spender
- March 31: Jotham Johnson

Art Exhibit, February 14— March 2
"Swiss Poster" (Smithsonian)

B.C. CLUBS REPORT

OLD COLONY CLUB

At the Fall meeting, new officers were chosen for 1966. They are Richard Smillie, '51, President; A. Chester Lalli, Richard Smillie, '51,

President,
Old Colony Club

'49, 1st V. President; Frederick Sullivan, '53, 2nd V. President; Francis McGrory, '59, Treas.; Margaret Keohane, GN, '53, and Agnes Keohane, GN, '59, Secretaries.

John Vozzella, '55, of Braintree has been named Chairman for the annual Sports Night, which will be held on February 15 at 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Brockton. Backfield Coach John McCauley will be on hand to show the color films of the 1965 B.C.-H.C. football game. There will be no admission charge for this affair, and there will be plenty of refreshments at a nominal charge.

John Courtney, '51 of Randolph will be the Chairman for the annual Communion Breakfast, which will be held on Sunday, March 13. The Mass will be celebrated at 9:15 a.m. in St. Edward's on East Main Street, Brockton, and breakfast will be served immediately following at the Avon Restaurant in Avon. Tickets are priced at only $3.00 each. Our main speaker will be Attorney F. Lee Bailey, who will speak on "The Latest Developments in the Sheppard Case".

ALL B.C. Alumni (ae) in the South Shore area are invited to join the Club now. You may contact any of the members listed below for particulars, and we shall all look forward to meeting you. Chet Lalli (Brockton, JU3-4083); Fred Sullivan (Brockton, 586-1419); Bob Kelliher (Canton, 828-4161); John Courtney (Randolph, WO3-4597); Dick Smillie (Braintree, V13-7465); and Dick Hopkins (Stoughton, 344-9555).

Future events for the year include the Family Outing, the Dinner Dance and the Fund-Raiser for the Scholarship Fund. Watch for detailed announcements.

LYNN-NORTH SHORE

Under the co-chairmanship of Attorneys Robert Phelan (L'57) and Shirley Phelan (L'57), a highly successful dinner-dance was held on Saturday, November 6 at the new Nahant Country Club. The next event on the club calendar will be the annual Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast, which will take place on Sunday, March 20. It is expected that the scholarship for which the club has been working on for the past two years will be awarded at the breakfast. In this regard, any club member who wishes to contribute towards the fund, may send in their club dues of $2.00 any time to Treasurer Jasper Grassa at 25 Franklin Street, Lynn.

WISCONSIN

About twenty of the Milwaukee area students now attending Boston College were guests of the B.C. Club of Wisconsin at a Christmas luncheon held at the Ambassador Hotel, Milwaukee, on December 28th. Among the alumni present who sponsored a student were Pete Penni, Tom Mahan, John Vaughn, Fred Garrity, Henry Oulette, Larry Donovan, Mrs. Lucy Herr, Mrs. Jeanne Ament, John O'Brien and Jim Colleary. The club will hold a sports night at a date to be announced.

NEW JERSEY

Over 60 alumni and friends were in attendance at the dinner-dance held December 7 at the Rock Spring Club in West Orange. Rev. George Drury, S.J., Director of Student Personnel at B.C., represented Fr. Michael Walsh, S.J., the Rector, who was recuperating from a recent operation. The thanks of the club go to Dave Godvin, '51, dance chairman, for a job well done. President Joe Cotter announced that Hon. William Considine, '26, is now serving as a club trustee. The next club event will be the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast, at Thomm's Restaurant, following Mass at Sacred Heart Cathedral in Newark, and in the spring, a golf tournament and dinner is planned at the Glen Ridge Country Club.

WORCESTER

President Joe O'Brien reports the following club events held this year: The Open House following the H.C. football game under Chairman Bill Cunningham was a great success; the Children's Christmas party, held at Putnam & Thurston's, with Mrs. Joe O'Brien (Anne Hall, GN '56) as chairman was well attended. Future events on the schedule: a Mardi Gras Cocktail party on February 20, Bob Fouhy, chairman; the Laetare Communion breakfast, March 20, Tom Connor, chairman, and the Rector's dinner in May, Bill Masterson, chairman. Special Note: The FIRST Wednesday of each month is B.C. Luncheon time at Putnam & Thurston's, 12:15; all welcome.

METROPOLITAN CLUB

Two successful events have already taken place according to President Bob Halloran's report: The annual B.C.-H.C. film showing, with Wally Boudreau as narrator, held on December 7 and a party for Bob Cousy's basketball team, following their semi-final victory in the ECAC tournament on December 28, held at Loew's Motor Inn, N.Y.C.

BOSTON COLLEGE CLUB DIRECTORY

BALTIMORE

BERKSHIRE COUNTY

BUFFALO-ROCHESTER

CENTRAL NEW YORK

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

CLEVELAND, OHIO

HARTFORD, CONN.

DETROIT, MICHIGAN

FLORIDA

LAWRENCE

LOS ANGELES

LONG ISLAND

LOWELL

LYNN-NORTH SHORE

MAINE

METROPOLITAN CLUB

MID-HUDSON

NORTH BEDFORD

NEW HAMPSHIRE

NEW JERSEY

NORTHEASTERN NEW YORK

OLD COLONY

OREGON

PHILADELPHIA

RHODE ISLAND

ST. LOUIS

SAN DIEGO

SAN FRANCISCO

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

SPRINGFIELD

TAUNTON

WASHINGTON

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA

WISCONSIN

WORCESTER

Joseph D. Lonergan, '54, 8664 Hoerner Ave., Baltimore 32

Paul A. Louzon, '51, 235 Elm St., Pittsfield, Mass.

Gordon Gannon, Jr., '54, 618 Brisbane Bldg., Buffalo 3, N. Y.

William P. Duggan, '42, 518 Branson Rd., Syracuse

Herbert L. Chernack, '39, 12200 South 69th St., Palos Heights

Richard M. Kelley, '47, 3324 Norwood Rd., Cleveland

John J. Tanner, '56, CBA, 11 North Whitney St., Hartford

Richard H. Fitzpatrick, '61, 14417 Yale Ave., Livonia, Mich.

George L. Murphy, Jr., '41, 5355 S.W. 78th Street, Miami

Thomas J. Hennessey, '51, 15 Lagan St., Lawrence

Daniel J. Finnegan, '50, 2811 West 129th St., Gardena, Calif.

John F. Wissler, '57, 24 Lincoln Road, Hempstead

Brendan Fleming, '50, 100 Agawam St., Lowell

Martin J. Healey, '51, CBA, 137 Wyman St., Lynn

Michael J. Tallentea, '57, 184 Wayside Road, Portland

Robert B. Halloran, '56, 320 Park Ave., New York 22, N. Y.

Robert F. Connor, '56 CBA, Watch Hill Rd., Fishkill, N. Y.

Joseph P. Harrington, '55, 396 Court Street, New Bedford

Andrew A. Daminick, '37, 12 Heather Street, Manchester

Joseph F. Catter, '49, 70 Vreeland Avenue, Nutley

George L. Tully, M.D., '41, 851 Mercer Ave., Albany, N.Y.

Richard Smillie, '51, 169 Helligsworth Ave., Braintree, Mass. 02184

Francis E. Harrington, LL.B., '35, University of Portland

Paul K. Duffey, '40, 521 Argyle St., Drexel Hill, Pa.

Hon. Morris Rosenthal, LL.B., '36, 1015 Locust St., Suite 800, St. Louis 1

Warren J. Ridge, '51, 621 Center St., La Jolla, Calif.

Mrs. John L. O'Sullivan, '31, 551 Miner Road, Orinda, Calif.

John R. Gately, M.D., '35, 4719 Brooklyn Ave., N.E., Seattle 5

Joseph A. Cancelliere, '45, 31 Federal St., Agawam

Robert F. Mealy, M.D., '45, 68 Church Green, Taunton

Kevin F. Flanagan, '51, 9 Colonial Court, Rockville, Maryland

John C. O'Malley, '59, 713 Maryland Ave., Pittsburgh 32

John I. Vaughn, '35, S.C. Johnson Co., 1525 Howe Street, Racine, Wisc.

Joseph G. O'Brien, '53, 220 Crawford St., Northboro

Worlds Apart, Wesleyan University Press (211 pp; $5.00) and The Unancestral Voice, Wesleyan University Press (224 pp; $5.00) by Owen Barfield

The arrival of Owen Barfield at Brandeis University this fall coincided with the paperback publication by McGraw-Hill of his "Poetic Diction: A Study in Meaning", which made its first appearance in 1927. The fact that it was dedicated to C. S. Lewis was a clue but hardly evidence that Barfield would become one of the most cogent Christian thinkers in England.

In "Saving the Appearances: A Study in Idolatry", now published in paperback by Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc., the fact was established. In his most recent two books, "Worlds Apart" and "The Unancestral Voice", he has provided, in the words of T. S. Eliot, "an excursion into seas of thought which are very far from ordinary routes on intellectual shipping."

In "Worlds Apart", he gives us a Platonic symposium in which he examines the epistemological basis of modern science, finds that the assumptions of one discipline are likely to invalidate those of another, and presents a philosophy of idealism which he believes consistent with neo-Thomism.

Such is a dreadfully inadequate synopsis of a volume that touches a thousand phases of knowledge, burrows into physics, ranges through astronomy, discusses philology, linguistic analysis, time, the Trinity, existentialism, humanism, the evolution of consciousness, microcosm, macrocosm, Heraclitus and Teilhard de Chardin to name but a few. The title rises from the insistence on Barfield's part—as C. P. Snow on "Two Cultures" said less profoundly—that scientific disciplines are reaching the stage where one cannot understand the other.

Barfield's lifelong interest has been the relation between science and religion. "Worlds Apart" deals with that in its lively symposium. In "Saving Appearances", Barfield deals with the subject directly. The two books treat finally with the same subject. The author uses the contrast between the common perceptions of our senses and those of the physicist with his instruments, to challenge what might be called the pretensions of scientism.

"Saving the Appearances", he writes, "is a study in idolatry, and especially the greatest step in idolatry which we call scientific revolution." He calls Christians and all men to a new 'participation'—not Jung's nor prelapsarian—in nature, a sort of controlling idealism, a cosmic wisdom, which is an "understanding (that) seems to have been common to most men before the West emerged from the East."

"A renewal of that lost insight will almost certainly be one of the first steps to be taken by religion through the rebirth in her of that cosmic wisdom, which is the source not only of the world of appearances, but also of man's changing relation to them." "I suspect", he continues, "that, for the Church, it will not be easy. It will not be easy for the nursing mother to accept the possibility that her charge has grown to need additional nourishment; or that that revelation of the mystery of the kingdom was not turned off at the tap when the New Testament canon was closed, but is the work of an earth-time. Such a step will not be taken with ease, but in the end, if the Christ infuses my whole man, mind as well as heart, the cosmos of wisdom with all its forgotten truths, will dwell in me whether I like it or not; for Christ is the cosmic wisdom on its way from original to final participation." "Participation" is with Barfield a key word and he finds it running through St. Thomas. When he says later on that "if Christ is a Being who can be participated only in vigilance and freedom, then what will be chiefly remembered about the scientific revolution will be the way in which it scoured the appearances clean of the last traces of spirit, freeing us from original and for final participation."

The manner in which his critique of science would run was forecast in "Poetic Diction". It was in effect, an assault of the logical positivists, on linguistic analysis, in an age when those nit-picking disciplines were riding high. If Barfield was not a giant killer—since his book was not widely read—he was at least a prophet. Linguistic analysis still possesses the suburbs of the English philosophical world, but the continent and the rest of the world is not paying too much attention.

Ludwig Wittgenstein's Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus hoped to sweep away, as meaningless, all statements not related to physically observable or verifiable events, to limit the sphere of man's knowledge to the increasingly tentative findings of physical science, and to dismiss all other affirmations as meaningless. Thus Barfield was the attack being made on the creative faculty of man, on the very sources of his 'participation'. "Poetic Diction" deals not merely with diction but with forms of knowledge.

"There is", he wrote, "a curiously aggressive note, often degenerating into a sneer in the style of those who expound the principles of linguistic analysis. Before he even begins to write, the Logical Positivist has taken the step from 'I prefer not to interest myself in propositions which cannot be empirically verified' to 'all propositions which cannot be empirically verified are meaningless'. The next step to 'I shall legislate to prevent anyone else wasting his time on meaningless propositions' is unlikely to appear either illogical or negative to his successor in title. Those who mistake efficiency for meaning inevitability end by loving compulsion, even if it takes them, like Bernard Shaw, the best part of a lifetime to get there."

True enough. Shaw once said on one occasion that a man who publishes a book without an index should be executed, and here Barfield falls guilty. "Poetic Diction" and "Saving the Appearances" each has one. But "Worlds Apart" and "The Unancestral Voice" are without indices. They are so engrossing you end up making your own, but indices would help.

How one longs for an index in "The Unancestral Voice", for here is a book that carries us beyond the refutations of materialism, beyond the examination of the reality, behind the phenomena to the Reality beyond the reality. Here is a volume that starts with a discussion of pornography and ends with the mystery of Golgotha, ranging again through a thousand subjects with half a dozen voices, and then above them "The Unancestral Voice".

The volume proves as Barfield himself proves in the words he selects to close "Worlds Apart" — ὥστε πῦρα ἀπὸ χρηστῶν τόπων ῥέουσα ὑψίστην — a breeze blowing from excellent places, bearing health.

He deserves wider reading.

Mr. Kenny is a former Editor-in-Chief of the Heights, Managing Editor of the Stylus and well known as the lyricist of "Sweep Down The Field," one of Boston College's famed fight songs. Poet, author and critic, he is the Book Editor of the Boston Globe.

Suburban Man by Herbert A. Kenny, Boston College, class of 1934

In a day when many people are coming sadly to think that poetry is a vanishing art or that it has become a game of charades to be played only by people with an allergy for clarity, it is invigorating to read a book like Herbert Kenny's "Suburban Man". Here one has a disciplined practitioner of a difficult craft; but more than mere mastery of form, adjectival dexterity and luminous imagination, one feels here the cosmic heartbeat, the loud orchestrations of genuine feeling, the even more thunderous silences of implication, what Thomas MacDonagh once called the "half-said things". "Lines for My Wife on the End of Summer" is one of the most moving lyrics I have read; "Boston Irish" is a sword dance to wit; "To an Old Woman Asleep in St. Patrick's Cathedral" will, or should, sting your eyes, constrict your throat.

Well known as editor and columnist, Herbert Kenny has not, I suspect, the following or appreciation which he deserves as a poet. This small book presents dramatically his credentials. If your mind is jaded by that Cyclops eye of television, if the days of your youth, the days of your glory have receded into a dim, gray past, by all means read "Suburban Man". It is a soul massage. It is handsomely printed and bound by the Monastine Press, 107-06 103rd Ave., Ozone Park, New York, 11417

William A. Donaghy, S.J.

The Eagles basketball team defeated New York University 88-75 in its last home game and Northeastern 70-63 on the road before the two week exam break. The record now reads 10 wins for coach Bob Cousy's team against 2 setbacks—enough to start getting national recognition on the weekly hoop polls.

The NYU contest packed Roberts Center despite a severe snow storm and the fans were delighted as B.C. came from a 43-38 halftime deficit to notch the win. Leading the Maroon and Gold attack again was all-America John Austin. It was one of Austin's better efforts this season as he showed definite signs of breaking a five game shooting slump.

John Austin

He played a tough haunting defense, passed well, and scored 26 points hitting on 10 of 19 attempts from the floor. His career total is now 1573 points.

Another recent standout for the Eagles has been 6'5" sophomore Steve Adelman. Adelman possesses a deceptively quick one hand push shot along with a crowd pleasing hook shot. So far the "Couz" has been using him as a sixth man but against Rhode Island and NYU he came off the bench to score 22 and 24 points respectively.

Center Willie Wolters is also drawing the cheers. In the recent Holiday Festival tournament in Madison Square Garden he pulled down 63 rebounds and scored 56 points in the three game set. The 6'8" Brooklyn, New York product also takes particular enjoyment in blocking opponents shots.

Steve Adelman

The Eagles open the second half of the season with three tough home games. Leading the parade of visiting teams is the nationally ranked St. Joseph's Hawks appearance at Roberts Center on February 2. A win over the Hawks could put B.C. in the top ten in the country. Following the Hawks will be arch rival Holy Cross's visit on February 5. The Crusaders are having an off year but they have always managed to give the Eagles a real tough battle on the court.

SPORTS

by EDDIE MILLER, '57

Director, Sports Publicity

While the basketball Eagles are flying high at the halfway mark, their winter counterparts at McHugh Forum were not faring as well. Adversity in the form of a rush of injuries to key players has had Coach Kelley juggling lines, shuffling defensemen and forwards and trying to hang in there until the two week exam break and a chance to get the squad healthy once again.

With one game to go (against Brown) B.C.'s record was 7 wins and 7 losses and Captain Allan Keirstead and Co. have their work cut out for them in the second half of play if the Eagles are to make one of the 8 spots open in the Eastern playoffs. We're convinced that they can and will do it!

Even though the old pro John "Snooks" Kelley refuses to reach for the crying towel or make excuses for our 4 game losing streak the fact is we are really hurting physically!

In the first minute of play against Brown on Dec. 7th All-American John Cunniff was clobbered against the boards and suffered a severe shoulder separation which required surgery. John will have missed 13 of the 15 games played in the first half and there's no question that the loss of the greatest American player in college hockey, the nation's leading scorer last season, has had a tremendous effect psychologically as well as physically. His first line mate, center Phil Dyer our number two scorer last year has missed the last 5 games due to a bad charlie-horse. John Moylan, stellar scorer on our 2nd line, has a similar injury and has missed 7 games. Big Woody Johnson, 6'3" 215 lbs. starting defenseman, has a fractured sternum (breast-bone) and has been idle for 6 games. Finally defenseman Tom Lufkin, who had been coming on strong, was struck with the exact same misfortune as Cunniff and he is out for the season.

Medically speaking, John should have been out for the season too, but Dr. John McGillicuddy, our outstanding orthopedic surgeon, thinks Cunniff will make it back early in February because of his excellent condition, muscle tone and determination.

Dyer, Moylan and Johnson should be back and close to 100% after the semester break.

Senior Jim Mullen with 11 goals and 7 assists was leading the Eagle scoring followed by sophomore sensation Paul Hurley (7-10-17) and junior Jerry York (7-8-15).

Sophomore Jeff Cohen of Brookline and senior Pat Murphy of Wellesley have been alternating in the nets and doing a fine job.

Junior Jerry York is obviously elated with the great goal just scored.

VARSITY CLUB DINNER

1700 fill the new Sheraton Boston to honor the 1965 squad. Scanlan winner John Leone and the 1940 Sugar Bowl Team.

Senior Guard and Linebacker John Leone of Norwich, Conn. receives Scanlan Award from Varsity Club President Dan Brosnahan '54.

Toastmaster Dave Lucey '40 was at his very best.

On Thursday evening, January 6th, 1700 men paid $15 each to be in attendance at the annual Varsity Club Dinner held at the beautiful new Sheraton-Boston Hotel. This was without a doubt the greatest Varsity Club Dinner of them all—and for good reason! In addition to honoring the 1965 team and John Leone, this year's recipient of the Tom Scanlan (Varsity Club) Award, the legendary 1940 team, national champions, victor over mighty Tennessee on January 1, 1941 in the Sugar Bowl and sentimental favorites of the City of Boston for a quarter of a century now.

Veteran writers called it the "biggest and best sports dinner ever staged in these parts." While the Varsity Club, with president Dan Brosnahan and his fellow officers, the Athletic Association, with Athletic Director Bill Flynn and his staff, deserve all the plaudit they've received for the success of the "sports spectacular," it must be noted well that it simply would not have been possible without the tremendous cooperation, financial backing and unbelievable publicity rendered by the Boston Globe, voluntary co-sponsors of this dinner.

We'd again like to thank John I. Taylor publisher, our own Joe Dinneen, '43 recently promoted to managing editor of the evening Globe, Bob Ahern promotions director, sports editors Jerry Nason and Bob Holbrook and their staff and all those fine Globe people who worked so hard to make this the fantastic success that it was.

The response of the Sugar Bowlers was more than anyone dreamed possible. With the exception of Mike Holovak who had to be in Mobile where he was head coach of the North squad in the Senior bowl game played January 8th, every living member of that fabulous '40 team was there from Head Coach Frank Leahy, and his entire staff right down to the managers! The one man behind this record representation was big John Yauckoes who worked tirelessly with the Varsity Club, A.A., and Globe people on the dinner committee to track down and urge his old teammates, scattered all over the nation, to come "home" for this most memorable reunion.

The young Eagles of 1965 shared the spotlight with their idols of 1940—and they were thrilled to do so! Captain Charlie Smith addressed the great crowd with a poise and dignity that made us very proud. Captain-elect Ed Lipson followed Smitty and he too was outstanding, promising to give a 100% plus effort in leading the 1966 Maroon and Gold. John Leone accepted the Tom Scanlan trophy in a manner which displayed excellence at the podium as well as on the football field and in the classroom. And popular Dick Taylor proved to be a big hit with the crowd as he humbly accepted the First Arthur Siegel Award from Globe publisher John I. Taylor.

GREATEST EVER!

John I. Taylor, Globe publisher, presents first Siegel Scholarship Award to Senior Dick Taylor of Baltimore.

All in all it was a night to remember and space doesn't really allow for the complete reporting of such an extravaganza. Perhaps the pictures we've selected tell it better anyway, but just to mention a few more highlights seems to be in order: the depth and inspiration of Father David Carroll's opening invocation; the outstanding job turned in by toastmaster Dave Lucey who has to be one of the most humorous and most masterful M.C.'s anywhere; the class with which John Curley introduced each Sugar Bowler; the hit humorous Augie Leo, All-America guard from Georgetown, made with the audience; the ovation rendered Dr. Ed Molinski, great All-America guard on that famous Tennessee team, as he represented the Vols; the moving words of Monsignor George Kerr in his excellent oration as Sugar Bowl team representative; the fond memories the great coach Frank Leahy stirred again in his fine talk; and the ovation Eagle coach Jim Miller received when he closed his remarks by promising to go all out to bring B.C. men another bowl team to shout about!!

Father Frank Sullivan, founder of the Varsity Club, paid tribute to the memory of Sugar Bowlers Don Currian, Justin McGowan, Tony Tassinari and beloved trainer Frank Jones, Equipment Manager Larry Kenney and Ticket Manager Pete Shannon.

At this writing the complete financial report was not in but it will be safe to say that the net remaining after paying all expenses will provide a substantial increase to Alma Mater's scholarship fund in the name of the Varsity Club.

All the way from California came Lou Montgomery '41 and Charlie Toole, '43.

1940 BOSTON COLLEGE FOOTBALL SQUAD

Upper Row (left to right): Ralph Nash, John Joyce, Carl Lucas, Joseph Repka, Fred Naumetz, Mike Halovak, Charles Toole, Harry Connolly. Third Row (left to right): Bob Dempsey, Adolph Pasiuk, Rocco Canale, Leo Strumski, Walter Boudreau, Thomas Moran, Adolph Kissel, Donald Currian, Albert Fiorentino. Second Row (left to right): Francis Galvani, Henry Waronitz, Justin McGowan, Terrence Geoghegan, Alfred Morro, Stephen Levanitis, Ed Zabalski, Bob Jauron, Frank Maznicki, Louis Montgomery, Anthony Tassinari. First Row (left to right): John Yauckas, Eugene Goodreault, Alex Lukechik, George Kerr, Edward Twiss, Dave White, Joseph Zabalski, Walter Dubzinski, Thomas Mahon, Henry Toczylowski, Charles O'Rourke, Chester Gladchuk.

Some of them today: front row from left: Gene Goodreault, Al Morro, Msgr. George Kerr, Chet Gladchuk, Joe Zabalski, Joe Manzo, Henry Waronicz, with Manager Tommy McDonald holding Sugar Bowl trophy. Rear: Coach Joe McArdle, John Yauckas, Hank Toczylowski, Coach Leahy, Monk Maznicki, Adolph Kissel and Coach John Druze.

PARADE of CLASSES

'14 JOHN S. KEOHANE
1147 Tremont Street, Boston

Bishop Eric F. MacKenzie, our Class President, celebrated the 47th Anniversary of his Ordination and the 15th Anniversary as Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Boston on October 20. Bishop MacKenzie was ordained prematurely due to the influenza epidemic of 1918. Ad Multos Felicissimos Annos! Your Excellency.

Our sympathy is extended to Very Rev. Edward L. Hughes, O.P. of New Orleans on the death of his brother, Very Rev. Vincent Reginald Hughes O.P. '19 and his brother Paul who died in October. May their souls rest in peace! Al Shaughnessy's son, John is now in first year Theology at St. John's Seminary in Brighton.

Died November 21 Bill O'Sullivan's son, Daniel '50, after a long illness. In addition to his wife and father and mother, he leaves four brothers, John J. '44, William J. Jr. '47, Francis X. '50 and Paul B. '56. Bishop MacKenzie gave the final absolution. In addition, the Class was represented by John W. Kapples and John Keohane. The Solemn Funeral Mass was sung by Rt. Rev. George Wiseman '15. Bill's grandson, William Finucane, is a member of the Freshman Class at the Heights.

'15 PHILIP J. BOND
18 Houston St., W. Roxbury

The Class was saddened by the death in October of Frederick L. Mahoney. Fred retired two years ago from the Boston School System as Assistant Principal of the Prince District. Father John Allston and your correspondent represented the Class at the funeral Mass.

Anniversaries are taken in stride by Rt. Rev. John H. Allston: his fiftieth from the College; his forty-fifth as Priest, and his eighteenth as Pastor of St. Joseph's Parish, Quincy Point. All three events occurred in June. Several hundred of his parishioners honored him at a testimonial banquet. His Spanish-style church built in 1917 has been thoroughly renovated. So many salesmen wanted to assist in the renovation of church, school, convent and rectory that Father John good naturedly posted a sign on the rectory door: "We shoot every third salesman. The second one just left."

Following retirement as a teacher of English in Hyde Park High School, John Lahive still is vigorous enough to teach a full program of English in Newman School.

Thomas F. Gavin was with us at a preliminary get-together two weeks before Alumni Day. He was unable to be present at the festivities of Alumni Day. He was missed. Tom for years was employed by the City of Boston in the office of the Collection of Taxes, retiring a few years ago.

Father Henry Brock, S.J. is the only surviving member of the faculty that taught the Class of 1915. He is now stationed at Weston and acts as adviser to the scholastics. He taught College Physics in our junior year and an elective course in Calculus to a few of us in our senior year. Father Brock is a graduate of the Hugh O'Brien School in the Boston School System. He graduated from Boston College High School and four years later from Boston College. He then attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology before entering the Jesuit Order. He still maintains his interest in scientific advancements. His present hobby is a new telescope and he claims to be the most proficient teacher of Astronomy at Weston. No one disputes this, and not because he will reach his ninetyeth birthday on May 8, 1966. The Class of 1915 has the fondest memories of Father Brock and wishes him continued good health.

'16 JAMES L. O'BRIEN
41 Pond Circle, Jamaica Plain
GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CLASS
STARTS YEAR'S FESTIVITIES

The Class of 1916 held its annual Winter reunion at 46 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts, November 20, 1965.

Twenty-two members, young at heart, attended: Bill Carney, Ed Coffey, Harold Fleming, Leo Gallagher, Fred Gillis, Leo Halloran, Roy Heffernan, James Linehan, Ed McCarthy, Jack Mitchell, Flo McAuliffe, Jim O'Brien, Frank Roche, Jerry Shea, Al Smith, Bill Toomey, Fathers Dalton, Doyle, McNinis, McLaughlin, Kelly and McNulty.

Fred Gillis, Class President, presided. After the blessing by Rt. Rev. Bernard J. McNulty, the class observed a minute of silence in memory of Jack Atkinson, Father Bill Daly, Harry Kiley and Mary Donovan (Pat's wife) who passed on since our June meeting and all our beloved dead.

After the meal, it was agreed that Secretary O'Brien send cheer-up letters to Father Walsh, S.J., President of Boston College and to Father Bill Murphy, S.J., President Emeritus of Boston College, expressing the hope of speedy recovery from recent illnesses.

Copies of Monsignor Sherlock's eulogy of Father Bill Daly were distributed by Secretary O'Brien.

Letters were read from Arthur Gormley and from the Monsignor William J. Daly Scholarship Committee. After discussion, it was agreed that Treasurer Jerry Shea should write each member re: contributions to the Daly fund.

It was announced that on Alumni Day, June 11, a plaque in honor of Jack Atkinson would be dedicated in Alumni Hall. A deserving tribute from the class to Jack's work for the Alumni.

Announcement was also made re: Citation to Roy Heffernan for his service on the National Draft Board re: medics. Award presented by Brigadier General Hershey, in Gardner Auditorium November 19, 1965.

Attention was invited to the November Saturday Evening Post article describing Father Gerald Fitzgerald's unique accomplishments in the clerical vineyard.

It was voted that a brochure—not TOO bulky—be prepared for Alumni Day portraying the record of class members. Committee appointed—Leo Daley, Father McNinis and Bill Carney, Chairman.

On motion, it was agreed that one Linus Carney (remember Chili con-) master of the mother tongue, compose an heroic ode setting for the exploits, trials, and high accomplishments of the class.

Jim O'Brien announced that he is compiling statistics of present members. You will hear from him.

Appropriate dress for Alumni Day consistent with mental vigor and physical condition was warmly pro'd and con'd. John Mitchell was appointed Chairman to follow through the suggestions. Perhaps a straw boater (circa 1916) with maroon and gold band appropriately labeled.

Father McNulty cordially invited the class to hold their annual Memorial Mass at his parish—usual coffee klatch cloistered to follow. Sincere vote of thanks extended by the accepting classmates.

Roy Heffernan plans a buffet for class members and wives at his ranch in Milton. June date to be announced—perhaps the day of the Memorial Mass.

'17 THOMAS D. CRAVEN
107 Barrett Street, Needham

Dr. Cyril M. Lydon passed away on November 30 at his home in Dorchester. His failing health had caused him to give up his active practice of medicine some time ago. Well respected in the community and among his medical associates there was a large attendance at the requiem high Mass in St. Peter's Church, Meeting House Hill which was celebrated by Msgr. James Doyle, the pastor. The class was represented by Msgr. Francis Flaherty, Fr. Maurice Dullea, S.J., Tom Craven, John Doyle, Walter Durnan, John Flynn, Michael Hickey, Martin Higgins, John McNulty, Maurice Murphy, William Reid, Charles Sharkey, Dr. Charles Smith, Roland Mahoney, and Ralph McKeown. The sincere sympathy of the class is extended to his wife, his daughter, his son and to the Lydon and Gavin families. May he rest in peace.

Fr. Bob Sheridan, S.J. widely known as "Mon Pere" to many graduates of B.C. High and also known as "the priest on the bicycle" to many others in widely scattered communities where he has served, observed his golden jubilee as a Jesuit on October 17 with a Mass, reception and luncheon at B.C. High. The facilities at the school were crowded by well wishers who had contact with him as an army chaplain and as a teacher. The class was represented by Ed. Cruise, John Flynn, Frank Heane, Bob Mahoney, Maurice Murphy, Rado McKewen, Dr. Charles Smith and Tom Craven.

Nick Petrocelli was able to attend the wedding of his son, Joseph, to Roberta Marie Berrane at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Jamaica Plain, on November 11. Fr. Dullea was in the sanctuary during the nuptial Mass. Nick is still in a nursing home in West Roxbury. He would appreciate a cheery word from members of the class.

Fr. Frank Caffrey, M.M. from Los Angeles and Fr. Joe Merrick, S.J. from Baghdad extended Christmas Greetings to the members of the class. To answer Fr. Frank—there are no classmates living in California. (This situation existed prior to the closing of San Quentin).

Mike Hickey will have more time to do the things he has wanted to do now that he is retired as a Review Examiner, Div. of Employment Security, Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Pleasant retirement, Mike.

Msgr. Albert Shea, "The Newman's Priest", who provided Mass at hours convenient for the working newsmen while he was pastor of St. James Church, celebrated Mass with two chaplains of the Cambridge hospitals in the chapel of Holy Ghost Hospital where he is a patient. It was the first Mass he has celebrated in two years. The class extends sincere sympathy to him upon the recent death of his brother, Fred. May his soul rest in peace.

John Flynn reports that the widow of "Bonnie" O'Sullivan passed away last November in Beverly.

Silk O'Loughlin is still in St. John of God Hospital, Brookline. A visit by or a cheerful message from members of the class would be helpful.

'19 FRANCIS J. ROLAND
10 Homewood Rd., West Roxbury

A solemn Requiem Mass was offered for Very Rev. Vincent R. Hughes, O.P. on November 2, 1965 at St. Vincent Ferrer Church, River Forest, Illinois. Father Hughes has held very important posts in his order, and at the time of his death he was professor of theology at St. Dominic College in St. Charles, Illinois. He died on October 30. Father Hughes came on from the west for the hundred anniversary of the college, and last year made the trip to be with his classmates of B.C.H. 1915.

We wish also to report the death of Timothy H. Sughree Esq., who died during the summer months. After graduation "Tim" went on to Harvard Law school and was a practicing attorney in Massachusetts for forty-three years. In World War I, in his junior year "Tim" was graduated from Plattsburg as a second lieutenant.

We wish to extend to the families of both of our classmates sincere condolences. We shall miss their loyal presence.

"Bill" O'Connor was the only member of the class to attend the Alumni Dance on the eve of the Holy Cross game.

'20 J. ROBERT BRAWLEY
33 Pomfret Street, West Roxbury

Thanks to Pop Pyne and Joe Joyce the annual reunion and dinner in October was a success. They took over on short notice and did a great job and the Forty Thieves enjoyed Wally Boudreau's presentation of the films on the West Point game.

A wonderful tribute was paid to our class Chaplain, Monsignor John J. Lane in late October on the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of his ordination in No. Reading. Classmates from '20 attending included: Gerry O'Neil, Jack Sheehan, Fr. Russ Haley, Pop Pyne and Bob Brawley.

John Connors, our "apple man" was honored by his post of the Legion. He was the recipient of a gold life membership card.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward McDonough, a member of the 50th anniversary class of B.C.H. was the Celebrant of the Mass at the opening of the school year at the High School.

We regret to report the death of Doctor Frederick W. O'Brien who died just before Christmas. He received his A.B. with our class at graduation in June 1920.

The sympathy of 1920 is extended to Gerry O'Neil on the death of his sister, Mrs. Eleanor Hues with whom he lived and also to our most faithful, Robert Pyne, whose brother, George died on Thanksgiving Day.

Another of the "missing members of '20" has been heard from. Arthur "Dutch" Grimm writes from Syracuse, N.Y., where he is now retired after years with the N.Y. Telephone Company.

Many thanks from the Southern Klavern of the Forty Thieves for the Christmas cards.

Heard from were: Ed Crowley, Doctor Neil O'Connor, and Leo Aicardi from Florida and Fred Donaher from Roanoke, Virginia.

'21 GORDON F. IRONS
9 Emmonsdale Rd., W. Roxbury

Rev. Thomas J. Burns has been appointed Parish Priest of Our Lady of Lourdes parish, Jamaica Plain. Father Burns had been Parish Priest of St. John and St. Hugh parish, Roxbury.

William J. Cunningham, Associate Superintendent of the Boston Public Schools, was one of the officials authorized to attend the Fall Conference, Great Cities Program for School Improvement, held in Los Angeles last November.

Charles Coyle is feeling well again after being hospitalized last fall.

John B. Donahue, retired editor of "Columbia," the largest Catholic monthly in the United States, has been honored by his publication which has made him the first Knight of Columbus executive to be featured on its cover (the January, 1966, issue). A Columbia editorial lauds its Editor-Emeritus for his almost four decades of leadership. A native of Somerville, Donahue was a feature writer for the "Boston Sunday Post" before joining "Columbia" as associate editor in 1924. He was named editor in 1928 and retired on his 65th birthday last November. While in college, John was one of the first editors of the "Heights."

James J. Fitzpatrick, one of the all-time Boston College football greats, will retire at the end of the academic year after a 44-year career as coach and athletic director at Portland, Maine, High School. Fitzpatrick coached football and baseball at Portland High until 1941. He has been athletic director since 1936. His football teams compiled a record of 79-41-13. He had a record of 195-85 as basketball coach.

Jack Gannon of Weymouth passed away last September 25. Jack was an outstanding basketball player at B.C. After graduation he taught for many years at Weymouth High School. The sympathy of the Class is extended to his family.

'22 NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS
15 Kirk Street
West Roxbury, Massachusetts

The class news this issue is filled with notes of sadness, three of our most illustrious members passing away since the summer. These are Bishop Carroll Deady of Detroit, formerly Superintendent of Parochial Schools; Rev. Donald Whaler of the North Shore, formerly a member of the Marriage Court; and Timothy McNerny after a full life as writer, lecturer, and public relations director in Washington. During World War II, Tim was a brigadier general in the Infantry. All three men were very close to us, and their places will be hard to fill. Sympathy of the class is extended to their families, and also to Bill Bigley on the death of his wife, to Father Joseph Meredith on that of his brother, and to Father Thomas Sweeney on that of his sister.

Seen at the hockey games recently were Walter McSwiney and Dennis O'Leary. Father John Connors is a regular patron at the Forum where he continues his loyalty to the hockey team. Father Connors is rightly proud of his many wonderful nephews and nieces.

Lawrence Curtin is in the news for his excellent work for his native Quincy. Frank Daly has returned from another journey; this time he went to Rome for the final meetings of the Vatican Council. After his visit to Rome, he flew north to France, Denmark, England, and Ireland. Frank is our world traveler.

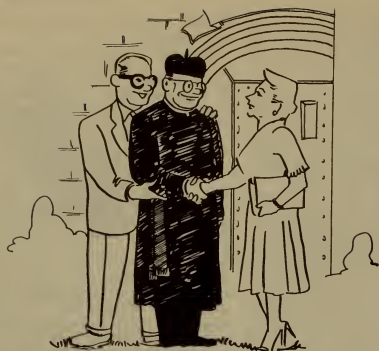

Charley McCarthy's daughter is a freshman at Chamberlayne Junior College where I see her almost every day. Great honor has come to Walter Markham who has been elected National President of the State Directors of Vocational Education at the annual convention in Washington. This is honor, indeed, for an excellent schoolman.

On the day of the Richmond game, when I received a beautiful plaque as the "Favorite Athletic Son Award," the class was given an honor by the B.C. band which formed a huge 22 across the whole field. Thank you, Mr. Siragusa. By the way, after my many years of work, my second book on B.C. sports, "Athletics at Boston College," Vol. II, is almost ready for the press. This volume will cover basketball, 1905-1966; football, 1944-1965, and hockey, 1944-1966. The former system of subscribers, sponsors, and guarantors will be in vogue. All former athletes who have photographs of themselves or their teams or games played are invited to lend them to me for publication. A very few copies of Volume I are still available.

'23 MRS. FRANCIS L. FORD
9 McKone Street
Dorchester, Mass. 02122

Another year has rolled by much too fast — the Reverend Fathers Patrick Collins, S.J.,

(Continued on Page 24)

CHEVERUS HALL — CLASSES OF 1956, 1961

GONZAGA HALL — CLASSES OF 1916, 1921, 1926, 1931, 1936

COME ALUMNI JUNE

★ FRIDAY, JUNE 10

Dormitory Registration, Lobby
Alumni, Wives and Buffet Supper, McElroy Commons
Information

★ SATURDAY, JUNE 11

Breakfast, McElroy Commons
Alumni Memorial Mass, St. Joseph Admissions Seminar, Murray
General Alumni Luncheon, McElroy
Address by Father Rector
Wives and Alumnae welcome
Concert with 55 Members of the Arthur Fiedler, Conducting
Champagne Buffet Dance, McElroy

★ SUNDAY, JUNE 12

Continental Breakfast, McElroy
Baccalaureate Mass, McHugh
Buffet Luncheon, McElroy Commons
Nursing School Pinning Ceremony

★ MONDAY, JUNE 13

Breakfast, McElroy Commons
Commencement, Alumni Field

- Package Price for entire week
- Tickets for Individual Events
- Dormitories Available
- Make your Reservations
- Further Details
- This is YOUR
- Alumni

General Chairman, Mr.

YOUR WEEKEND 1966

Bus Hall from 5 P.M.
 Alumnae most welcome 7 P.M.
 enary Class Gatherings

..... 9 to 10 A.M.
 chapel 10 A.M.
 yce Room 11 A.M.
 mmons 12 Noon
 of McKenney Medal
 Pops Orchestra, Roberts Center 3 P.M. mmons 7 P.M.

rons 9 to 10 A.M.
 10:30 A.M.
 12 Noon
 gnatius Church 2 P.M.

..... 9 to 10 A.M.
 10:30 A.M.

ouple, $75.00 available end
 w—Contact Alumni Hall
 nounced
 nd "Back to Campus"—Plan Now elli Hall
 Stanton, '42

FITZPATRICK HALL — CLASS OF 1941

KOSTKA HALL — CLASSES OF 1946, 1951

(Continued from Page 21)

Tom Lane and Norbert McInnis wish to extend to all their classmates a very Happy New Year, even though the greeting will be a little late in reaching you.

We are pleased to report that John Flavin is now enjoying good health again, having undergone surgery and a long convalescence this summer.

Al Lashway retired this past summer from the Connecticut School for Boys due to illness, vacationed in Vermont for the summer and has now moved to Mountain View, California. His daughter is living just a short distance away from where he is residing, so it makes for a happy family reunion. Al is improving healthwise, and we extend our best to him. Hope he doesn't miss New England too much.

It was with sadness that the Class learned of the death of Joe Galvin, who passed away on September 25th after a long illness. Our classmates attending the funeral were Ed Garrity, Gaynor Wellings, Walter Dimmock and Cecil McGoldrick. Our sincerest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Galvin and her family.

Another sad note was the death on November 27th of Dr. Arthur Roman. A Solemn High Funeral Mass was celebrated at St. Peter's Church in Dorchester and burial was in Hanover, Mass. where he and his family had recently moved to. He is survived by his wife, three sons and two daughters. Our sincerest sympathy is extended to his family.

Your secretary is most anxious to have news of the Class. Your cooperation will be most welcome.

'25 WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY
14 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Father Placid (John Cormey) OSB, is one of three from Mount Saviour who in June 1964 founded a new community in the Santa Fe area, at Abiquiu, New Mexico. We believe this to be the third new religious foundation pioneered by Dom Placid in recent years. So if ever you are out on the desert in New Mexico, when evening comes, listen for the strains of "For Boston" as Dom Placid may be drawing a bow across the strings of the same old Cello he played at B.C. He is still determined to master the instrument—and the song. Now the Music Club knows what became of its Cello and Cellist of the early 1920's.

The B.C.H., Fall Issue 1965, listed a directory of Section 4A of the Class of 1921 and uncovered a few of our "long lost" fellow alumni at BC—viz James F. Bride, Executive with Tel. Co. (Callan take notice); Joseph M. Gavan, Attorney; Bernard Hayward, Design Draftsman; Arthur Quinn, Director of Athletics, Waltham High. Listed among their "missing" was our missing Henry Scully.

Neil O'Callaghan appeared big as life in papers all over the USA, shown with his sister the first nun ever to christen an U.S. Warship at the ceremonies for the launching of the USS O'Callaghan at Bay City, Michigan. The ship will visit Boston in 1966.

Joseph M. Walsh, is still active as headmaster of Lawrence High School—and not retired as rumored (by one of the Vice Principals).

Former settlement worker, Joe Beattie, has settled at 5768 Berkshire Street, Detroit 24, Michigan, and is frequently sought for advice by civic leaders in the Motor City.

Chaplain Fr. Jerry Gearan, retired from the Navy, is now chaplain at the Federal Correctional Institution, Lompac, Calif. Look him up if you have occasion to go there.

Speaking of going places, it was revealed in the Traveler in November that the other Arthur (Riley), the one who won all the prizes (and the brains too), is now known as "Msgr. Clean" for doing his best to help clean things up in Vietnam. Parishioners of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, successors to the Merrymount dancers in Quincy, heard that soap was needed by the people in South Vietnam. Their Pastor who happened to be home—between trips and hospitals—and never known to "soft soap" or give the "lye," to anyone, worked up a quick lather with "Palmolive" (from the "Ivory" coast) and 10,000 bars (almost as many as are licensed in Quincy) to "Dial" out disease and dirt in the war area. Shall we say now that the "Lux" with them in Vietnam?

When we run out of items about classmates we can always turn to the children of our classmates—e.g.—

John O'Leary—Ed's son was one of 7 receiving perfect scores in the National College Board exams in Greek. John is now a freshman at Yale.

James J. Hawley, Bernie's son, is a member of an engineering group at RCA's Space Center, responsible for the design, development and testing of the Ranger 5B camera television system. This system on 3 occasions took high-resolution photos of the lunar surface, and transmitted them to earth until the moment the spacecraft plunged into the moon. Get the picture? Frank Flanagan was our informant and he also told us the Bern's daughter Patricia attained a straight A average during the spring semester of 1964-65 at Buffalo State University, thus gaining a position on the President's Academic Honor Roll in the Arts and Science course. This proves that beauty and brains can be found in one person—and that Mrs. Hawley and Mrs. O'Leary have proved it. Q.E.D.

(P.S. Questions on "how to do it" may be addressed to the Hawleys at 36 Hearthstone Rd., Yonkers 2, N.Y.)

Among the older members of our class, Al Hyland has finally become a grandfather and not only once, but twice. The first was the daughter of his own daughter and Kevin Gironx, (who is the son of our aging classmate, Gene Gironx.) Denise Kathleen is the name and she was born on August 1, 1965. Then on August 15th a daughter was born to Al's son and his wife. Grandchild number 2 is Christine Marie, and if you find this notice mixed up, call Attorney Hyland or Attorney Gironx and in their best legal style they will straighten things out so that nobody will understand the situation.

While looking through the year book recently, I wondered how many could remember the names of those in our class who were managers of the athletic teams. For your convenience I list them: Cormey-Basketball; Gearan-Track; Mike Rock-Football; Hopkins-Baseball; and Spang in Hockey. Albert Ward was President of the Musical Clubs; Jerry Slattery was President of the Dramatic Club; and Bill Doyle was President of the Student A.A. Finally, our Captains were: Kozlowski in Football (following Darling); Pat Mahoney-Track; and Culhane in Hockey.

Incidentally—travelers in the neighborhood of the Shattuck Hospital in Forest Hills will be welcome to visit Jerry Slattery who is a patient there. Meanwhile cards will be welcome.

'26 WILLIAM J. CUNNINGHAM
40 Tennyson Street
West Roxbury, Mass.

Gather 'round, you guys: don't want any of the younger fry to read this, because they look at us and think we're in the young set, naturally. This is the fortieth coming up! And big doings are in the wind, leading off with a big dinner at the famed Parker House in Boston on Friday, February 18. Put a circle around that date now, on your new calendar. Chairman Dr. Bob O'Doherty has already begun his organizational meetings, assisted by Charlie Schroeder, prexy Dr. Art Gorman, Bob Daley, and on the clerical side, Fr. Jim Monks, S.J., and Msgr. Jerry O'Neil.

Now for what gossip we have. We see Ed Murray fairly regularly at local Kiwanis meetings and we saw "Lum", Ed Mullowney along with Frank Colbert at that disastrous B.U. game at the Arena. Dr. Ed Flynn was there, too, watching young Brian play Frosh hockey on the to-date undefeated hockey team. Art Gorman's crew is growing up, too. Young Dave, the doctor, is in residence in Buffalo; married and two boys. Marjorie, also medic-married, has two boys and Art Jr. is Supply Officer on the destroyer Damato, after picking up a graduate degree from Columbia. Young Dick is a Business School soph and little Barbara is a Nursing School soph, both at the Heights. To get back to the dinner momentarily, Judge Bill Consonine is coming and so is "Sugar" Dick Murphy, now in Chicago; Fr. Martin will also be there, we expect.

Johnny Dooley is the new President of the Mass. Audio-Visual Ass'n. and recently served on a state-wide conference on "A.V.". Who told me that Earl Clinton—"Fat" to you—had a flock of children and was teaching in Framingham? Jerry O'Neil is pastor of Holy Family Church in Rockland, the town all Boston teachers used to come from, and was only recently elevated to Monsignor.

Noted in November that the late Dr. Eddie Eagan's boy, Eddie 3d, was married to a Kathleen Minihane of Lynnfield. Eddie went to Yale and is a fourth year Med. student at Tufts.

The B.C. High "Bugle" reminds me that Msgr. Matt Stapleton, S.T.D., S.S.L., L.L.D., is now the pastor of St. Columbkille's in Brighton, and is also Vicar Forensis of the Newton Deanery of the archdiocese. That's it, men. All you've got to concentrate on is that evening of February 18th at the Parker House; Bob O'Doherty will give you more news shortly. See you around Roberts or McHugh.

'27 JOHN J. BUCKLEY
20 Dell Ave., Hyde Park, Mass.

At the annual dinner of the Boston College Club of Long Island, New York, Reverend Father Rector, Fr. Walsh, presented Fred Gannon with the "Distinguished Member Award" in recognition of his assistance to the Dean of Admissions in interviewing prospective students for the college and of his efforts as Long Island chairman of the Development Fund.

Walter Waldron's daughter, Marie, was married on Oct. 16 to Robert Fallon. The bride's brother, Rev. Walter Waldron, performed the wedding ceremony.

We regret to announce the death last September of classmate Louis E. Salvador of Cohasset. Lou was the retired owner of the Litchfield Express Co. He was active in the K. of C., the Boy Scout leaders, and in aeronautical circles. We extend our sympathy to his wife and children.

We also extend our sympathy to Dan O'Connell on the death of his brother, George O'Connell, for many years a Boston school principal.

Capt. John E. Sullivan, now of Newton Centre, has been doing publicity work for the U.S. Naval Academy.

Bill Fitzgerald's daughter, Stephanie, after two years as a Peace Corps Volunteer, is studying at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Boston's Superintendent of Schools, Bill Ohrenberger, spoke to the Catholic Alumni Sodality of Boston on Sunday, Dec. 5, on "Current Problems in Urban Education." Bill also delivered Brandeis University's Alexander and Fannie B. Shluger Memorial Lecture on Tuesday, Dec. 14, at the university. His subject was, "Boston Attacks the Problems of Urban Education."

Bishop John Comber, M.M. was received by Pope Paul VI in Rome in November as a member of the U.S. Catholic Center for Applied Research in the Apostolate.

Twenty-nine members of the class were present for the annual Christmas Dinner at Alumni Hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 28. They were Msgr. Walter Leach, Fr. Martin Harney, S.J., Msgr. Joe Lyons, Msgr. Joe Ryan, Fr. Jim Geary, Fr. Joe McCall, Pres. F. X. Sullivan, Treas. John Toomey, Joe Ingoldsby, Dr. Tim Lyons, Bill Ohrenberger, John E. Sullivan, Dr. John Carroll, Luke McCloskey, Joe McKenney, Dan O'Leary, Bill Fitzgerald, Joe Hopkinson, Tom Coughlin, Jack Dempsey, Martin Tierney, Vin O'Connell, Norris Luddy, Jack Duane, Fred Harkins, Tom Heffernan, Tom O'Keefe, Phil McArdle, and Jack Buckley. Such eloquence, such wit, such optimism, such pessimism, such faith, such ecumenism, such conservatism, such a class!

Tom O'Keefe's son, Lieut. Tom O'Keefe Jr. of the U.S. Navy, is on a tour of duty in Viet Nam as commander of a squadron of river boats which is not quite the same thing as riding the Swan boats in the Public Gardens.

Ed Sweeney is now Director of the U.S. Secret Service in this area.

The grandchildren department: Joe Ingoldsby has another granddaughter . . . for Bill Ohrenberger two grandchildren in one week . . . Joe McKenney still leading with fifteen . . . Fr. Joe McCall has three foster grandchildren . . . can you top that?

Dan O'Leary, Chairman of the State Board of Educational Assistance, has supervised the awarding of 1500 scholarships.

Bill Fitzgerald, Director of Libraries at Marquette U., gave the boys a vivid account of his experiences in Africa as library expert, among other things, to the new African nations at the request of the government.

Jack Dempsey's daughter is secretary to the Dean of the Boston College Evening Division.

Jack Duane has retired from the Newton police force and is now working for a Newton bank.

Joe McKenney as President of the National Association of City Department Directors presided at a meeting in Washington to discuss the use of government expenditures in city high schools.

Fr. Martin P. Harney, S.J., will observe the fiftieth anniversary of his entrance into the Society of Jesus next June. His admirers of the Class of '27 are expected to be at the festivities in force.

Fred Harkin's son is a Junior at Notre Dame.

The Class extends its sympathy to Fr. Edwin Carey on the death of his mother.

Fr. Joe McCall spoke with pride of Brother Michel Miller, an Angel Guardian Home lad whom he baptized at 13 and sponsored, who recently was named Vice-Provincial of the Brothers of Holy Cross, Eastern Province.

Jack Buckley's son, Jimmy, is spending his fifth year in the Maryknoll order at their new house in Hingham.

The next meeting of the class will be the annual Communion Breakfast, May 22, 1966.

'28 JOHN M. BARRY
40 Richmond Street
West Roxbury, Mass.

Since the last issue of the Alumni News, I have had no communication from any member of the class. Since my power in extra sensory perception is decidedly negative, I have nothing to pass along.

It is frightening to think that in some horrendous Twilight Zone incident all the members of the class have disappeared.

It is sad to report that two members of the class have died. Msgr. Francis J. Greene was pastor of St. Martha and Mary Church in Lakeville, Mass. He was the first chaplain to work with the patients at the Lakeville Sanatorium. Dr. Paul R. Hinchey lived in Salem, Mass., many years before his death. Paul was deeply interested in cancer research and prevention.

Requiescant in pace.

'29 COL. TOM McGRATH, President
Chestnut Street, Concord, Mass.
GEORGE DONALDSON, Sec'y
30 Blackman Rd., Canton, Mass.

Your prayers are asked for the repose of Don Sheehan's soul and for his bereaved family. Also for a quick return to robust health for Joe Dolan.

Congratulations to Tim Mannix, on his "A" Vice Presidency of New England Telephone Co.

Ed Cahill, for a "proper" Bostonian has really lived around the USA: North Carolina, Virginia, Wisconsin, Indiana and is now a "regular" Mid Westerner, cheering for the White Sox and Chicago Bears. Ed, who lives with his charming wife and two lovely daughters, Peggy 12 and Kathy 6, at 1544 Marquette Rd., Joliet, Illinois, is involved with production and technical problems in supply of bulk propellants and rocket motors. In spite of the many years "classmates are still fresh in my memory. With I could attend some class functions. Best to all."

Jack Quinn, General Manager of the Phillies, and held in high regard by his fellow citizens though extremely busy with baseball matters and meetings, took time to write about his 3 daughters and 2 sons and his 9 grand-daughters and 4 grand-sons. He sends "Best wishes to ALL for health and happiness in '66."

Father Joe Farrington, first and only Catholic Chaplain, of Porterville, California State Hospital (since 1954) writes: "It is very interesting work that I enjoy a great deal. The children (mentally retarded) are different in many respects — but alike in expressing appreciation and gratitude. Despite their mental limitations, they understand the meaning of love." An important facet of his work is helping parents to accept the will of God and to overcome feelings of guilt about sending their child to a State hospital. Father lives at the hospital and can be reached at P.O. Box 1291, Porterville, Calif. 93258. He asks God's blessings for you all.

Henry Keenan, principal of the 1009 pupil Andrew Jackson School, Santa Ana, Calif., will move in March to 1302 El Finito Way, Tustin, Calif. Alice is teaching at the Spurgeon School while Paul, is a second year medical student at Marquette Univ. after graduating from Loyola U., L.A. and marrying Pamela Beam of Milwaukee, a Medical Technologist. In closing Henry wrote "Give my best to all and send some news." Won't you please send some news of yourself to him at 1623 Marion Way, Santa Ana, and send me a carbon copy for our next Alumni News notes? California is indeed well off with three '29ers, Paul Broderick, since last September has been professor-counselor at Chabot College, Hayward. Paul's son Terry, Lt. (JG) out of Sasebo, Japan, Kathy, a Junior at U. Mass., Ellen, a Freshman at Chapman College, Orange, Calif., Paul Jr. HS sophomore and Betty just starting JHS complete the second generation roster. Paul writes "the climate is truly great—no snow or ice. It gets down to 32 about 3 nights each winter and rarely up to 90 in summer. Great for golfers. The very best of Christmases to all." 724

PEACE

Do not look forward to what might happen tomorrow; the same everlasting Father, who cares for you today, will take care of you tomorrow and every day. Either He will shield you from suffering, or He will give you unfailing strength to bear it. Be at peace then, and put aside all anxious thoughts and imaginations.

—St. Francis de Sales

P. E. MURRAY Funeral Service
BOSTON

Arthur P. Murray '26

Lewelling Blvd. (apt. 110) San Leandro, Calif. 94579. Art Dean wrote from 620 So. Main St., Plainwell, Mich. "Remember me to All."

Hear Dr. Jim Hennessey is enjoying a few days of well earned rest in Florida. Joe and Rita Birmingham went to the game in Miami again and enjoyed Florida as much as ever. They have another grand-daughter. Jim Riley has just joined the august grandparent group. Peter Buck '66 is commuting from Bob's new home in Hingham. Who else has sons or/and daughters at BC? Father Frank Harkins, Pastor of St. Anthony's Church, Woburn and John Mahoney represented '29 on the January 6th Football Dinner committee honoring the '66 team and the great Bowl team of 25 years ago. The class was well represented at the Harvest Dinner Dance before the Cross game, on campus. It was a fine affair. Mark your calendar for next year. In closing may we Amen the good wishes of our correspondents' to you all?

'30 JOHN F. DWYER
45 Belvoir Road, Milton, Mass.

Seen at some of the football games at the Heights last Fall were Charles Harrington, John Havery, Dr. Charles Rooney, and Rev. Edward B. Harrington.

In attendance at the Harvest Victory Dance at McElroy Commons on the eve of the Holy Cross game were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. John Havery and Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer.

Rev. Edward E. Harrington has been appointed pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Medway. His address is 2 Barber Street, Medway, Mass.

On September 18th the first memorial Mass was offered for the late John J. Connelly, former presiding Justice of the Boston Juvenile Court, at St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

On Thanksgiving morning, the second memorial Mass was offered at St. Mary of the Hills Church in Milton for the late Dr. William J. Sullivan, former President of the Boston College Alumni Association.

Dr. Tom Cavanaugh has purchased a new ranch home in West Newton. Good luck in your new home, Tom.

John Convery and John Havery served on the committee for the Boston College Varsity Club Dinner held January 6th at the Sheraton Boston where the guests of honor were the Sugar Bowl Championship team of 1941 as well as the 1965 Varsity football team.

Tom Kelly played in the annual New Year's Day golf tournament at the Wollaston Golf Club.

'31 JOHN P. BARRY
370 Chestnut Hill Ave., Brookline

Ed McAleer is Professor of English and Chairman of the Department of Hunter College. Presently, he is on a sabbatical reading his third book, "Learned Lady: Letters from Robert Browning to Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald" which is coming out this Spring.

Fr. Emily Hemond is Pastor of St. Theresa Church in Dracut, Mass.

We are saddened at the loss of Col. Paul H. "Pat" Raftery buried recently in Arlington National Cemetery.

Tom Crosby is President of the Lincoln Savings Bank.

Peter, son of Dick Fitzpatrick, is back from the Peace Corps in Afghanistan and is a full-time student at B.C. Law School.

'32 JOHN P. CONNOR
24 Crestwood Circle, Norwood

Our annual class re-union was held at Alumni Hall on December 14. Among those present were: Jim Heggie, Chas. Callery, John Callahan, Dan Maguire, Joe Hernon, Ed Herlihy, Fr. Joe Connor, Bill Galvin, Ed Hurley, Joe Andrews, Emil Romanowski, Fred Meier, Tony Vanania, Jim Spellman, Fr. Fred Minigan, Geo. Morris, John Teehan, Tom Connolly, Phil Albano, Harry Downes, Fran Curtin, Peter Quinn, Bernie Dee, Bill Connor, Allyn Byrne, Fr. Fran Finnegan, Joe Willson, Ed Gallagher and John Connor. John Scanlon is teaching High School in San Francisco. John has three children.

Fr. Fred Minigan is now stationed at St. Bernard's in Newton.

The prayers of the class are asked for the mother of Fr. Jim Cotter, who recently died. Walter Kealy is connected with the V.A. in Washington, D.C.

Phil O'Brien is head of Legal Dept. of Social Security in Lowell.

Ted Cosciok is in insurance business in Lowell.

Bill Tribble is an Attorney with office in Manchester, N.H.

Emil Romanowski, a father of six children, is working for Raytheon.

'34 REV. JOHN A. SAUNDERS
St. Agatha's Rectory
432 Adams Street, Milton

We regret to announce the death of the mother of Rev. John J. Fogarty. Most Rev. Jeremiah F. Minihan, D.D. presided at the Solemn Funeral Mass of Mrs. Sarah Fogarty, 96, celebrated by her son at St. Peter's Church, Dorchester, on November 2. Fr. Fogarty was assisted by our classmates, Rev. John D. Day as deacon and Rev. Martin J. Dolphin as Sub Deacon. Other classmates in attendance were: Rt. Rev. Walter L. Flaherty, Rev. William J. Noonan, Rev. Charles E. Anadore, Rev. Daniel J. Sullivan and Walter J. Kelly. May her soul rest in peace.

Rev. John R. Hughes, S.J., is home after serving sixteen years in Japan. John said Mass on T.V. early in December and, of course, was introduced by our classmate, Monsignor Flaherty. At this writing, Fr. Hughes is a patient at Carney Hospital. We hope and pray for a speedy recovery. Dr. John McGillicuddy is kept busy taking care of our athletes. The press tells us of the successful operation he performed on Jack Cunniff, the hockey star.

At the football games, all the loyal rooters of '34 were present. I met, John Connors, Frank Noonan, Walter Kelly, Herb Crimlish, Frank Burns, Tim Donohue, Greg Sullivan, Dan Cronin, and Tony Laemara. I sat through the rain of Miami and Holy Cross with the ever loyal Chick Atresani. At the Worcester victory, I have to say John McGillicuddy was our "Best Dressed" classmate.

At the Milton Post Office, I met the father of Dr. Paul Moore, who informed me that he became a great-grandfather and Paul, a grandfather. A sure indication of our advanced age. After years in the Navy, Paul is now in practice in the Springfield area.

Bob Toland, after two years in Hawaii with the Veterans Administration is now in their Washington, D.C. office.

Joe Killalea, whose daughter Susan is a senior at Font Bonne Academy, is very active in the "Fathers Club" of that school.

"Lou" Musco is back at his desk at the Suffolk County Court House. We are all happy Lou is well again.

In 1959, on the occasion of our twenty-fifth anniversary, we got together a small treasury. We used the funds for printing, mailing materials in times of bereavement, etc. Now some seven years later, we are without funds. To this end, then I will send out bills, very shortly. Please be prompt in returning your three dollars to this most worthy cause.

Please send in the "NEWS."
HAPPY 1966 TO ALL.

'35 EDWARD J. O'BRIEN
64 Cedar Street
Wollaston, Mass. 02170

The Class is saddened to learn of the passing of James Z. Farley, a loyal and devoted member of the Alumni and of 1935.

Condolences of the Class are offered to Tom Kelly on the recent death of his mother.

Fr. John Taglino is now pastor of Immaculate Conception Parish in Revere.

Rather than run the risk of almost inevitable oversight in listing sons and daughters of classmates who are now attending or have graduated from the Heights, we've thought it best not to attempt it for fear of offending. But Dan Holland is the proud father of two who were awarded degrees with the Class of 1965. Dan Holland, S.J. is at Weston College, and Karen is with the Peace Corps in Jamaica.

And Bill Greenler's son is also at Weston College.

Dr. Gordon Connor of Woburn has been appointed director of the New England Rehabilitation-for-Work Center and professional services of Morgan Memorial, Inc.

Few of us voluntarily put ourselves on the spot, but Mike Collins of the Wakefield Municipal Electric Company did, the night after our horrendous blackout, by appearing on the Jim Westover radio program to answer why and how.

The night before the Eagles-H.C. splash, presented with its usual grandeur and grace at McElroy Commons, was glowingly attended by several classmates and their radiant spouses: Tom Kelly, Joe Kelley, Ed Forbes, Ed Sullivan, John Griffin, Henry Fallon, Don Shannon, et moi.

'36 JOSEPH P. KEATING
24 High Street, Natick, Mass.

Congratulations to two of our distinguished clergy — Monsignor Larry Riley named Rector of St. John's Seminary by the Cardinal in September, and Monsignor Speed Carroll who received the "Padre of the Year of 1965" award at the National CYO Convention in Chicago in November.

Interesting and proud to note, of the six Monsignori present and assisting the Cardinal at his special Christmas Mass were Monsignori Riley and Carroll and Monsignor Jim Manning, Rector of the Cathedral. Six-for-three, how about that, 36/ers!

Congratulations also to Chris Ianella, re-elect-d to the Boston City Council and also vote getter at that. Chris presently is also being mentioned as a good possibility as the next Mayor of Boston.

Charlie Marso, formerly of Natick, but in more recent years, of Hopkinton is home from the hospital and recovering nicely from surgery. All you old ball-players and BS guys — Charlie would enjoy hearing from you.

Frank Metz has been appointed manager of the Electronics Department in the Re-entry Systems Division of Aerospace Corporation, San Bernardino, California.

'37 ANGELO M. DiMATTIA
82 Perthshire Road, Brighton

Congratulations are being extended to John and Della Bonner on their recent Silver wedding anniversary. Their recent honeymoon brought them on a trip to the Scandinavian countries. On the way back they stopped in Spain to witness a bull fight. John has some excellent slides to prove their courage.

The Curtins from Belmont have just returned from a trip to Puerto Rico. Their daughter, Suzanne, is a lay apostolate in Alaska. This is her second year there. She wants her mother and father to visit her in Alaska. Maybe this will be their next trip.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Doherty's second oldest son is now serving with the Armed forces in Viet Nam.

A happy man was Loran Sanford, a Math teacher at Boston Latin School. He was made Asst. football coach of this famous institution.

Jocko Conlin has moved to New Jersey. He is sorely missed by all of us, especially the Tom McDermott's.

Many classmates traveled to West Point to see the game. Present were the Gaquins, Tom McDermott, Monsignor Johnnie Quirk and yours truly.

Bob Russell has just been appointed Asst. Director of Teacher placement in the Boston Public Schools. He joins another classmate, namely Tom Wall.

Paul Partridge is now convalescing at the Chelsea Naval Hospital. He is expected to be released soon.

Our group was very small, but happy, at the last Harvard festival held in Nov. Present were the Curtins, the Bonners and the Di-Mattia's.

Many classmates would like to see Judge Teddy Glynn back with us. Likewise the Frasca's, the Murphy's, Murray's, Koum-jian's and the many others that made our Silver Jubilee such a grand success.

The Durkin's are quite popular in the town of Melrose and their daughter, Priscilla, is doing well at the Harvard Graduate school.

The Baron, Fr. Fred Adelman is still in charge of the B.C. dorms.

Msr. John Quirk informs me that a few of our classmates will celebrate their Silver Jubilee as priests, next year. We should have an affair next spring to honor these Jubilarians. Let me hear from the classmates concerning this affair.

Tom Saint has recently been promoted as VIP in the RCA distributors of Boston. It couldn't happen to a nicer guy.

Marie Phillips, the lovely wife of Ed, has had a long period of recovery from a recent hospitalization. We wish her well.

You can bank on the best terms at

Volunteer when you

BUY, BUILD, MODERNIZE or REFINANCE

Home Ownership Financing

Quarterly Dividend on all Savings

4 1/4 %

209 Washington Street, Boston opposite Old State House Phone LA 3-4880

Leo Coveney and his buddy, Tim Sullivan, are ever faithful at all our reunions. Likewise, Jim Dineen, Waldo Dembrowski, Steve Higgins, John Feeney and Bob Finnegan. Where has Jim Doherty from Andover been hiding? He may be very busy with his large Insurance business.

Steve Graham and his wife, who now reside in Wollaston are also missed.

Entering the Boston College School of Education this Fall are Elizabeth Keefe and Mary Jane Keefe, daughters of Frank and John Keefe.

Condolences are extended to Ben Hines on the recent loss of his sister, Sister Margarita, formerly dean of admissions at Regis College. The Class enrolled her in a perpetual enrollment. May she rest in peace.

I am always ready to receive news. Hope to B.C'ing you soon.

'38 THOMAS F. TRUE, JR.
37 Pomfret Street
West Roxbury, Mass. 02132

Father Al Gibbons, a Commander in the Navy, is stationed at the Naval Air Station in San Diego, California.

Last July we were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Hugo Blandori. At our 25th Reunion he still possessed the rugged physique he had while taking part in athletics at Boston College. Ironically, Hugo had a seizure while working out at the YMCA in Greenwich, Conn. To his wife, Suzanne and his three boys, Peter, Paul and Mark, we extend our sincere belated sympathy.

Rt. Rev. Robert F. Murray was made a Domestic Prelate last October. '38 now has 3 Monsignori at Lake Street — Rt. Rev. Francis J. Sexton, Chancellor of the Archdiocese, Rt. Rev. John L. McManmon, Procurator of St. John's Seminary where Monsignor Murray is Spiritual Director.

Frank Corbett is now in the investment business with the same firm where Jack Guthrie is Sales Manager.

Jim Dailey, Dr. Dick Stanton, Frank Finnegan, Jack Guthrie, and Bill Finan made up a class table at the Harvest Dance the night before the Cross game. We also met Dr. Joe (Bennie) Connolly and his wife.

Frank Hunt is Public Information Officer for the Veterans Administration in Boston.

Charlie Donelan's son, Matty, was on the Harvard varsity football squad this past season.

At the BC-Miami game this year in Florida — we again enjoyed the company of Dr. Arthur Buckley and his wife.

Frank (Skip) Solari is slowly recovering from a cerebral aneurysm. His doctors say that the best therapy would be cards and visits from his friends. Skip is at the Veterans Hospital, South Huntington Ave., Jamaica Plain, Room 9D.

CLASS OF 1938

REUNION DINNER

February 16 Alumni Hall

RESERVE NOW

Jerry Jones' son, Jerry Jr., was married Oct. 18 to Mary Jane Garland at St. Agatha's Church in Milton.

Met Jim Casey, Bill Prior and Jim Dailey at the recent BC-McGill hockey game — Joe Hartigan must have been somewhere around.

Our sympathy is extended to Frank Foley whose mother passed away just before Christmas. Frank is now a Lieut.-Colonel with the Air Force stationed in Germany.

'39 THOMAS F. TURNAN
6 Johnson Road
Arlington, Mass. 02174

Thirty-Niners continue their wholehearted support of Alumni activities. Some seven classmates hired a bus, packed wives, 21 offspring and bales of sandwiches aboard, and took off for the Army game at West Point. Except for the score, it was a successful foray for all. The pre-Holy Cross game Harvest Victory Festival this year broke all records under the chairmanship of Dr. Al Branca who remains decorously noncommittal about the appearance of Italian champagne for the first time at one of these affairs.

Our overseas report for this issue originates with Fr. Thomas A. McDonald, now a major in the Chaplain Corps, United States Air Force. Fr. Tom, stationed at Base Chapel 3137, Bitburg Air Base, Germany, plans to continue with the Air Force as his part in relieving the shortage of priests in the Armed Forces. He sends his blessings to all and will be happy to see any BC men who make it to Bitburg. Mail reaches him at 36 T.F.W., APO 132, N.Y., N.Y.

There has been a demoralizing dearth of domestic communications this trimester. Not only that, we haven't heard much from anyone lately. It was learned that J. William Bigones, Asst. Department Head of the Norwalk, Conn., school system's Secondary Language Arts Department is also in the introduction field. Not necessarily making them as a moonlighting master-of-ceremonies but rather writing them for soft-cover editions of English and American literary works such as The Mayor of Casterbridge and Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin offered by Airmont Publishing Co., New York. Larry Burkard has shifted his base of operations a bit farther down Route 128. He is now Supervisor, Contracts Administration, at Pennsylvania's Minute Man Program office in Waltham, all without visible damage to his golf game. Again we hit the jackpot in the automatic vending machine industry. Joe Doyle is Vice-President for Sales of Servomation of New England, the in-plant feeding specialists based in Medford. The DoYLES, who live in Newbury, have three children the oldest of whom, Patrick, is in the Holy Cross Fathers novitiate in Bennington, Vt.

Other growing and grown sons and daughters are much in evidence. Paul Needham's eldest, lieutenant junior grade Paul W., Jr., USCG logs lots of time aboard the Cutter "Vigilant," towing distressed vessels into New Bedford and Boston. Both Paul's older boys won the Catholic Youth Organization's Bill Mullen Award and, this past year, daughter Nancy was runner up for the same award. Tom McDavitt's daughter, Mary Michele, is a junior at the BC School of Education. Ed Wealer's daughter, Christine, a senior at the BC School of Nursing, was commissioned an ensign in the Navy Nurse Corps at recent ceremonies at The Heights. Television news viewers remarked Ed's bouncy bussing technique as he congratulated her for the cameras. Maurice Levy's daughter, Barbara, celebrated her Bar Mitzvah in December. Mo's boy, Rick, is attending the University of Massachusetts.

Suddenly, in Braintree, Andrew J. O'Brien . . . After lengthy illness, in Quincy, John T. Henderson. . . . Thus we lost two of our own, loyal classmates and faithful friends. Andy, Class President in 1962, was ever a steadfast worker for The Class and The College. One of his surviving six children, Kathleen, is an alumnae of the BC School of Nursing and Lieutenant Andrew J., Jr., USA, now at Fort Benning, Georgia, was graduated with the Class of 1965 (A&S). John Henderson, who came back to Boston a few years ago after a successful tour as trial attorney for several federal agencies in Washington, was another firm advocate for Alma Mater and for Thirty-Nine. He leaves three children. We shall continue to keep these classmates in our prayers and remember them particularly when we assemble again on Laetare Sunday, March 20. Requiescant in Pace.

Jack Hennessy has been appointed chairman of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants' committee on relations with bankers and other credit executives.

Jim McGuire, Vice President of Automatic Canteen Company of America, Chicago, was elected senior vice president of the National Automatic Merchandising Association. Jim and his wife, Audrey, have two children. They reside in Skokie, Ill.

'40 JAMES M. KEAN
15 Sanderson Place, Brighton

For your many Christmas cards and their thoughtful notes, thanks to so many of you. Particularly enjoyed the one from Father Frank Ford, if for no other reason than it contained news of a change of address for Frank. Presently stationed in South Korea as a member of the Chaplain Corps, Major Frank advises that he is being re-assigned to the states at the conclusion of his present tour. The new address is Chaplain (Major) Francis C. Ford, Hq., USA Air Defense Center, Chaplain Section, Fort Bliss, Texas.

Also winding up successful administrations, but not moving on, are Joe McPherson and Father John Banks. Joe recently concluded a very successful term as Archdiocesan President of the Holy Name Society. Father John brought to a close a notable stewardship as President of Al-Hikma University, Baghdad, Iraq.

Speaking of winding up, I wonder who would up with Henry McMahon's silk topper on Commencement day. Don't know the particulars, but do know that the hat was still missing at last reports.

Our own little Homecoming Day, November 13 saw a good representation from the class at the ball game and the festivities on the campus following the game. Seen in the stands or later at Cushing Hall were Jim Supple, Elmore Campbell, Gerry Sullivan, Charlie Green, Bill Gilligan, Bud Glennon, Dick Wright, John Dalton, Father John Dacey, Henry Desmond, John McLaughlin, Father Joe Shea, Jack O'Hara, Bill Joy, Ed Nagle and Bill McGlone, both in from New York, Jack McCarthy from Rhode Island, your reporter, and Harry White among others. Tom Cudmore outdid himself hosting the affair.

The location is still the same, but the job title has been changed for Bill McGlone. Formerly with the New York State Capital City Commission, Bill is now associated with the Poverty Program as state director with headquarters in Albany.

Couldn't make it, but I understand from those who were there that the retreat over the weekend of December 10 was a big spiritual and social success. Halo fitting was supervised by Dave Lucey.

Congratulations are in order for Henry Desmond for the appearance of so many of the class at the Harvest Victory Festival Dance the night before the Cross game. Henry was in charge of the ticket distribution. A quick glance at '40's tables and you thought you were at a medical convention. Bless the Medics for their loyalty. I'm including Desmond and Harry White in the group with the doctors because I've seen them operate.

Numbered among the proud fathers attending the annual St. Nicholas Cotillion at the Boston Sheraton Plaza during the Christmas holidays was Dorchester Jim Ryder. Jim's daughter, Janie, was one of the group of girls presented to His Eminence Cardinal Cushing. Janie is a student at Calvin Coolidge. Marked the second time for the Ryders, Mary and Jim, since older daughter Ellen was presented in 1962. Button busting father is Director of Security, Department of Navy, the Fargo Building in Boston.

Next function on the class calendar for the local gentry is the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast here at the college on March 20. Jim Doonan and Tom Duffey will be in touch with you. If you haven't attended one of these affairs you have been short changing yourself. Better mark the date in your book. There will be a fill-in on particulars shortly.

Still in the look-ahead date department, that Wannoo week-end in May looms bigger and bigger. Have you made your reservation yet? The dates again are May 27 through 30. It's a long week-end with the holiday falling on Monday. Tom Cudmore is handling all the arrangements and will be glad to help you with any of your problems. Write him or call him at the Development Office. But do it soon.

Please remember in your prayers the fathers of John Mulligan and Father Joe Shea, both of whom passed to their eternal reward since our last issue.

After assignments at Shadowbrook, Weston, and Fairfield University, Father Pat Molloy is now on the campus here at the Heights. Father is with the Ethics department. Still the rabid sports fan, he seldom misses any of the events on campus.

The St. Onges, Dick and Ruth, are living in Needham. Dick, at last reports was with Brown-Wales Company in its sales division.

Bob McGovern is among the top echelon of the Boston Redevelopment Authority. Bob, wife Charlotte, and four youngsters reside in nearby Jamaica Plain.

Names at random. Where are they? Tom Gill, Hugh Hayes, Rolie Kearns, Joe Keough, Walter Kupris, Jack Lavery, Frank X. Malloy, Mark Norton, Joe Regan, Charlie Tooley, George O'Brien, Bill Brinkert, Leo Brogan, Paul Carosi, Jim Russell, Sid Bogen, Leo Carthy, and Phil Garrity to mention a few.

Lieut. Col. Ed Gruskowski became the Assistant Chief of Staff, at Fort Devens. Ed and his wife reside at 130 King Street, Littleton, Mass. They have six children.

'41 HENRY J. SHEEHAN
6 Crescent Ave., Newton Centre

The Class is saddened by the recent death of John Ambrogne, and extends its sympathy to his wife and four children. Unfortunately, the Class was not represented at the funeral due to a lack of notice. John was buried on the day before Christmas. Requiescant in pace.

Kicking off what appears to be a fantastically successful 25th Anniversary year, 82 members of the Class turned out for a stag dinner the night of October 11th at Alumni Hall. Nick Sottile was chairman of the affair, and everyone's hat is off to Nick and his capable staff for providing such an entertaining and hilarious evening. Among the various kudos awarded: Bob Rados, head of the Tiros weather satellite project, for having traveled the furthest (Washington, D.C.); Len Frisoli, for having the most children (eight); Al Cecere for having the most grandchildren and for making the longest speech; and Fr. John Connor, for having gained the most weight since graduation.

We also learned that '41 has more monsignori in its ranks than any other silver anniversary class has had. This distinguished group consists of Msgrs. George Kerr, Tom Finnegan, Joe Maguire, John Kinchla and John Broderick.

All were delighted to see Fr. Ed Cowhig, now a curate at St. Joseph's in Somerville. Father Ed, a chaplain in the paratroopers, made 207½ jumps during his period of service before his discharge in 1962. (He wouldn't explain the half jump.)

Bud Morrissey, after doing a stint in the Korean War, has settled in Bridgewater with his family of seven, and is currently Social Studies Director for Allyn & Bacon, textbook publishers.

Congratulations to Bill Brewin for his appointment as a Special Justice of the West-boro District Court.

Especially proud these days is Dr. George McManama since George, Jr., was named all-private school quarterback for his feats at Belmont Hill this past season.

Tom Galligan, Boston Edison Vice-President, has two sons at the Heights, one in Pre-Med and the other a freshman.

Father of five, Jim Kiely, is Chairman of the English Department at Bentley. Jim resides in Hingham.

Among the old familiar faces appearing at our recent gathering were those of Fr. John O'Connor, now at Sacred Heart in Weymouth and having a house in South Harwich, and Jim Walsh, one of the class' few eligibles, who is with General Services Administration in town.

Present also was a good turnout from the FBI, among whom were Jack Kehoe, Len Frisoli, George Hanlon, Jack McGillicuddy, Jack Callahan and Mike McDonagh. It's hard to believe this youthful-looking group will be eligible for retirement in the not too distant future.

Big John Yauckes, Personnel Supervisor for the telephone company and father of four, has a son, B.C. '64, now attending the Graduate School, and another a sophomore at U. of Mass.

The Class owes a debt of gratitude to Paul True for doing all of its printing gratis and for rounding up a large crowd to attend with their wives the annual champagne dinner dance on the eve of the Cross game.

John Cullen, father of five pretty daughters, is doing Real Estate appraising out of 73 Tremont St. Teaching and coaching baseball and football at Wellesley is George Kerivan, also with a son at B.C.

Another proud father of a fine family is Tom McDonald. Tom has been with the National Labor Relations Board for a good many years. Bill Maguire holds the post of Administrative Assistant at Raytheon. Dave White is with the law firm of Zamparelli & White in Medford.

Jack Brady informs us that he is chief workmen's compensation examiner of American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., and is living in Reading. Also active in the insurance field is Bill Hannon, manager of John Hancock's Worcester office. Bill's son is a senior at Rutgers and he has a girl at Worcester State.

Nice to hear from Gerry Mahoney, who tells us that he is Sales Manager of the frozen foods division of Mitchell Webster & Associates in St. Louis, and is working hard bringing up five boys and three girls.

Al Cecere, who would've been at the Stag Dinner, is President of World Educators, Inc., publisher of reference books and textbooks, based in Arlington, employing 150 salesmen.

Fran Bellew is now with Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics, and a Captain in the Naval Reserve, living in Mystic, Connecticut.

Having retired as a Colonel from the Air Force, Sam Galzerano is now working with the Minuteman Program on re-entry vehicles at AVCO in Wilmington. Sam has four children.

1941 is well represented among the B.C. Faculty. Bob Cahill is a Professor of German. Joe McCafferty, father of four, is Assistant Professor of English. Fr. Tom Grey is Professor of American History.

Bob Sliney, father of five, is one of the veteran telephone company employees, now with its finance section.

Another eligible member of the Class is Paul Jennings who has just completed his eighteenth year of faithful service with Dun & Bradstreet.

Disguising among legal circles in Massachusetts is Emil Slizewski, having passed his twentieth year at the Law School as a faculty member.

Frank Daley is with Pistorino & Co. in Boston. Frank has two girls, one School of Education '63, and now with the Peace Corps in Ethiopia, and another a junior at Wellesley.

The father of four, Joe Harrington is the Chief of the Computer Program at Converse Rubber Co.

Among the eminent members of the Clergy of '41 are Fr. Vin Jakul, Director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau in Lowell, and Fr. Tom Connell, stationed at St. Margaret's Dorchester, who was chiefly instrumental in raising funds for the Bellflower St. fire disaster relief.

Jim Rodenbush tendered his regrets that he was unable to be with us. Jim, Eastern Area Sales Manager for Devoe & Reynolds Co. in Greenwich, Conn., writes, "No smarter now than 25 years ago but much more thin and handsome."

One of the interesting communications received is from Al Nyren, now assigned to the State Department as Economic Advisor dealing with fourteen African countries. Al recently spent five years with the U.S. Embassy in Rome. His eight children have been born in such places as La Paz, Bolivia; Belize, British Honduras; Barbados, B.W.I.; Brussels, Rome; and Natick, Mass.

Jack Daly has been a world traveler with Stone & Webster for some 25 years, thus celebrating a dual silver anniversary with the Class of '41.

With a daughter a sophomore at Marquette, a son a freshman at B.C. High, and three boys in grade school, Herb Arnold is a senior patent attorney at Raytheon.

Tom Donelin is an attorney for the New

NEWMAN PREPARATORY SCHOOL

COMPLETE COLLEGE
PREPARATORY HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM

Coeducational
Days — Evenings

Sessions begin September,
January and June

Founded By
DR. J. HARRY LYNCH '40
1918 - 1963

DR. JOHN E. COLLINS '25
Headmaster

G. T. BARRESI '44
Assistant Headmaster

JOHN J. COLAHAN '41
President, Board of Trustees

245 Marlboro Street
Boston 16, Massachusetts CO 7-4330

England Electric System.

Had Bernie Frazier been at our October meeting, he would have walked away with the prize for the largest family. There are nine little Fraziers, the oldest a girl at Sacred Heart University, Bridgeport, Conn.

Unfortunately we were deprived of the presence of Al Cinotti, who was stricken with an ailment which kept him home in New York.

One of 1941's greatest students, Dr. Bernie Robinson, is Chief of Staff of the V.A. Hospital at West Haven, Conn.

Nick Sottile has passed on to your correspondent a letter from John Nuttall expressing his regret at missing the current celebrations. John is Director of International Programs, University of Illinois.

Also unable to attend was Arthur Parker, now a dentist in Brooklyn, New York.

Added to our list of pedagogues are Everett Good, teaching at South Boston High, and Frank Galvani, at Framingham South High School.

Another of our prominent clergy is Fr. Henry M. Tracy, principal of Notre Dame High School, Trenton, North Carolina.

Will Saulnier, father of two, active in the Civil Rights movement, is employed by Raytheon.

One of the most active members of the Class, Ed Burke, who was secretary-treasurer of the stag dinner committee, is teaching in the Waltham public schools.

Living in Short Hills, New Jersey, is Mike Salamone, Doctor of Pediatrics at Staten Island, New York.

Col. Bob Long is currently assigned as Commander, Cambridge Air Force Research Laboratories.

Fr. Al Cussen, a member of the Holy Cross Order, is Dean of Stone Hill College.

The Alumni

'42

FRED M. SLINEY, CBA
52 School Street, Arlington

PAUL J. MAGUIRE, A&S
52 Buckingham Rd., Milton

Sitting here trying to think what might be interesting or what information we could pass on, all that comes to mind is, "Remember When!"

Remember when we were first together at 126 Newbury Street—Fred Murphy smoking a cigar already looked like a successful business man. Dick Grainger, Ed McGrath, Frank Murphy, John O'Connor, Charles Savage, and Tim X. Sullivan grouped together talking of events at Boston Latin, Jim O'Connor, Bob Hughes and John Butler talking about sports at Malden Catholic. Another group of B.C. Highers, Fred Keefe, Walter Deveney, Bob Dunn, Ed Browne, Tom Clark, John Fox, Ed McCormack, Tom McDonald, John Glennon and Walter Fitzgerald being quite vociferous about their school.

Even more blatant was Jim Cronin, John J. Brennan, John L. Sullivan, Bill Dyan and John McMahon boasting about their sport teams from the Cambridge Area.

Remember a trip to the library was not for a book but rather to talk to the new young librarian. Remember Tim X. Sullivan was the first "beatle" for Fr. Stephen Shea. How much everyone enjoyed John Madden's three minute talk on Mary, Mother of God.

Remember Mr. Bruck's economics classes and lectures by Fr. T. F. X. Murphy. John J. Drummey was a father to all of us and, of course, Fr. Kelley will be remembered in our hearts and prayers forever.

Condolences of the class are extended to Bob Maher, whose mother died after a long illness on January 1.

The Commanding Officer of the attack Transport USS Bayfield, Capt. John Larrabino, USN has received orders to duty as the new skipper of the USS Oriskany, an attack carrier.

Jim O'Neill has been named Deputy Director, European Group, Ford Motor Company. Jim and his wife have four children. Austin McNamara has been elected Vice-President of Howard Johnson's Inc. of Washington, D.C.

The condolences of the class are extended to the family of Bernie Hogan who passed away in mid-December after a long illness.

The Harvest Festival Holy Cross dance brought out Jim and Joe Stanton, Bucky Harris, Fran Doherty, Tom Lane, Frank Colpoys, Terry Geoghegan, Dick Ferriter and your editor.

Nice to see Steve Levantits, Butch Kissell, Terry Geoghegan, Bull Dempsey and Al Pasiuk at the buffet for the Sugar Bowlers after the Richmond game.

Met Ted Mulvehill and his lovely wife shopping for Christmas toys. Ted has set up an insurance office in Norwood.

Congratulations to Dick Ferriter who in addition to his duties as attorney is now Executive Representative for the N.Y. Central System.

Received a card from Jim O'Neil in Michigan who earnestly hopes to get back for some of the 25th functions.

Tom Lane in addition to his duties with Boston Edison, is a Charter President of the Toastmaster Club and has been elected to the School Committee in Canton.

'43

THOMAS O'C. MURRAY, CBA
14 Churchill Rd., West Roxbury

JOHN LARNER, A&S
53 Aberdeen Road, Quincy

The 8th annual '43 dance in November was as usual a great social success, and we were pleased to see many "new" faces for the first time in ages. It was good to see George Bray, the proud father of his first girl, Ann Marie, after a family of 6 boys. George is teaching at the Ellis school in Boston. . . . Down from Lawrence came Ed Lanigan and John Kane, and the foreign car king Vin Forte was boasting about the birth of his fourth son. . . . The mystery of the evening: how did Al Siskus manage to walk off with 2 door prizes? . . . Our man from Rhode Island, Jim Nowlan has usually taken the big prize. . . . Speaking of prizes, Jim (Waltham) Connolly should get a special award for his exuberance and dancing ability. . . . Newspaper publicity from Springfield indicates that Bob Crowley has a problem: his two sons are both football stars, but at different schools, which certainly must keep the household alert. Bob is group controller for Sears Roebuck. . . . The U.S. Navy has nominated Ed Lambert as a Captain in the Naval Reserve. Ed has resigned from the coaching field and is Director of Guidance at Dorchester High School. . . . Good news: George Criss is reported recovering rapidly from a recent heart attack at his Westwood home. . . . Late this past Fall, the Boston Globe announced the appointment of Joe Dinneen as Managing Editor, Evening Globe. Joe was one of the prime movers behind the Globe's participation in the Varsity Club dinner, held on January 6 at the Sheraton Boston, honoring the '65 squad and the famed Sugar Bowl team. . . . The condolences of the Class are extended to Msgr. John Harney, headmaster of St. Sebastian's School on the death of his mother in September. . . . Dick Carey is the Principal of the Lunenburg, Mass. Junior-Senior High School. . . . Now with the Department of Defense in Washington, Joe Turke dropped by the Heights in November to say hello. . . . If we've missed any, please let us know, but here's the latest known listing of '43 sons now at the Heights: Wally Boudreau (Walter, Jr., '69 CBA); Andy Carnegie (Andrew, Jr., '66 CBA); Sam Church (Tom, '68 CBA); John McNaught (John, Jr. '67 CBA); Tom Murray (Richard, '68 CBA); Joe Finnegan (Lawrence, '68 A&S); and Ed McGilvery has daughter Judy in the School of Education, '68. . . . Up at Regis, Steve Darcy's daughter, Cathy, is a freshman. . . . Bernie Henken, one of CBA's old standouts at Newbury St. is now a famed speech pathologist and during the summer served as a consultant at Duke University Medical Center as well as lecturing at the University of North Carolina. . . . In the education field, Bill (P.) McGrath is Supervisor of Physical Restoration Services for the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission and teaches civic education in the Brockton schools. . . . The Lummus Company of New York has recently named Ed O'Sullivan as its Middle East representative with headquarters in Beirut, Lebanon. Ed has been on foreign soil now for nearly ten years, and just prior to his new post, had been President of Intertrade Associates, a company involved in foreign market development. . . . Addenda to '43 juniors at the Heights: Andy Carnegie's daughter who is a frosh in the School of Ed, and a member of the rifle team. . . . Harold Mollahan has been elected Chairman of the Somerville School Committee for 1966. . . . Over at Harvard we find that Tom Antico is teaching a course in Spanish. . . . Recent articles in the Boston Globe indicate that Ernie Santuosso is still doing "Platter Chatter", with his column on the latest in jazz, folk music, and pardon the expression, rock and roll. . . . Among the '43 members of the Sugar Bowl team honored at the Sheraton Boston in January were Fred Naumetz, Wally Boudreau, Mike Holovak, Mickey Connolly, Al Fiorentino, Rocco Canale, Joe Repko, Charlie Toole and Manager Harry Lukachick.

Don't forget: YOUR '43 dues for 1965-66 are now payable. Your check ($5.00), payable to "B.C. Class of '43" should be sent to Tom Murray. We are looking forward to a real big 25th year celebration in just two short years from now!

'44

CHRISTOPHER J. FLYNN, JR.
CBA, 18 Whitten St., Dorchester

Some notes of interest for those who may not see the Boston papers: Paul M. Cuenin has been named vice-president of Gillette with responsibilities for all Gillette activities worldwide in the hospital and surgical products field. Recently Paul had been managing director of Gillette Surgical (U.K.) in London and now returns to Boston. Congratulations Paul.

Jim Dowd has been named administrator of the Boston regional office of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Jim had been assistant regional manager to date.

We extend our sympathies to Joe Galway whose mother died in October and Bill Corkery who lost his dad this fall.

Incidentally, Joe is attached to Kansas City Weather Bureau with considerable responsibility over the Mississippi valley area.

Bob Sullivan, now national sales manager for Elgin National Watch company has a son, Bob, Jr. in the class of '69 at CBA.

On the social side, the Harvest Ball was again a great success. Among those present were Bill Daley, Mike Gargin, Ed Thomas, Tino Spatola, Ed O'Keefe, Chris Flynn, John O'Kane, Jim Kiley, Joe Gaudreau, Marty Coleman and Ed Flynn.

How about dropping us a line to let us know what you are doing these days.

'45

JOHN V. CURRY, CBA
11 Stevens Terrace, Arlington

JACOB SANTAMARIA, A&S
153 Madison Street, Dedham

Dave and Eve Carey are keeping our class young with the announcement of a baby girl born 10/22/65 whom they have named Caroline. This is their fifth and they reside in Westport, Conn. . . . The class wishes to extend its sympathy to Bill O'Sullivan and his family on the death of his brother, Daniel, who went to B.C. also. . . . I received a note from John Campbell last summer telling me he had opened up a bank account for the class of '45 with the unexpected proceeds from the anniversary dinner dance we ran last spring. We intend to have a meeting of our class committee soon and set up tentatime plans for the next five years leading up to our 25th anniversary. We also intend in the near future to act on a suggestion of Paul Pagets to issue a class directory with brief biographical sketches of classmates. . . . John Campbell was recently named an officer and director of a newly chartered Cambridge Bank to be located in area of space center. . . . We had an excellent turnout again this year at the B.C.-Holy Cross dinner dance — our class had four tables. Eve and Joe Herbert along with the Bill Curleys from Needham joined the group this year. . . . Fred and Ann Leonard live in Wellesley. They went west (from Belmont). They have two active boys, Fred C. 3rd and John B. Fred left B.C. to join the Marines at Darthmouth and subsequently the Marine 1st Division. He is now a buyer for the Central Purchasing Service of the Archdiocese of Boston, having had many years experience in merchandising with McGraw Hill in Boston and Washington and also in more recent years with Grover Cronin Co. We enjoyed Fred's company at the Alumni golf outing where our class was well represented — in numbers that is — no winners. . . . Peter Loconto is now living at 19150 South St., Andrews Drive, Country Club of Miami, Florida. Peter was from Cambridge and I wish he would write to us and bring us up to date on facilities down there. . . . John and Lucy Losocco live in Wellesley and have six children — Lucy, Anne, Mary, Kathleen, Paula and John. John after serving as Supply Officer in the Navy returned to Harvard Business School for his MBA. John is a partner of Robert A. Weaver, Jr. Associates of 53 State St., Boston professional business managers. . . . Bernard Loughran went on to an LLB at Harvard Law School. He practices in Belmont and specializes in Workmen's Compensation law. He and Marion are surrounded by James, Edward, Marcia, Bernard and Paul. . . . Jim Luby went from Army to B.C. Law and still resides in Framingham where he is a past President of the Chamber of Commerce, former member of the Board of Public Works, etc. The Luby children are named Christine, Maureen, Nancy, Mary Beth, James and Kevin. . . . Jack and Mary Lou McCarthy and their lucky "seven" live in Newton. Jack has been with Boston Edison for 18 years and currently is superintendent of the General Accounting and Data Processing Dept. (guess we can't blame Jack for lights going out). Jack was Navy Officer and is also a graduate of the Harvard Business School Advanced Management program. . . . Tom McEntee who was our Class Treasurer, obtained his D.M.D. from Tufts and has his home and dental office in Westwood. He and Jean have two girls. Tom served in the Navy in WWII and Army in the Korean War. He must be mad at the Marines. . . . Tom McManus, a B.C. Higher, lives in Norwood and is a former Selectman of that town. He and Mary have three children. Tom is practicing law. . . . Fr. John Mahoney has been a member of the St. Sebastian faculty for a number of years, having received his M.Ed. from B.C. Grad. School. . . . Rev. Walter J. Martin, S.J., who was ordained in 1955, is presently Director of the School of St. Philip Neri for Delayed Vocations at B.C. intown Center on Newbury St. . . . Father James Scally is at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston — another member of the 1948 Ordination Class so which our class made a substantial contribution. . . . Eugene and Patricia McSweeney live in Stoneham. Eugene is with Arthur D. Little Co., Inc., Cambridge, where he works in Biological Research. He went into the Navy from B.C. and attended Brown and Cornell before receiving his commission. Eugene is a past National Officer of the Reserve Officers Association and holds a reserve Commander Commission in the Navy. . . . Fr. Pat Kelly spent two weeks last summer with the Atlantic Destroyer Fleet at Newport. Fr. Pat, a Lieut.-Commander in the Naval Chaplain Corps, served seven years at various Naval Stations, Airfields and with Amphibious Group in the Far East before returning to parish work last year. He is stationed at St. Mary's, Danvers, at the present time. . . . John Mulvihill, a Needhamite, is an Attorney and Counsel for Army Natick Labs in Natick. Catherine and he have a son, John. John served in WWII as a Navy Officer and also was on active duty during the Korean War. . . . Bob and Miriam Owens live in Newton with their six children. Bob, an attorney, is a partner in the firm of Gadsby, Hannah, Colson and Morin of 19 Congress St., Boston. . . . Dr. Vin Pattivina and Frances live in Braintree. From B.C. the doctor went to Brown and later received his M.D. from Syracuse Univ. He is a reserve Navy Lieut. Commander. As well as having a general practice in Braintree, Vin is also owner of a Nursing home in that city. Vincent, the year book said, "was hard working, student extraordinary, a member of honors course." . . . Charlie Phillips came up from Glastonbury, Conn., with Betty for our 20th anniversary celebration. They have two children, Beth and Tony. Charlie is local Manager of Radio Shack Corp. in Hartford, Conn. . . . The Tom Quinns live with their three children in Scituate. Tom, a B.U. law man, specializes in Insurance Law. . . . Tom and Mary Louise Seaver have seven children and live in Milford where Tom is active in a family trucking firm — Seavers Express, Inc. Tom was a Supply Officer in WWII and went from B.C. to Holy Cross prior to receiving his Commission. Tom is also a member of the Mass. Bar Association. . . . Lou and Lillian Sorgi have been back in their hometown of Milton for a few years now and Lou is Manager of Boston Sales Division of E. R. Squibb and Sons. They have five children, Lou Jr. (the third), Virginia, Joan, Paul and John. Lou went into the Navy and to Brown University prior to receiving his commission. He served in WWII. When not working for Squibb or taking trips to Europe, Lou, as well as being active in B.C. Alumni affairs, also serves as President of the Milton American Little League, himself, a great baseball player. . . . Gus and Pauline Turnbull have eight children. Gus has his legal office at 10 Tremont St., Boston and lives in Jamaica Plain. . . . John Walsh and Katherine have seven children and live in West Roxbury. John teaches in Quincy.

'49 JOHN T. PRINCE, A&S
64 Donnybrook Road, Brighton

WALTER J. MCGAULEY, CBA
47 Beverly Rd., Newton Highlands

Joe Gillis Jr. and Danny Gillis, sons of Dr. Joseph Gillis spent a fortnight at Hockey School in Toronto, Canada, this summer

Your Wedding Reception

"Music Makes The Day"

Jimmy McHale

AND HIS ORCHESTRA

Featured 12 years at the Hotel Vendome

Playing for Reunions,
Dinner-Dances, Parties

KE 6-6020

while their dad and sons, Michael and Brian, explored the Canadian farms and lakes near Toronto. Joe is also President of the Father's Club of Jean d'Arc Academy, Milton, this year. It is fine to see Dr. Joe and his dad, Fred Gillis (B.C. 1916), former Superintendent of the Boston Schools, rooting for their Alma Mater at the football games.

Our Class President, Jim McEttrick, showed his true leadership by representing us at the Miami game this fall. Jim and Betty recommend highly this type of life.

The Annual Victory Ball the night before the Holy Cross game, held at McElroy Commons, was a huge success. Some of those in attendance were the Harneys, the Rogersons, the Butlers, the Bradleys, the McEttricks, the Waites, the Aables, and the Holts (on from Poughkeepsie for the Thanksgiving weekend.)

John Bradley and Bill Butler with their respective wives looked very relaxed talking it on the Parade Grounds at West Point during the football weekend.

John Holt, who is teaching at Poughkeepsie, was host to John Prince and his two sons, John and Jim, during the West Point weekend.

Howie Spence has been hospitalized at the Veterans' Hospital in Jamaica Plain. We hope that his recovery will be rapid and complete.

Our most sincere condolences are extended to Bill Hart on the recent death of his wife, Catherine.

'50 DANTE S. DeFAZIO, A&S
9 Indian Spring Road, Ashland

PAUL C. FAY, CBA
1031 High Street, Dedham

Edward F. Callahan, Ph.D., was named Chairman of the English Department at Holy Cross.

Jack Hirschson has been appointed to the post of General Manager of the Philadelphia Division of the International Resistance Company. Jack and his wife, Lilian, have four children. They reside in Ivyland, Northampton Township, Bucks County, Penn.

Jack Fitzgerald is a Senior Development Engineer with Minneapolis Honeywell.

Jack McCarthy was appointed Assistant Comptroller for New England Telephone.

The Alumni

Jack and his wife, Mildred, have two children. . . . Dick Hosmer has been promoted to artificial Organs Specialist for the Travelon division of Baxter Laboratories, Inc. Dick, his wife and children reside in Georgetown, Mass. . . . Jim Cleary was named 1966 Cancer Crusade Chairman for Massachusetts. Jim will head an army of nearly 100,000 volunteers in Mass. who during the April Crusade will distribute cancer educational material and seek support of the American Cancer Society's programs of research, education and service. . . . Jim O'Neil has been unanimously elected a member of the Administrative Management Society by the Board of Directors of the Boston Chapter. Jim is Information Services and Security Manager of Edgerton, Germeshausen & Grier, Inc. in Bedford. . . . Peter Garvin has been given added sales responsibilities for the New England Telephone Company. Pete is divisional sales manager in charge of data.

'51 FREDERICK J. MAURIELLO,
A&S, Box 357, R.F.D. #4
Saugerties, N.Y.

JOHN A. CASEY, CBA
35 Aran Road, Westwood

JAMES WATERS, A&S
61 Stearns St., Newton Centre

Frank Sanning is living in Shrewsbury, Mass. and is selling for the Butterfield Division of the UTD Corp. — a manufacturer of cutting tools. Frank has two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth.

Gill Dempsey is with the First National Bank of Boston and living in Franklin, Mass. Al Freedman's wife, Marilyn, presented him with a baby boy — their first child. Congratulations Marilyn and Al.

I ran into Tom Donahue and Dick Goggin at Bill Renchan's Christmas party. Tom corresponds with John Clancy who is with Redlie Printing Co. and living in San Pedro, California.

Joe Petrocelli was married in November to Roberta Marie Berrane, (Ed. '59) at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Jamaica Plain. . . . Bill Pfau was promoted to manager of production control at America Bosch Division, American Bosch Arms Corporation. Bill, his wife and children reside in Agawam. . . . Jim Mitchell has been promoted to Trust Officer at the State Street Bank and Trust Company, Boston. . . . John Giuglio was named Assistant Business Manager of the Boston Globe. . . . Jim O'Neil has been promoted to manager of the primary systems department, programming systems division, at Honeywell's electronic data processing division. . . . Paul McNamara was appointed Comptroller of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Paul and his family reside in Lexington.

We had a nice meeting on October 6th at Alumni Hall to make initial plans for our coming fifteenth anniversary celebration during the year 1966. A number of worthy ideas were propounded by those present, all of which will center mostly around Alumni Week and in conjunction with other Anniversary Classes. At the meeting were also this year's Chairman of Alumni Week, Jim Stanton, and interested parties from other Classes. Among the old stand-bys from our Class at the meeting were bachelor Al Suther- land, a 1963 graduate of the Law School now practicing with Spencer & Stone, 50 Beacon Street, Boston; Jim (Take-me-to-your-leader) Derba, our "take-charge" guy; John Venti, now Financial Staff Supervisor of Special Service Rates for New England Telephone and Telegraph, located at their Congress Street Office. John is living in Dedham with his wife and four children, (2 girls and 2 boys).

Also present were Bob Farrell, another brother-attorney with Parker, Coulter & Daly. Bob graduated from B.C. Law in 1954. Oddly enough we bumped into Bob in Rindge, New Hampshire while we were on vacation last year. Bob now has six children. . . . Joe Canney (whose knees dig into me) at the McHugh Forum Hockey Games; Ed White, Leo Wesner and Jack Richards — none of whom are strangers to this column.

Arthur Silk, now General Traffic & Transportation Manager for Stop & Shop Stores (Arthur also has six children — 4 boys and 2 girls and is living in Waltham). He is still a member of the Navy Reserve Supply Corps. with eight years to go for retirement. Also at the meeting was Dr. Tom Durant of 533 Washington St., Dorchester, who is specializing in Obstetrics and Gynecology on the staffs of St. Margaret's, University, Boston City and Carney Hospitals. Tom also teaches medicine at Boston University and Tufts and is getting his Master's Degree in Public Health at Harvard. Tom has three sons — the eldest of whom is 12 years old. Tom is one of Boston's up-and-coming, forthright doctors who is not afraid to speak his piece on matters relating to hospital practices and administration.

And last but not least, Attorney Moe Downey, who you will recall was our SUB TURRI Editor, who is practicing in New Bedford.

Plan Year Book

Moe Downey is planning to publish a Fifteenth Anniversary Year Book for the edification of all hands — which when printed, may obviate the necessity for this column. In any event, most of you have received Class of '51 Data Sheets, requesting the usual information. Kindly return them as soon as possible as they are essential for the Year Book and other anniversary plans.

Golf and Hockey

Ed White and Jim Waters are planning to conduct an Inter-Class Golf tournament in conjunction with the now famous Annual Tournament which is usually held at Wollaston Golf Club, with net and gross prizes, etc., and Leo Wesner, Bob Farrell and Tom Durant are Co-Chairmen of a Hockey Night which is to be held at McHugh Forum — vs. the Kaydets from Army, on Saturday evening the 19th of February. The game is to be preceded by (Soft) drinks and Dinner at Alumni Hall. Two hundred tickets will be made available at a cost of approximately $7.50, which includes the buffet and cocktails and the ticket for the game. There is a deadline, so keep posted for details.

Class Dues

Many of these activities are to be financed by Class dues. Has everyone received a Dues Letter? The dues are $2.00 and should be sent to Dick White at 21 Highgate Road, Wayland, Mass.

Second Meeting

We had another meeting on December

9th, over which "Take-Charge" Derba presided. This was attended by most of the above, and in addition we were joined by Ed Quirk and Joe Shea (who still looks the same and is living in Wayland with his wife and four children). John is in his fifteenth year with Atkinson Shoe, if I am not mistaken. He informed me that John Skehan, formerly of Brighton, is now living in Burlington with wife Marjorie and they have a baby boy. John is with H. B. Smith, manufacturers of industrial boilers as Sales Engineer. . . . He also told me that John Parla from Auburn-dale is now an Engineer working in Germany, and that Bob MacDonald is with the Treasury Department and living in Arlington.

Class Information Sheets

Among those heard from at the time of our second meeting were John J. McGowan, formerly of Dorchester, now living at Brantwood Rd., Norwell. John is married, has four children and is Manager of Central Accounting for Eastern Gas & Fuel Association; also from John J. McCauley, formerly of Peabody, who is now residing in Danvers with his wife and daughter, Maureen. John is Manager of Purchasing for General Electric Small Air-Craft Engine Dept. and has been with that company since 1951.

New Mayor

Congratulations and Best Wishes to old friend, Attorney Irving Kane who assumed his new duties as Mayor of the City of Lynn. Irving has been First Assistant Register of Probate in Essex County and in assuming his new duties, follows in the footsteps of another of our Classmates, Genial Tom Costin, a former Mayor of Lynn and now U.S. Postmaster in that city.

'52 WILLIAM J. FANDEL, A&S
218 Lowell Street, Reading

JAMES F. MULROONEY, CBA
19 Ansonia Road, West Roxbury 32

Joe O'Loughlin, a District Manager for Connecticut General Life Insurance in Bedford, N.H. has six children now; says he is "working hard and getting grey hair." Joe tells me John Berrigan is an attorney in Nashua, N.H. with firm of McLaughlin and Berrigan.

Arthur Farley, who "Finally got to a meeting" is with Metropolitan Life, has three children and lives in Chelmsford.

George T. Burke, working in management service, has a new address: 69 Henderson Street, in Needham. . . . Hugh Donoghue, who lives in Cheverly, Md., is President of Datatrol Corp., in Rockville, Md. . . . Charles Crowley, living in Mattapoisett, has five children; is with Francis Assoc. Engineering in Marion. . . . Jim Brooks of North Reading has three children and is a Sales Representative for Inertol Co. . . . James Callahan is President of CIM Agency, an employment agency in Boston, and lives in Swampscott.

. . . John Forry is a Vice-President of D&F Sales Co. electrical supplies. He is living in Holbrook and has four children.

Recently in the news was James T. McMahon, who has just completed two years in Formosa as executive officer of the Agency for International Development. In that position, he was responsible for the administration of part of the U.S. foreign aid program. Jim will now move with his wife and three children to the Philippines, where he will assume a similar post. Raytheon has named John J. Ricketts the new Assistant Manager of corporate and government advertising. . . . Lex and Ann Blood were blessed for the sixth time recently and proudly announce the arrival of their third daughter, Patricia Ellen, who joins their three boys and two girls at their happy home in Milton. . . . Jim Doyle and wife, Lois and their four children are now living at 604 Walnut Street, Newton, after about eight years in New York and New Jersey. Jim is with Eastman Dillon.

We have received a note from Paul Ducette, who is employed by American Gyroid Co.'s Bloomingdale Dept. at Havre de Grace, Maryland, as a Development Chemist, working on structural adhesives for the aircraft industry. Paul's new address is 317 E. Belcrest Road, Bel Air, Md., 21014.

Going directly to the source of supply for their new Mercedes were Bill and Lucita Heavey who have just returned from a very pleasant three month sojourn in Germany, Austria and Holland. That car is really beautiful, Bill!

The biennial dinner in October, at which Charlie Sherman was installed as Board Chairman was a most successful affair, and we wish to thank Ed Englert, Tom McGowan and Ed McIntire for their work on drawing up the By-Laws.

G. R. (Bob) Kincade has moved to California. His new address is 22412 Sylvan Street, Woodland Hills, Calif. I saw Bob at West Point before his move. . . . Also at the Army game was Bud Torpey, who is with the I.B.M. and living in N.Y.C. . . . Tim O'Connell and wife Helen were married in May, honeymooned in Bermuda, and are living in N.Y.C. . . . John Kastberg is a marketing analyst for J.P. Stevens, and lives in Thornwood, N.Y. with his wife and four children.

John Moran is working as a personnel manager in Islip, L.I., N.Y. and also has four children. . . . Dick Fitzgerald is a flying captain for Eastern Airlines, has five children, and lives in Pearl River, N.Y. . . . Tom O'Toole is an assistant manager for Merrill Lynch. . . . From Brockton comes news of Ed Motta, working at the Veterans Hospital there, and also of Tom Defetos, who operates the Dairy Queen. . . . Bob O'Brien is married and living in New Jersey. . . . Dick Glancy is the father of three girls (One set of twins) and works for the Telephone Co. as assistant controller in the methods group. . . . Fr. Larry Murphy is at St. John's Seminary as spiritual director, and also does some part time teaching at Emmanuel. A new arrival kept George Campbell from making the trip to West Point. George is also to be congratulated on receiving his C.A.S. from Harvard last June. . . . Rev. Christian Malone, O.F.M. is now at the University of Georgia, Newman Centre, 1344 S. Lumpkin Street, Athens, Georgia. . . . Charlie Hanagin is now living at 2 Mooney Road, Burlington.

Bob and Elaine Dion are to be congratulated for a most successful Christmas Party at Alumni Hall. The committee provided an excellent buffet, Jim Mulrooney entertained as Santa Claus, and it was a wonderful opportunity for classmates and their wives from near and far to exchange Season Greetings. . . . Fr. Joe Carney is reported "still doing the high step to Humoresque" at St.

Joseph's in Holbrook. . . . Tony Gargano is an Asst. V.P. of the International Dept. of General Tire at Akron, Ohio. . . . Al Schmitz is a manufacturer's representative in Rochester, N.Y. and, at last count, has seven children. . . . Sumner Gorman is with Elmer Davis Associates, a management consulting firm in N.Y.C.

John Donovan, who attended the Biennial Dinner, and brought us up to date on some New York alumni, is a Vice-President of Roehlen Engraving Works, lives in Rochester, N.Y. and now has four children.

Congratulations to Milton Holzman who is now a lawyer, having recently passed the Bar Exam. . . . Frank O'Hearn recently became the father of twins, for a total of seven children, and is living in Waltham. . . . Tom O'Keefe, who is working for the Edison Co. has nine children. . . . The Fred Kelly's now have three children. Fred is a lawyer and also works for Johns-Manville. . . . Ed McIntire has one child and is living in Framingham. Ed is working in Life Insurance.

News that "the roofing business is coming out on top" comes from Bob Early who is a roofing contractor (Kavanaugh & Early) in Framingham and has three children. . . . Jack Grady is now the father of five girls; his last daughter was born in October, Barbara Jean Grady. Jack, in addition to being a Guidance Counselor at Salem High School is now a Major in the 26th Yankee Division, National Guard in Boston, as well as teaching in the Graduate School division of Salem State College. Jack and his wife live in Danvers. . . . Jack Ricketts has rejoined Raytheon Co. as assistant manager corporate and government advertising at the firm's corporate headquarters in Lexington, Mass. Jack and his wife, and their eight children reside at 16 Clifford Court, Hingham.

'53 PHILIP NATALE, Jr., A&S
69 Norland Street, Holliston

JOHN E. ERWIN, CBA
28 Wessagusset Rd., Weymouth

Leo Grace is an attorney and currently Secretary-Treasurer and a director of Union Federal Savings and Loan Association. . . . We received a note in from Bill Thatcher who writes about himself: "I started with the Maryland Casualty Co. as a claim adjuster in the Spring of 1956. In January of 1960 I started my own business, this one, as a sideline, largely consisting of pictures and investigations on civil cases for lawyers and insurance companies. It continued as a sideline, although growing steadily, until this Spring (1965) when the two professions inevitably clashed and I resigned from the insurance company to devote full time to my own business."

"This particular business is almost ultra-specialized and I find myself depending on virtually all my work to come from a relatively small segment of the population — attorneys and insurance claim employees."

Jim Low is now Vice President of the Wellington Fund. . . . Jerry Toomey named Vice President of General Discount Corp. . . . Joe O'Brien and wife, Ann (Nursing '56) are the proud parents of their fifth daughter. . . . Jack McAuliffe has been promoted to branch sales manager of the Dallas office of Honeywell's electronic data processing division. Jack, his wife, Grace, and their three children reside in Dallas. . . . Mike Doohan is General Manager of the Boise Cascade Company, folding box plant in Spokane, Washington. . . . Bob Sullivan, New England education manager in Boston for the International Business Machines Co., has been appointed IBM branch manager in this city. Bob and his wife have four children and reside in Longmeadow. . . . Salvatore Giglio has been appointed Instructor in Mathematics at Franklin Institute of Boston. . . . Gerald O'Grady was mentioned in America Magazine as leading Catholic Scholar at Rice University. He is teaching and doing research. The issue was by Father Gardner and is issue 9 or 16. . . . Frank O'Sullivan has been promoted to Systems Manager of Keydata Corp.

'54 GERALD F. COUGHLIN, CBA
77 Maryknoll Street, Mattapan

JOHN J. CURTIN, JR., A&S
49 Moulton Street
Newton Lower Falls, Mass.

JOAN T. KENNEDY, N
10 Bowdoin Park, Dorchester

Because of the outstanding efforts of the committee headed by Ed Zmijewski the class had an excellent turnout for the fall affair. We danced from eight to twelve and cocktails and hors d'oeuvres were plentiful. Because of the enthusiastic response to date we hope to have a suitable affair, perhaps a dinner dance, in the spring. As always, we are looking for classmates who are willing to serve on the general committee from which committees have been appointed to run our recent affairs. Anyone interested in serving on the committee should contact Jack Curtin.

Wedding bells are still ringing for some of our classmates. Mike Waldron was recently married to Jean McDonald Ryan. Mike is a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy and the couple plan to live in Wellesley Hills. Mrs. Waldron was previously married to the late Richard Ryan.

Ted Breau is back in Boston after moving from Springfield. Ted is an investment analyst with Burgess & Leith and is living in Needham with his wife and two children.

Another class leader in the world of finance is Dick Heneghan who is a registered representative of the First Investors Corporation. Dick recently moved to Burlington with his wife and four children. Besides his financial interests, Dick is a teacher in the Somerville school system.

We have a few notes from other teachers. Ed Doyle is teaching in the Boston school system as is Gerry Carey. Phil Grant has been an associate professor of history at St. John's University and has participated in the discussions concerning academic freedom at that institution.

Colin Lizotte, who is a judge in New Hampshire and a practicing attorney as well, has been recently presented with a second son by his wife, Peggy.

A new entrant to the Proud Papas Club is Al Poczek whose wife gave birth to a baby girl. The couple are living in New Bedford.

Frank Bonarrigo was recently presented with a fourth child, a boy, by his wife, Annette.

The Alumni

From the Nurses — the copy for the Fall issue of Alumni News, was obviously lost somewhere between this correspondent's home and B.C. So, some of this news will probably be new to olds.

Sally Harrington writes that she has completed her courses at B.U. Grad. School of Nursing; and, has again returned to Milton Hospital.

Marie Foisey Kurys and Ruth Dynan Sweeney have welcomed new additions to their families. The Sweeneys are now living in Danvers.

Rosemary Pink changed her name to Fecney in October.

Audrey Brady made a return trip to Hawaii this fall; and Kay Burke a return trip to Europe, as well as a New Year's visit to New Orleans and the Sugar Bowl.

In August, Beth Sullivan (Sr. Therese of the Child Jesus) took her final vows in the Carmelite Order. A delegation from the class was on hand to witness this impressive ceremony.

Bob Jasse has become President of Deering Milliken, one of the nation's largest textile companies. Bob will also serve as general manager of the firm. . . . Frank Gallivan has been promoted to Vice President and Trust Officer of the New Jersey Bank and Trust Company. Frank and his wife have three children. . . . Bob Hasenfus has been appointed Director of Driver Education for the State of Maine, with offices in the State Capitol at Augusta. He is now living at 30 Mayfair Street, Augusta. . . . Pierre Salmon has been promoted from instructor to assistant professor of accounting in the Department of Business at Monmouth College.

Pierre, his wife and two children live in Wall, N.J. . . . Bob Shea has been promoted to staff assistant at the Southern New England Telephone Company's marketing department in New Haven. He had been a communications consultant in Hartford. Bob and his wife have five children.

Bill Donahoe has been promoted to Assistant Controller at the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank. Bill, his wife and children reside in Edison, N.J.

'55 PHILIP DOHERTY, A&S
54 Walnut Street, Newton

MARIE J. KELLEHER, N
12 Tappen Street, Melrose

Walter Hasenfus, who received his Master's degree in 1964 and has been on the faculty of the University of Maine, has been appointed to the position of Assistant Professor of Education at Lyndonville State College in Vermont. . . . Gabrielle Martel has been appointed Director of Nursing at the University of Chicago Hospitals and Clinics and Assistant Professor of Nursing in the University's Division of the Biological Sciences. . . . Forrest R. Cook has been promoted to Vice President at the State Street Bank and Trust Company, Boston. . . . Helene Marsh is teaching Pediatrics at Capitol City Nursing School, Washington, D.C. . . . Jim and Eileen Canty announce the arrival of their second daughter, Kathleen Marie. Jim finished a year's internship at the N.J. Neuro Psychiatric Institute at Princeton as a U.S. Public Health Fellow. He is now working on his thesis to finish his doctorate in clinical psychology at Fordham. He is presently employed at the Counseling Center of Seton Hall University and he is also a lecturer at the Personnel & Guidance Dept. at Seton Hall.

Thanksgiving brought a telephone call to this reporter from fellow Melrosite, Don Boland. Don, who graduated from C.B.A., was home from the holidays so we had a ten year reunion via the Bell system. Among the news shared was the fact that he is now the proud father of four lovely children. Don hopes that any member of the class of '55 who journeys to New York will stop in at his law office at 37 Wall Street to say hello. While chatting, Don also reported that Walter Grover is now a CPA and is teaching at Bentley.

The Christmas card mail brought its usual changes of address and news of increases in families. Clare Cummings Devine has moved to the Acton area. We have to play detective and come up with her new address. . . . Pat Hines Sheehan has added number four while Pat and Nick Grugnale finally had a girl to add to their family of boys. . . . A note from the Philippines finds Bambi Dannemiller still there at least until July of '66 when she and Joe hope to return to the states. Santa was due to fill their stocking with number 7.

Can't forget to send congratulations to our Fall brides, Mary Jane Brennan, now Mrs. Geis, and Mary Monahan.

New Year's wishes for a return to health are sent to Mrs. Frediani. She has been hospitalized since October.

The Class of 1955 lost another one of its most gifted members in mid-October when Jim Hayes passed away. Jim was a research physicist with Avco, and leaves his wife, Carol, and five boys.

Dick Renahan has been made a partner with the Boston law firm of Hill and Barlow.

Bob Connors has been designated a Certified Life Underwriter, and named assistant manager, Miami District, for John Hancock Life Insurance Company.

'56 DAVID B. FINNEGAN, A&S
1553 So. 28th St., Arlington, Va.

ROBERT E. COCHRAN, CBA
Box 101, Burlington, Mass.

EDWIN J. COOK, Ed.
22 Holiday Street, Dorchester

Paul and Mary Louise Roland announce the arrival of a new son, Edward Christopher, born October 24. . . . Capt. Frederic L. Gannon spoke on the subject of alcoholism at the First Presbyterian Church. Fred is acting chief of the Department of Psychiatry at William Beaumont General Hospital, and discussed alcoholism from the viewpoint of the military. After B.C., Fred went to Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. for medical training.

Ann O'Brien is the proud mother of her fifth daughter. Her husband, Joe, graduated in '53.

'57 DR. MARTIN J. DUNN, A&S
1842 Dorchester Ave., Dorchester

WILLIAM CUNNINGHAM, CBA
38 Spring Terrace, Shrewsbury

Rita (Stebbins) Pucci and her husband Tom, welcomed their second son on November 12, 1965. Little Michael was also welcomed by Rita and Tom's other five children — four of whom are sets of twins! . . . Betty (Scanlon) Turley, Franny (Burnes) Drago, and Anna Mary (Dooley) Stewart got together one day this past summer at Franny's house in Scituate with their total of ten kids. Fun! . . . Marion (O'Leary) Atkinson and Tom Atkinson happily announce the birth of their fourth child, third daughter, Anne Marie on November 12, 1965. . . . John Flynn has returned to his teaching duties at Scituate Junior High after a prolonged illness. . . . Any classmates who have had the opportunity to watch the educational programs on Channel 38 will be proud to know that Frances Forde Plude is in charge of educational programming and that she is doing a fine job of it. . . . Mary Lou Hogan (Arlington) is now teaching at Marquette University. Mary Lou received a Master's degree in Modern Math this past summer. This is the second Masters degree for her. Keep up the good work, Mary Lou.

Bernard O'Brien received his Ph.D. from Catholic University in June '65. He is now in the teaching and counseling fields at the University of Illinois. He is married and has two daughters.

Richard Circeo, M.D., is now with the U.S. Army Hospital in Munich, Germany. He is married and the father of three boys.

Bill Cunningham, Jr. is the proud father in November of child No. three, William Joseph, III. Bill now has two girls and one boy.

The annual general meeting of the class was held Sept. 17 at Alumni Hall. The new

Golf - Tennis - Baseball - Football

Welcome!

OUR NEW QUARTERS NOW OPEN

"Bucky" Warren, Inc.

149-151 PEARL ST., BOSTON

HA 6-2187

FAMOUS B.C. GOLF CAPS

OUR SPECIALTY

Athletic Supplies For All

JOHN W. (BUCKY) WARREN, '33

W. JOSEPH SWANSON

Hockey - Basketball - Badminton

directors elected for a three year term were: Dave Nelson, Ed Brickley and Nancy Gegan. John Dwyer was elected to fill out a two year term.

Ed Coakley was elected Chairman of the Board for the coming year.

Tentative plans for this year have been formulated as well as advance plans for the 10th anniversary.

Congratulations to Tom Wheelon on his recent engagement to Margaret Doyle (BC). A June 25th wedding is planned.

Joe Cotter after two years as Law Clerk in the Federal Court has joined the law firm of Goodwin, Procter, and Hoar, 84 State St., Boston.

Francis X. Flaherty now has his law office located at 8 Beacon St., in Boston.

Pete Higgins is working at ITEK in the corporate Financial Planning Dept. Both Pete and George Hennessey spend their Thursday evenings teaching at Northeastern University.

Dave Geggis is back in Boston as the Sales Mgr. of Addison-Wesley in Wakefield.

Bob Mullen has recently been appointed Senior Salesman for the Hudson Paper Co.

Frank Nicolazzo and Bill Matthews have adjoining law offices in West Newton.

Peter Donovan is teaching at the University of Connecticut.

Harry Connell is now with the Aetna Casualty and Surety.

Jack Corcoran is with Royal Globe Ins.

The Dunn Triplets are getting bigger every day and provide their mom with many happy but busy hours. We know they will be as cute as their big sister.

Congratulations to John Kelleher and Doty Bagnell on their recent marriage.

Janet Finnegan and Nancy Gegan recently joined the faculty at Northeastern University College of Nursing. Janet recently authored a book in Surgical Nursing that will be available later this fall.

Paula Callahan Hibbett (N57) is enjoying the uniqueness of her new position — Nurse Coordinator in the Department of Cooperative Education at Northeastern University.

Paul Mahoney is the proprietor of the very successful "Rocky Ledge" Nursery in Winchester.

Paul Shields has recently been appointed Registrar of the "PLUS" schools of New England.

Jack Dwyer has been promoted to Asst. Principal at Lexington High School. Jack is involved in a new research project with the Federal Government using a computer in the teaching of mathematics in secondary schools.

Jay and Joan Cronin were home for the opening football game. The Cronins are now living at 9366 White Ave. in Brentwood, Mo.

Congratulations to the John Keelons on the arrival of their second girl on Sept. 22. Jack is with the Bay State Community College.

Paul and Maureen Chamberlain now have an even half dozen. The arrival of Raymond makes it three boys and three girls. Congratulations to both.

Don and Peggy Connors are the proud parents of a new son, Christopher. The Connors are living in Weymouth along with other sons, Brian and Tomi and daughter, Joan.

Other new arrivals include a daughter, Kara to Neil and Linda Fitzgerald. This makes 3 girls for the Fitzgeralds and keeps things busy in their home in Arlington.

Ellen and Frank Higgins, their first, a daughter, Jeanne in November.

If you have not already sent in your $3.00 Class Dues, please do so. Make checks payable to Boston College, Class of '57 and send to Alumni Hall. General operating expenses must be met without decreasing our treasury, as we look forward to a big 10th reunion.

'58 DAVID RAFFERTY, A&S
6 Sycamore Lane, Hingham

SHELDON DALY, CBA
24 Harborview Drive, Hingham

JOHN M. BARRY, Jr., CBA
831 Washington Street, Canton

JOAN KEENAN, Ed.
39 Trapelo Road, Brighton

ELIZABETH LEARY
HARRIGAN, N
8 Scannell Rd., Randolph

Jerry Arsenault is the newly appointed Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor for the Southeast area of Massachusetts. Formerly, he was a home teacher for the Blind for the Worcester County area.

Mary Ann Zeadey is teaching English in the Maplewood Junior High School in New Jersey.

Marjorie (O'Brien) and John Shyne added son, John to their family last April. Margie received her M.Ed. Degree in August.

Dolores Britten is teaching at Danvers High School.

Dorothy Sollitto spent last summer at the University of Rhode Island, where she is completing her studies leading to an M.Ed. Degree.

Gertrude McCaul is now Mrs. F. Ali Sadeghpour and is residing in Long Branch, New Jersey. She was married in Teheran, Iran where she taught for the Iran-America Society in Teheran, and also the "American High School" there.

Hear from Yvonne and Norm Frates recently. They became official Vermonters last August. They are living in Barre with their three children. Norm is principal of the Marshfield-Plainfield Elementary School in Marshfield, Vermont.

The number of daughters now numbers four for Jean (Harrington) and Tom Crowley.

The response so far to the dues notice has been excellent—Let's try to make it 100% participation.

Some news relayed from our classmates along with their $2. is as follows: Dennis Anderson working for L. W. Ellwood & Co. and living in Ridgewood, N.J.

Bill Creighton living in Millville, N.J.

Bob Dizio is a daughter, Stephanie Anne and is living in Medford.

Gilbert Wells is now a lawyer and living in Washington, D.C.

John Donahue, a Program Coordinator for the Government in Washington, is married with two children.

Paul Siroky is the Manager of the Claims Dept. for Consolidated Freightways in Seattle.

Alexander Wilson a supervisor in the data processing section of Arthur D. Little Inc.

Paul Martino is now living in Brighton and working for R.C.A.

John Kearney is an Engineer with Sperry Gyro Co. in New York.

Vin Fantasia has two children and is a scientist with Avco Corp.

Jack Horrigan recently moved from Randolph to Milton and is working in sales for Heublein Inc.

Peter Guilmette is now a Funeral Director in Lancaster, N.H. Condolences of the Class are extended to Pete on the death of his mother in June.

John Theall is married with one child and is teaching in Stamford, Conn.

Larry Baker has two sons and is teaching at Chelsea High.

Ed Lee is married with three children and is an engineer with Raytheon.

Jim McDevitt—still single—teaching at Medford High.

Bob Moll recently received his M.B.A. from Northeastern.

Tom O'Brien is doing grad work at Brown University.

Bill Mullanhy living in Lexington, has two girls and is the Asst. to the Vice President of Baird-Maguire Inc.

Bill Maguire is a Sr. Systems Rep. for the Burroughs Corp. in Hartford.

Bob Chalmers is a salesman with Austin-Hastings and living in Franklin, Mass.

Dick Pierce is teaching at So. Boston High. Don McLellan is a dentist in Westwood.

Gilbert Paraschos is a Special Agent with the Treasury Dept. in New Haven.

Jim Halpin is the Asst. Director of Admissions at "of all places" Holy Cross.

Fred Lewis has three children and is a sales rep. with American Oil.

George Riosoco is a dentist in White Plains New York and has three children.

Jim Smith is with McGraw-Hill Publishers and is living in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Joe Divenuto was recently appointed Headmaster at Severn School in Maryland. He received his M.A.T. at John Hopkins.

Bill Quinn, residing in Westwood, earned his M.Ed. from Boston State and is a history teacher at Chelsea High.

Ed Brzinskis is a sales rep. with Schering Corp. He received his M.A. from North Adams State.

Ralph Leduc was recently married to the former Mary Shanahan of Dorchester. Ralph is teaching and coaching at Bishop Fenwick High School.

Jim Considine received his M.Ed. in June '65 and is living and teaching in Lowell.

Frank Dellorlano, living in Cohasset, is the Vice President of DiNatale Floors Inc.

Paul Greene recently celebrated the birth of his second son, Kevin and is a Systems Engineer with John Hancock Inc.

Recently heard from Joe Clancy, who this summer attended the graduate school of education at Harvard where he studied in the area of guidance and the problems of urban education. Joe received his M.Ed. in 1962 from B.C. and is teaching in the Newton School System.

Father Roderick (Joe Tobin) recently wrote to me that he has been a Franciscan priest for the past eight years and is teaching religion at Timon High School in Buffalo. He is also continuing his education at Catholic University.

Jack Kelleher, a lieut. in the USNR, was recently relieved as the 51st Commanding Officer of the USS Constitution ("Old Ironsides") and was assigned to a Navy post overseas. Jack, a Hingham resident, is married to the former Diana Bartelle of San Diego, Calif. They have one child, John Joseph, born August 1, 1965.

The Class Officers and the Governing Board met in November to nominate new officers. The nominations are as follows: Chairmen: Sheldon Daly, CBA; John Donlan, A&S; Bob Pickett, CBA. Vice-Chairmen: A&S, Dave Rafferty; CBA, Fred Holbrow; John Vaccaro, Nursing; Patricia Brine O'Riordan, Barbara Toth. Education: William Doran, John Downing La Chance. Treasurer: Joe Clancy, A&S; Bob Dizio, A&S. Secretary: Dorothy Solitto, Ed.

A Pre-Saint Patrick's Day party featuring entertainment, cocktails, and hors d'oeuvres will be held on Sunday, March 13, at Alumni Hall from 5-10 P.M.

Congratulations to Marilyn Mueller Snyder, on her recent marriage. She and husband, David are living in Kensington, Md.

The Falstaff Room at the Boston-Sheraton was the scene of a reunion for a few of the co-eds from the School of Education. Bea Capraro Busa, Mary Ellen Hyland Mazzola, Camille Drinkwater Harris, Joan Keenan, Marjorie O'Brien Shyne, Mary McCabe Coyle, Joan Downing Lachance and Dorothy Solitto all enjoyed the evening by visiting the top of the Prudential building and topping the night with a few exotic beverages in the lounge of the Kon Tiki Ports. Aloha!!!

Ann McLaughlin Bushey and her husband will be opening their ski lodge for the third season. The lodge is Inglehook Lodge at Jay Peak, Vermont.

Elizabeth Sweeney Minassian has three children, Nadia, Stephan and Cynthia. Betty is studying at B.U. for her masters in Nursing.

Eileen Teahan Quigley is living in Providence.

Pauline Reynolds O'Brien had a son. She also has three daughters.

Pat Brine O'Riordan recently had a fourth son.

Ginny Lewis Donnelly had a second daughter.

I recently visited Patti McGuire Taupier who has three beautiful children. Bill was re-elected as Alderman-at-large in Holyoke.

Ray Beahn is living in Edina, Minn. and working in St. Paul—General Manager of Minnesota Corp., the finance subsidiary of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing. The Beahns have two children.

George Bishop is also in the midwest—Mt. Prospect, Ill. George, married with two children, is a sales representative with Yall & Towne in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri.

Rick Boggio, who is married and has five children, is living in Windsor, Conn. Rick is in the data processing department of Travelers Ins. in Hartford.

Ned Bunyon brings us up to date: received his M.B.A. at the Heights in '59 and has been with Unitrode Corp. of Watertown since completing his studies. Ned is married—he and Carolyn are living in Belmont and have three children.

Bill Charron, living in Mattapan, is a consultant with Martin Associates.

Dan Clancy recently became associated with Real Estate Corp. of America as a mortgage officer. Dan keeps pretty busy in Holliston—serving a 3-year term as member of the Holliston Finance Committee and also Secretary-Treasurer of the Regional Association of Town Finance Committees.

Joe Clasby is living in West Acton, and is office manager with Industrial Aluminum Co. of Waltham.

George Cook, who is living in Watertown, is manager of the 1-2 Club of Cambridge. John Crowley is far afield. Until next June, John will be on Kwajalein in the Marshall Islands, where he is associated with the MIT-Lincoln Laboratory.

Dan Cummins, living in N. Reading, is assistant manager of group insurance sales with Mass. General Life in Boston.

Charles Daly is located at Norwich, Conn.; and is a salesman with J. Daren & Sons of Norwich. Charlie is also Vice President of the Conn. Jaycees.

Don Deszenze is a security analyst with McDonnell and Co. and living in N.Y.C.

Ted Drinkwater is living in East Falmouth, and is manager of Filene's in Hyannis.

Tom Farrell is a senior accountant with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. in N.Y.C. Tom and his wife are living in West Caldwell, N.J.—first child (girl) born in Sept. Jim Feeney, living in Newtonville, is Controller with American Brush Co. of Boston.

Lou Ferri, who is living in Framingham, is the owner of the Holiday House in Southboro.

John Guarino, a research chemist with Locory Mobil Oil in Princeton, N.J. is living in Trenton.

Norm Haley is living in San Francisco—a long way from Maine.

C. Morris Harrison is living in Weston, and is a salesman with Becton Dickinson.

Dick Hartigan has left Texas, and is now in River Vale, N.J. Dick is Northeast Regional Sales Manager of Dorothy Gray-Tussy Cosmetics.

Art Houllahan has moved to Winchester (36 Robinhood Road). Art is the General Manager of Medford Chrysler-Plymouth.

Don Hughes, living in Wollaston, tells us his family is now four, with the addition of second daughter in September. Don is a systems analyst with Boston Gas.

Fred Igo is manager, Igo's Restaurant, Waltham.

'59 PETER McLAUGHLIN, A&S
40 Bradford Ave., Roslindale
NANCY V. DOLAN, N
1539 A Beacon St., Brookline
FRANK BOWDEN, JR, CBA
27 Packard Ave., Dorchester
CARL HENDRICKSON, ED.
75 Marlborough St., Boston

Class of 1959
Annual Winter Dance
Date: Feb. 12, 1966
Place: Alumni Hall
Time: 8 to 12
Tariff: $3.00 per couple

At the most widely attended business meeting since graduation, the following slate of officers was elected to guide the destiny of the class for the next two years: Chairman, Peter McLaughlin; Vice-Chairman, Jim Healy; Secretary, Beth Grady; and Treasurer, Al Wisialko. It is the desire of the officers to obtain a broad representation in decisions affecting the class. In this regard, we welcome your criticisms and suggestions as to any improvements to effect our goals of broader class participation.

The class held its first function of the year after the Holy Cross game. We were fortunate in being able to hold our cocktail party-dance at Alumni Hall which provided a natural attraction for almost 200 people. Under the able guidance of Tom Sullivan and Bill York, a most enjoyable time was had by all. Highlights of the evening were a giant raffle featuring sixteen prizes and refreshments which were most welcome at the end of the evening.

One of the major problems still confronting the class is updating our list of addresses. Spearheaded by Jerry Foley and Paul Garrity a concerted effort is being made to correct any address changes. If you have moved since graduation and your mail is being sent to your former address, jot us a line with your most recent address.

Condolences of the class are extended to Bob Murphy on the recent death of his father. After passing the bar examination, Frank Lane joined the General Services Administration as a real property assistant. Joe McGuill is practicing Dentistry in Swansea, Mass., Bob Riley in Cohasset. Bill Parks is serving his residency in Pathology at St. Elizabeth's. Bill York is a financial analyst in the loan department of the New England Merchants National Bank. Ed Mulligan is living in New York City and is completing his residency in Ophthalmology at the N.Y. Eye and Ear Hospital. Peter Sullivan is in Washington working for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the Grants Division for mental health. After graduating from B.U. Medical, Jim Villotte is doing his residency in radiology at the Lemuel Shattuck Hospital in Jamaica Plain. Tom Hughes is selling for Coty Co., a division of Charles Pfizer. Charlie McCullagh is back in the Bay State as an industrial relations specialist for the Worthington Corp., in Springfield. Tom Whalen and the former Pat Manning are living in Maynard with their four children. Tom is the computer sales administrator at Digital Equipment Corp. He also finds some time for completing requirements for an MBA at B.C.

Jim Foley is the Bulk Sales Manager for the Jello Division of General Foods serving the Northeastern area. Jim is attending B.C. Graduate School of Business Administration.

Jim Cappelletti is a district manager for the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. in Providence, R.I. Charlie Connors is an inspector in the Methods Department of Western Electric Co. Dick Flanagan is an accounts supervisor for Garland Knitting Mills. After graduating from B.C. Law and passing the bar examination, Jack O'Leary is serving as a law clerk to the Justices of the Superior Court. Frank Malone is an insurance agent for Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada. Dick Roche is a Marine underwriter for Fairfield and Ellis Insurance Agency. Joe Sayero is an assistant manager of programming for Bay State Computer Center. John Sullivan is a salesman for Metropolitan Petroleum. Tim Tobin, after graduating from B.C. Law and passing the bar, is a probation officer in the West Roxbury court house. Bob Scigliano is teaching retarded children in Boston. Ernie Ferneau recently completed a Research Training Fellowship in psychology and is going to be on the staff at the Brockton VA Hospital. Jim Healy is the Vice-President of L.G. Healy & Sons Inc. Dermott O'Toole is a Vice President for Scudder Stevens & Clark investment counselors. The stock arrived for the Frank Lanes, a boy; for the Dick Roches, a girl and for the Joe Connollys, a boy. Good to hear from some of our more distant classmates over the holidays: Sam Scott from Chicago; Jim Johnston from Chambersburg, Pa. and last but not least, John O'Connor from Seattle, Washington. A little reminder in case it slipped your mind: the very nominal dues of $3.00 may be sent to Alumni Hall c/o Class of 1959.

Christmas cards are a wonderful media for receiving news. A few of the news items: Claire Haynes is engaged to Lt. Curtis M.D. and is planning marriage in April. Mary and Frank Conery have just moved from California to Texas where they will be stationed. They now have four children and are expecting their fifth in January.

Mary and John Lees have their second child—a baby girl—Kelly Ann. Congratulations to Wilma and Frank Lane are in store. Frank has recently passed the Mass. Bar. Mary and Fred Menges have just had their first child—a baby boy—John Antlong. Elaine Geissler has her Masters in Education and is teaching psychiatry at the Los Angeles County General Hospital School of Nursing. Mary and Art McIlauad are living in Venezuela for two years and also have a new addition to their family. Saw Nancy and Dick Grady while Christmas shopping. Their family is increasing by leaps and bounds. Had a visit from Betty Ann Carroll. She and Al have just bought a new home in Cape Elizabeth, Maine. She is teaching at the University of Maine.

Joe Hurley has been elected to Assistant Secretary of the State Street Bank and Trust Company. Charlie McCullagh has been appointed manager of employee and community relations of Worthington Corporation's Construction Equipment Division in Holyoke.

Roberta Berrane was married last November to Joe Petrocelli ('51). Joe's father is a graduate in the class of 1917.

Pauline (Matthieu) Kellan writes happily of the birth of the Kellans' first child, a daughter named Renee. Renee was baptized in St. Patrick's Cathedral in N.Y.C. on December 19.

Peggy (Quinn) Hales, husband and year old daughter Susan are now living in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Dick Dowd has just recently purchased an apartment house overlooking the Public Gardens. He will be there weekends until June, but may be here permanently next year. More of that in the next issue.

Brian and Jan Marron became parents for the fourth time in April—2nd daughter, name, Cathleen. Meanwhile Brian continues working at B.C. for his Ph.D. in administration.

Ann (MacDonald) McGuiggin joined the faculty of Swampscott High School in September. This makes Swampscott twice blessed since Mary Watts is also on the faculty there.

Maureen (Jackson) Turley became a mother for the first time in April when Joan Marie appeared. There seems to be a run on girls this season, but then the U.S. census bureau reports that there are now 100 females for every 97 males in the United States.

Rogette Abizaid, having finished everything except the thesis for her doctorate in modern languages is now back in Boston and is substitute teaching until June.

Claire O'Toole has returned to teaching and is now teaching high school English in Hartford, Connecticut.

Rosemarie (Pashby) Reveille may be reached at Box 807, Aransas Pass, Texas. Wow!

'60

ROBERT G. O'LEARY, A&S
7 Brook Road, Milton
JOSEPH R. CARTY, CBA
139 Dana Road, Norwell
PAUL CUNNINGHAM, CBA
41 Paton Road, Shrewsbury
BRENDA M. CROWLEY, Ed.
19 Leahaven Road, Mattapan
GRACE McLAUGHLIN CARTY,
N, 139 Dana Road, Norwell

1. WE'D LIKE TO THANK EVERYONE FOR THE GREAT RESPONSE WE RECEIVED ON OUR ANNUAL DUES NOTICE. THANKS FOR COMPLETING THE ENCLOSED FORM — IT GIVES YOUR CORRESPONDENTS NEWS ABOUT YOU.

2. INTERESTED IN HOCKEY — THE CLASS OF 1960 HAS 100 TICKETS (50 COUPLES) RESERVED FOR SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 19 WHEN B.C. PLAYS ARMY AT McHUGH FORUM. THE PRICE IS $2.00 PER TICKET — FIRST COME — FIRST SERVED — RETURNS HAVE TO BE MADE BY FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11. TICKETS CAN BE PURCHASED FROM JOE CARTY LA3-2400. OR FORWARD YOUR CHECK PAYABLE TO BOSTON COLLEGE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TO JOE AT ESTABROOK & CO., P.O. BOX 1, BOSTON, MASS. WITH A RETURN ENVELOPE ENCLOSED. THIS EVENT IS SOMETHING DIFFERENT — LET'S SELL ALL THE TICKETS — THERE WILL BE NO FURTHER NOTICE.

3. DON'T FORGET TO FORWARD TO YOUR CORRESPONDENTS ANY INFORMATION YOU MAY HAVE — IT ONLY TAKES A MINUTE.

4. CHECK THAT CALENDAR NOW FOR OUR FOURTH ANNUAL ST. PATRICK'S COCKTAIL PARTY. PAUL CUNNINGHAM IS CHAIRMAN AND YOU WILL RECEIVE FURTHER INFORMATION SHORTLY. THE DATE IS SUNDAY, MARCH 13, 1965.

Tom Maguire has become District Sales Manager with Litton Industries in the New England area. . . . Russ Frazian is an Associated Press Correspondent in Western Massachusetts. . . . Alcoa Company claims Bob Shea in its financial administration department. . . . Don Duffy is the proud papa of a son, Sean. Don is employed with the Fitzgerald Co. in Somerville. . . . Tom O'Hare is a partner in Independent Electronic Company in Arlington which is a recently formed venture. Tom is now married and has a young daughter and resides in Lynnfield. . . . Joe Neal is now out of the service and is a credit manager with Rust Craft Company. B.C. claims Joe in its M.B.A. program. . . . Don McGonagle is associated with Addison Wesley, a text book firm. North Reading is his residence and he now is the father of two young ladies. . . . Mike Derby is now married and is in the employ of Pacific Internountain Express as a freight forwarder. . . . Don Crovatts now has a son and daughter and claims Framingham as home. . . . Tom Connally is residing in southern California and has been employed by North American Aviation as a project administrator for four years. . . . Larry Flavin is now a stock broker with Richard Buck & Co. . . . Merrill Lynch claims Gerry Buckley also as a stock broker. . . . John Finnerty is a Captain in the Army Quartermaster Corps and has just returned from three and half years in France. Currently stationed at Fort Lee, Virginia. . . . William Leader has recently purchased a new home in Medfield. Bill is now with H. K. Porter in their Production Control Department. . . . Congratulations to Bill and Dorothy Burns, on their first child, Christine. . . . Al Flaherty, who was recently married, is residing in Quincy. Al is a salesman for the Vanity Fair people. . . . Tony Signorello is completing his training program with General Electric. At present, Tony is living in Philadelphia and has a daughter, Vallerie. . . . Kenneth Heavey is studying full time for an M.B.A. at Suffolk Univ. . . . Frank Lavey is in the sales department with New England Telephone. . . . Pratt & Whitney claims Phil LeBlanc as a buyer. . . . Dick Long is residing in Brockton and is now teaching in the Brockton area. . . . The Jack Armstrongs are now living in Buffalo, New York. Jack is associated with Warner Brothers in the sales division. . . . Jack McAuliffe claims Port Chester, New York as Albany Carpet Cleaning Co.

GRIMES & HANRIHAN INCORPORATED

Rugg Road, Allston, Mass.

"New England's Largest and Finest"

STadium 2-4200

JOHN J. HANRIHAN, '25

ED CONNOLLY, '52

The Alumni

home and has a young daughter, Kathleen. Jack is in the employ of Lever Brothers as an assistant product manager for "All".

In case you missed the following excerpt from the Alumni Newsletter of November, pertaining to two of our classmates the information is included. "The current report of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Fountain includes a number of Boston College graduates. Among the Wilson Fellows listed with their present positions are Edmund C. Toomey, present Dean of Men, St. Louis University and Joseph L. Tribble, now an instructor in English at United States Military Academy, West Point. . . . Rick and Beverly Pierce were blessed with their fourth child and third daughter, Cynthia. . . . Congratulations to Pete and Ed Johnson on their third daughter, Loretta. . . . Ray Roy is now in a partnership in a Personnel Consultant firm. The name of the firm is Ro-Mac & Associates and is located in Newton Highlands. . . . Tom and Betty Ann Monahan have recently purchased a home in Weymouth. Tom also has a new position with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in the Department of Mental Health. . . . Jim Tonra is now associated with the State Street Bank in the business development department. . . . Ed Kelley is an advertising manager with International B.F. Goodrich in Akron, Ohio. Ed is now married and completed graduate school at the University of North Carolina in 1964.

Kay Quinn enjoyed renewing friendships with some of her professors and a few of her classmates at the recent Student-Teacher-cooperating-Teacher Banquet held on December 6 at the University. . . . Miss Ann Marie O'Brien "Class of 1967," did her student teaching in the Quincy School System.

Elaine Capozzoli is a clerical instructor in School of Nursing at Beth Israel Hospital here in Boston. . . . Ivy O'Donnell writes that she is at Whidden Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Everett serving as Nursing Co-ordinator. . . . Anna Asdoorian is doing staff nursing at the V.A. Hospital in Providence, Rhode Island. . . . Had a nice note from Brenda Moynahan Bowler. She and two sons are keeping the home fires burning while hubby is on duty in Southern Spain. They are at the Sawyer Air Force Base, Michigan. . . . Marialyse Roy is the assistant director of the Visiting Nurse Association in Springfield, Mass. She has made two vacation trips to Europe over the past two years. Marialyse plans to be married in May. . . . Ellen McCarthy is a staff nurse at the V.A. Hospital in Boston. . . . St. Louis, Mo. is now the home of Margaret O'Sullivan Fultz. . . . Evelyn Cassara is the Chief Respiratory Therapist at Children's Medical Center in Boston. . . . Marjorie Langway and Marguerite Munster are co-owners and operate the Beatrice-Catherine Nursing Home in Dorchester, Mass. . . . Virginia Dooling is head nurse of the clinic at Harvard Univ. . . . Virginia Mostyn is doing school nursing in the Boston School System. . . . Our thanks to Joyce Dwyer and the other girls who organized a 5 year reunion for the School of Nursing, held last September. The turnout was excellent and the group looked much the same, (minus the grey uniforms). . . . Good to see Father Gorman again too, who is back in his office again, lending moral support to students and faculty alike.

Some news happenings we have learned are: Pat Barker is head nurse on Medical 4 at Boston City Hospital. . . . Jeff and Martha Cadigan Sullivan and family have moved into their new home in Walpole. Understand their new son has been announcing their arrival to the town at all hours, day and night! . . . Cardine Chinetti Musmanno and family have returned to the U.S. after her husband completed his service assignment in Germany. . . . Margie Donahue is at St. Louis University for her M.S. . . . Nancy Fightlin is in teaching position on the elementary school level. . . . Anne Finnegan O'Donnell is happy to have moved "home" to Revere. The O'Donnells have three boys. . . . Ginger Gormley has been recovering from surgery in Millerton, N.Y. and is now back to work at the V.N.A. in New Haven. She and Lyndon!

Has anyone seen or heard from Hallsy?

Fran and Nancy Harrington Duval and children have moved to Nashua, N.H. where Fran is setting up an obstetrical practice. . . . The Judy Lydon-Jim Driscoll wedding in May turned out to be a small class reunion in itself. The Driscolls are living in Weymouth. . . . Larry and Judy McGinn Gannon and 2 children have picked up stakes and moved westward to Rochester, N.Y. . . . Jackie Perry Hutchinson and family have a new home in the Beverly area. . . . Congratulations to Louie and Pat Quinn Meomartino on the arrival of their 3rd daughter. The Meomartinos live in Fall River. . . . Lois Solari is in charge of the skin clinic at Mass. General Hospital. . . . Joe and Joan Vannie Crowe and their four children are preparing to move into their brand new home in Avon, Conn. The Crowes have three boys and a girl. . . . Betsey White has a challenging position in a psychiatric day care unit, a new concept in psychiatric therapy. Betsey leads group therapy. . . . Bob and Ruth Wright Keyes are at Fort Still, Oklahoma where Bob is with the Army. . . . Pat Gannon Demeo makes her home in Marion, Mass. The Demeas have two daughters.

Frank Foley has been appointed to the New England sales force of American Cyanamid Company's Building Products Division. . . . Fred Rattigan has been elected as Assistant Treasurer of the State Street Bank and Trust Company. . . . Tom Kelly graduated from the U.S. Air Force School of Aerospace Medicine primary course at Brooks AFB, Texas.

Charley O'Malley is an attorney with Liberty Trust in Boston. . . . Hank Finneran is a claims examiner for Continental National American Group in New York City. Hank expects to be married in May. . . . Dick Bourque is employed as a senior salesman for the National Cash Register Company. The Bourques reside in Chelmsford and have two sons. Dick also is second vice president of the Kiwanis Club of Roxbury. . . . Bob Pyne is a sales representative for Northeast Petroleum Corp. of Providence. The Pynes reside in Foxboro. . . . Dick Luongo was recently married to Roberta Sorbello. Dick is a teacher in the Revere School System. . . . Jack Lynch is a marketing representative for IBM in Waltham. Jack lives in Chestnut Hill. . . . Geraldine Amore Karle has recently moved into a new residence in Marshfield. . . . Bob Carroll is employed with Honeywell as a Coordinator. . . . Larry Donovan is employed as a divisional underwriter for the Utica Mutual Insurance Co. in Waltham. . . . Mary Crowley is teaching the 4th grade in Arlington School System. . . . John Callahan is a sales representative for the Armstrong Cork Company in Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania. . . . Jim Kerrigan has received his MBA from George Washington University. Jim is Assistant Administrator for the New England Medical Center Hospitals in Boston. . . . Dr. Joseph Morgan has opened his own practice for dentistry in Malden in early December. . . . Ralph Gridley reports that a new addition arrived in August. The Gridleys now have two girls. Ralph also graduated from the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin. The U.S. Treasury claims Ralph as a bank examiner. . . . Bill Searing is now serving a tour of duty as a Navy physician at Sogley Point in the Philippines. . . . Vin Failla writes that he graduated from Tufts in 1964. Married Margaret Costello in late 1964 and have one daughter, Elizabeth. Vin is serving a tour of duty as a dentist in San Diego, California. . . . Jack Cusack is now assistant New England Sales Manager for Metro Glass of Needham. Jack is coaching hockey at Xavier High in Concord who are defending Catholic champs. This team was the first ever to be selected for the State Hockey Tournament not graduating a senior class. . . . John Gorman is a Physician with the U.S. Navy Underwater Sound Laboratory in New London. . . . Don F. Duffy is associated with M.I.T. as an Administrator. Recently purchased a home in Waltham and became a father for the second time, this one a son. . . . Ed Gaffey is an underwriter with the Maryland Casualty Company. The Gaffeys reside in Cohasset. . . . J. Jeff Linehan is serving his tour of duty aboard the USS Keppler (DD765) N. . . . Gary Jameson has completed his schooling and is now practicing dentistry in Winsted, Connecticut. . . . Joe Carey dropped a note. He is now living in Pittsburgh and is a sales representative for Barton & Red, a silverware manufacturer. Joe is responsible for the Middle Atlantic States.

A card from Brother Thomas More (Joe Guthro) from the Dominican House of Studies informed us that Rev. David Cluney is now first assistant in his Philadelphia parish. . . . Gene Clasby, now Assistant Professor of English at Catholic University, and his wife just welcomed a new daughter.

Paul Quatromoni is residing in Hyde Park, Mass., and has two daughters. Dedham Junior High School claims Paul as a Science teacher — recently promoted to Captain at the Mass. Army National Guard. . . . Heard from Tom Riddell who is an underwriter with Aetna Life and Casualty in Hartford. . . . Charlie Lane is now an attorney with Wilson, Steinfeld, Murrell and Goffin in Portland. . . . The Bank of New York claims Ed O'Leary in the business development division who resides in nearby Fairview, New Jersey. The O'Learys have two daughters. . . . Fred and Agnes McMenimen have two children, a boy and girl. Fred is in the employ of Commonwealth of Massachusetts as a Bank Examiner. . . . Paul Ricci is presently employed as Assistant Plant Manager by Calgon Corporation of Rockwood, Michigan and resides in Toledo, Ohio. Married in 1962 to Nancy Lippencott of Colorado and have two sons. . . . Frank Sullivan purchased a new residence in October and resides in Dorchester. . . . Dan Murphy is residing in Danvers and is in the employ of Sylvania in Ipswich as a product specialist of control devices. . . . Al Petrosino is residing in West Peabody and is in the employ of the Defense Contract Audit Agency. . . . John Flaherty recently dropped a note. John is a CPA with Haskins & Sells in Detroit. Anchorage, Michigan is his home and the Flahertys have one boy. . . . Al Hyland received his MBA from Harvard this past June. Al resides in nearby Waltham and Polaroid employs Al as a Project Manager. The Hylands recently were the proud parents of a daughter. . . . Bill Gorman is an elementary teacher in Arlington for the second year after previously teaching in Pennsylvania for two years. The Gormans have been married for two years and have one son. . . . Mary Jane Barry is an Assistant Professor at the University of Rhode Island. . . . Heard from George Litman who is a resident in medicine at University Hospital in Boston. The Litmans recently announced the arrival of their first child, Scott Allan. . . . Jane Shea is teaching in the Town of Weston School System. . . . Dave Bernard is the General Manager of the Bernard Tire Company in Manchester, New Hampshire.

Just a reminder at the very beginning, don't forget the annual Cocktail Party for St. Patrick's Day and plan to attend this year. Mail your class dues in as well.

Seen at the recent dinner for cooperating school personnel given by the senior student teachers were Margy Doyle, Brenda Crowley, Kay (Quinn) Maier, and Tony Penna. Margy's engagement to Tom Wheelan was just announced; they plan to be married June 25th. Tony Penna is Director of Curriculum Development at Quincy High. He is working on a project for Carnegie Tech and Ford Foundations writing new materials for Social Studies.

We have to check with Tom Monahan who unofficially keeps the statistics on the number of marriages within the class. Brenda Crowley and Joe Harrington are planning to increase the figures. The announcement of their engagement was made before Christmas. They are planning to be married September 3rd. . . . Elaine Dutilly's engagement to Tom Morganti has also been announced.

Congratulations to Faith (Corcoran) Monahan on the arrival of her new daughter, Kathleen; to Edi (Cackowski) and Pete Johnson on the birth of their daughter, Loretta; to Donna (Mac Charles) and John Perowski on the arrival of their new son, Mark; and to Pat (Carty) and Dick DeLello on the birth of their new daughter. Our prayers go to Pat whose father recently passed away.

Maureen Foley sounds more like a member of the Albuquerque, New Mexico Chamber of Commerce than a fourth grade teacher. . . . Bob Leonard now has four children and received his M.A. in math from Northeastern in June. . . . Rosemary Beagan has completed thirty hours beyond her Master's degree in English Lit. . . . Maria and Bob O'Regan have three children and just bought a new home in Milford. Bob is Head of the History Dept. in Holliston.

'61 EDWARD D. HURLEY, JR., A.&S
28 Lamartine Terrace
Yonkers, New York
KEVIN T. FITZPATRICK, CBA
39 Arborborough Road, Roslindale
ROBERT A. O'NEIL, CBA
361 Orenda Circle, Westfield, N.J.
PAULA FITZGERALD, Ed.
120 Day Street, Newton
RUTH COLAVECCHIO, N.
4 Orchard Circle, Westwood

B.C. '61 QUINQUENNIAL REPORT

Have you returned your B.C. '61 Quinquennial Report Questionnaire? Time is running out on this important undertaking and unless we hear from you immediately, we will not be able to make the publication deadline. Please find a few minutes to contribute to this "first of a kind" at Boston College. Mail back your questionnaire to Alumni Hall, TODAY.

Gerold Aneskewich is working on a fuel oil project as a systems analyst for the Texaco Company. Both Aneskewich's keep busy in their spare time entering their basket hound "Jennie" in national field trials.

Jack Sutton and his wife, Anne, were spotted at the World's Fair before it closed its doors last October.

Francis Piscal is stationed at Ft. Dix, N.J., doing classification and assignment duties for the Army. Frank married the former Margaret Mary O'Brien and joined the service after being admitted to the New Jersey and Federal District Courts.

Joe Forry married Lois Rizoli, Emmanuel '58, and they are now living in London with their two daughters, Maria Christina and Catherine Elizabeth. Joe is in the Foreign Service, stationed at the American Embassy in London. He expects to be home briefly this coming July, following part time work for an M.A. in English at the University of London. Both he and Lois toured Rome and Paris last year.

Ed Schulane has finished up work leading to an M.A. in English.

David Garvin married Jacqueline Bixby, received an M.D. degree from the Boston University School of Medicine and is now a lieutenant in the USNR, serving one year's rotating internship at the Chelsea Naval Hospital.

Following graduation from Portia Law in June '64, Maurice Ford is employed as a public defender for indigent defendants by the Massachusetts Defenders Committee in Boston. He married Mary McLaughlin of County Donegal, Ireland in February '64, and has a son born last June.

Charles Duffy is an instructor of English at Providence College.

Paul O'Keefe is teaching history at Wisconsin State University while doing Ph.D. work at the University of Wisconsin.

William Healy is an Instructor of Biology at Holy Cross and a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Michigan.

Dave Sullivan is presently studying at John Hopkins for a Ph.D.

Dick Hagerty is a sales representative for the International Paper Co., and was transferred from San Francisco to Atlanta last June.

Connie Holland received a C.A.G.S. degree from B.C. last June in Counseling Psychology. He is working in this field in the Boston area.

Thom Hart had his second child, Eric, last fall. He expects his Ph.D. in Medieval Germanic Language and Literature this coming August, following a Dissertation Fellowship at the University of Wisconsin this past year. Thom, his wife, Kathrin, and first daughter, Kristina, spent the summer of '64 camping throughout the far-West.

Tom Jones is continuing to attend Michigan State University under the Army advanced Education Program pursuing a Master's Degree in Police Administration. Tom is now a Captain in the Military Police Corps.

Richard Fabian will graduate from the Tufts University School of Medicine this coming June.

John Lane and Jim Lawlor are now both Captains in the Army, commanding their own companies at the Quartermaster School, Ft. Lee, Va.

John Johansson has graduated from the Tufts Dental School and is now a First Lieutenant in the Air National Guard, stationed at the Dental Office in South Boston.

Martin Kelly married Judy Beaulieu of Lexington last August. Marty is presently an intern at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and by the end of this year should be a psychiatric resident at the Massachusetts Mental Health Center.

Tim Guiney is a senior at Harvard Medical.

George Higgins is a Junior at Boston College. George married Betty Mulkerin of Longmeadow last September.

Lost and Found Department: Does anyone know the whereabouts of Jim Harrington, Bill Genova, Tom Gaffney, Aldo Elicone, or John Healey? Your correspondent has not heard from any of these since graduation.

Jack Joyce is an Account Executive with Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

Daniel J. Sullivan is the proud father of this first daughter, Ruth, born last fall. Dan and his wife Edith live in Greenwich Village, N.Y., which Dan uses as a base of operations for his regular job teaching in Brooklyn, spending his weekends kyacking in Jamaica Bay.

Tom Welch is finishing his last year at B.C. Law School. Tom will be in the last graduating class of the Evening Division.

Good luck to Jeff Sullivan and his wife, Martha, on their new home in East Walpole. Since our last issue they have had a new son, Brian.

Paul Flynn is working for H. C. Wainwright as a stock broker. He is also teaching an adult course evenings on the stock market at both Stonehill College and in Winthrop.

Howard Landers is teaching in the Boston Public School System. He and his wife have three children.

Bob Tiernan is working in the Sales Audit Department of Filen's.

Joe DeFranco and his family are living in Quincy. Joe is employed by Arthur Anderson in their Tax Department.

Bill McAllister is a buyer for Pratt & Whitney in Hartford, Conn. Bill and his wife, Madeline, have three girls.

Hector Reichard is an attorney at law and is working for the Governor's Council in Puerto Rico. He is presently preparing an economic and social study.

The Alumni

Phil St. Germain and his wife, Toni, had a baby girl just prior to leaving on Phil's new assignment in Brazil with Gillette.

Received a letter from Fred Sullivan, who was recently elected Vice-President of the Massachusetts Association of Health Underwriters. He is leaving Continental Casualty Company to join John Hancock as the Accident and Health Sales Manager for the mid-western United States, based in Dallas, Texas, in February. Congratulations Fred.

Paul Mailloux is Junior Accountant for General Motors Corp. in Framingham, Mass. Prior to his new position, Paul was stationed with the U.S. Air Force as a First Lieutenant.

Bob Sullivan has undertaken a training program with Hornblower & Weeks-Hemp-hill Noyes, Investment Brokers. Bob spent 3½ years in the U.S.N., as an Engineering Officer on a destroyer. He and his wife, Donna, are now living in Canton.

Jack McDowell is now stationed in Iceland. He would welcome some correspondence from his class mates, since he is the lone representative of B.C. on the ice flow. Those members of the class wishing to drop Jack a line, should address their letters to Lt. John McDowell, Mar. Bks., U.S. Nav. Sta. c/o F.P.O. New York 09571.

Bob Flaherty is Asst. Credit Officer for the First National Bank of Boston.

At the social event after the B.C.-Holly Cross game, which was held at the Shrewsbury Motor Inn, there was a good turn out by our class. Paul Brennan was at his best, where he gave the impression of being special agent 007. Tom Hynes was also present, and he is working hard on our class reunion for June.

Some of the other class members attending the social were: Bob Hannon working for Pharmaceutical Sales. . . . Jack Hurley recently married Carol Kristion, new arrival anxiously awaited. . . . Edward Gaffey presently with the U.S. Treasury Department. . . . Kevin Byrne: Boston College Law School LLB; Georgetown Law School, LL.M.; on a fellowship — now practicing in Boston with Ficksman & Conly, 160 State Street, Boston. Kevin is married and has a girl called Virginia. . . . Chic Garvin: M.B. Boston University last Spring now interning at Chelsea Naval Hospital, Lt. (MC) USN, married Jacqueline Bixby. . . . Rue Villeja, last year at Portia Law, spent 6 months in Army, will practice law in New Bedford.

Congratulations to Jim and Patty Buckley on the birth of their second son, Paul Francis. They are back in Arlington, in their new home with Christopher and Paul. . . . John Foley has joined the New England Telephone Company as supervisory assistant in Quincy. . . . James McNiff has been appointed Instructor in English at Franklin Institute of Boston.

Rita Ailinger has resigned her position at Georgetown University to join the crew of the ship Hope. They set sail for Nicaragua on Jan. 9th. Anyone wishing to write to Rita can do so in care of Project Hope, Corinto Nicaragua, Central America.

Claire Lawton has returned from a three month trip to Europe. While there Claire visited Chris Murphy Mayor and her two lovely children in Geneva. All is well with Chris and she has tentative plans to return to Boston for our five year reunion. Claire has enlisted in the Army Nurse Corps and has requested a European assignment, hoping to be stationed in Germany.

'62

PAUL MacNAMARA, A&S
76 Prince St., Jamaica Plain
ROBERT P. WHITTEN, CBA
210 Webster Ave., Chelsea
BEATRICE HANLEY, ED.
292 Lexington St., Watertown
GRACE CONONI, N.
2-14 Bloomfield Ave.,
Drexel Hill, Penn.

Mary Casey is now Mrs. Vaughn Stebbins and the mother of John Hamilton. Her new address is Sabinsville, Penna.

Peggy (Birmingham) Moroney welcomed a second daughter, Micheen Jo on Sept. 3. Peggy and Bob are back from Penn. and living in West Roxbury.

Bette Broderick is teaching first grade at La Chapelle Elementary School in Orleans, France as a civilian employee of the Armed Forces. Bette taught first grade last year in Kitzingen, Germany. Her sister Dierdre ('63) is teaching at the same school in Orleans.

The class extends its sympathy to Cindy (Hoare) Eager on the death of her father.

Many of our classmates are still in the Service among them: Paul Duffey is an Intelligence Officer with the Navy. Paul is married to the former Barbara Chimmock of Wilmette, Illinois. They have one child, 6 month old Christopher Michael. The Brokerage Firm of Francis I. Dupont is looking forward to having Paul join them early next fall, at their New York office.

Dick Dewar, his wife and their daughter, 5 month old Cynthia Elizabeth are stationed at Davis Monthan Air Force Base in Tucson, Arizona. Dick is assigned to an operational missile wing at Davis. Bill Cronin is doing recruiting work with the Air Force at the Boston Army Base. Dan Bythewood is stationed in Puerto Rico at Rancey Air Force Base. George Mathews and his wife the former Marjorie Thonen of Cheyenne, Wyoming are stationed at Minot Air Force Base, North Dakota. Frank Kennedy and his wife the former Carol Seakom of Baltimore are stationed in Orleans, France. Frank attended the Defense Language Institute at Monterey, Calif. before he was assigned to Orleans.

The Civilians in our Class have also been quite active during '65 and a sincere Congratulations is extended to those of us who have recently been admitted to practice law before the Massachusetts Supreme Court; Thomas Carey, Roger Casey, Jerry Coogan, Paul Daly, Bull Downey, Mike Hally, Richard Hannaway, Paul Hayes George Killgour, Paul MacNamara, Vin McCarthy, Bob Minasian, Gerry Phillips, Bob Smith, and Fred Torphy. It is doubtful that any member of the class can say he doesn't know a lawyer.

Ralph Surette received his Ph.D. from Catholic University last June and is now an assistant Professor at the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Paul MacNamara is a Masters Degree Candidate at the Graduate Tax School of Boston University Law School and is associated with the Boston Law Firm of Nessen and Casper. Paul is engaged to Miss Anne Sullivan of Brookline. Nicholas Gelsomini is the Manager of the Sheraton Corporation Motor Lodge in Quincy. Nick had been an assistant Sales Manager at the Sheraton-Plaza, Boston.

Frank MacNamara and Jim Riley are in their last year at Tufts Medical School.

Best of luck is extended to Kevin B. D. Doyle on his promotion as special accounts representative for 3M Company. Dick Lawless may be returning to the Boston area with his family from New Jersey; Dick is doing well with Sealand Service Inc. Tom and Judy Hagan are in the Schenectady, N.Y. area; Tom is working with General Electric. Mo Dullea is in Southeast Asia with the U.S. Navy. Bob Whitten is serving with the U.S. Army in New York, Bob recently returned from Ft. Gordon, Georgia. Jim O'Connor was recently married to Ann Morgan and after a trip to Puerto Rico the O'Connors are making their home in Chestnut Hill.

Our class was well represented at the B-CH Pre-Game Dance and also at the game; all in attendance enjoyed themselves. The prayers of the class are offered for repose of the soul of the father of Tom Hagan. Jack O'Keefe is out of the Army and is working in the Boston area, Jack was serving in Vietnam. Skip and Jackie Donovan are still in Detroit with Ford and are the parents of two cute girls. John and Mary Hackett are expecting a child in early 1966. Tom and Pat Adams are living in Woburn with their daughter, Tom is still with J. C. Adams Co. The new lawyers of our class are Phil Beauchene, Dick Locke, Bernie Kilroy, Ron Petralia, Ed Waystack and Bob Whitten. Ron Petralia is serving in the U.S. Army as a Military Police Lieut. Frank and Barbara Brennan, are living in New York where Frank is employed with Price Waterhouse, Public Accountants.

John T. Murray, Jr. of 331 Columbia Rd., Dorchester, has been named Salem accounting manager for New England Telephone Co. John and Barbara have a daughter, Michelle, 7 months.

John Roberts, formerly with the New England Merchants National Bank of Boston, has joined the Merchandising Department of Converse Rubber Co. Daniel R. Murphy has been named Editor of Norton Company's technical publication, "Grits and Grinds". Donald G. Even, was promoted to captain at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. while assigned to the U.S. Army Ordnance Center.

Notes from the nurses: First, we have several fall birth announcements to report: We welcome daughters to: Lauraine (Alberetti) and Richard Lombardo; Sue (Schwanner) and Anthony Iannucillo; Kathy (Curtis) and Mike McHue. We welcome the sons of: Barbara (Heidt) and Paul Ryan; Joan (Gillis) and Bernie Coyle.

Other notes of interest: Helen Murdock received her Master's Degree from Boston U. and is now on the faculty at Northeastern U. Arline Gerhman is now an assistant head nurse at Boston-Lying-In. Shelia Kay (Roos), husband Vincent and daughter are living in West Roxbury. Johanna Brunalli is teaching at Mt. Auburn Hospital. Rosemary (Hanley) Pierce is a Public Health nurse in Wayland. Kathy (Fenton) Ruggeri, husband Bob and daughter Roberta are now living in California. As indicated by her inspiring Christmas newsletter, Carol Dorey has returned to New Mexico after working in Philadelphia for several months. Laurie Eisenhauer, Jean-Marie Egan and myself are living in Drexel Hill, Penn. while attending the Master's program at the U. of Pennsylvania. Margee Curley is enrolled in the clinical specialist program at Penn and living in Philadelphia. She is still recuperating from an early fall automobile accident in which her neck was injured. She plans to resume classes in January. Eileen McCook is enrolled in the Master's program at Boston U. while Sally Osborne is at Boston College. I received a nice note from Jeanne (O'Neill) Morris. She and Ralph (A&S, '57) and their little boy are living in a new home in Walpole. Ralph is a guidance counselor at Norwood High. I also heard from Charlotte (Fenessey) Fontaine. She, Ray and son Eddie are living in El Paso, Texas. They had a grand time travelling throughout Europe before leaving Germany in July.

'63 MAUREEN HURFORD, ED.
7 Wildwood Road, Medford
EDMUND CONNOLLY, Jr., A&S
58 Avalon Road, Milton
THOMAS RYAN, CBA
3 Capital St., West Roxbury KATHLEEN M. McALOON, N.
69 Irving Street, Waltham

The request for information from A&S graduates has paid off with the receipt of several informative letters. It's impossible to answer queries of your whereabouts unless we hear from you so keep the letters coming. Among those sending information were Matt McDonnell who together with Bob Devin were Cape policemen this past summer and who now are back at the B.C. Law School in their last year. Matt was on the Kennedy Compound guard detail while Bob directed traffic affairs on 6 A. Others completing studies at B.C. Law are: Al Calderelli, Bill Doherty, Jim Falla, Gerry Farrell, Charlie Himphreys, John Janas, Gene Clifford, Stu Meisenzahl, Bob Sullivan, Barry Waite, who was recently married, Bob Welch, also married now, Tim Sullivan, John Moran, Bob Parks, and Carl Young. Brenda Condrey is the proud owner of a diamond given to her by Frank McDermott who will finish B.C. Law this year.

Lt. Harold Hiltz is in Saigon with the INTL Detachment, 1st Log Command Hg. He is planning a Fall wedding to Maureen Gutowski of Utica, N.Y. Nick Dimasi writes that upon graduation he was enrolled in a two year Masters program at the Columbia Graduate School of Business. Now with his MBA, he is working for Raytheon Company, awaiting an active duty hitch in the Army reserve.

A correction is due the last issue. Laddy Dysart is not the father of a girl but rather of a boy—Laddie III. Pat Curley escorted Linda Johnson during her stay in Buffalo. Pat has been an instructor at D'Youville College in Buffalo for the last 2 years and is currently working on his Ph.D. at the University of Buffalo. Ann and Marty Brennan are the parents of a boy born just before Christmas—Deacon the third.

Joe Quinn is married and is representing United Service Equipment Co. in New England. Bob Reardon is at Catholic University studying for his Ph.D. in Organic Chemistry. Frank Catapano is getting married in January and is in his last year at Western Reserve Law. Ed Spain is in his third year at Albany Law. Gerry Ward is playing with the Philadelphia 76ers. Charlie Carr is teaching at Bridgewater State and coaching basketball.

Ens. Vin Clayton is stationed in San Diego with the Navy. Lt. George Bourque is now at Lackland AFB Columbus, Ohio. Tom Galvin is in his second year at Georgetown Dental. Lou Cioci is attending Suffolk Law. Joe Dubois is studying for his Ph.D. in Math at Lehigh. After two years with the Peace Corps, Bob Demeule is studying for his Masters at B.C. George Thomas is busy working at MIT for his doctorate in Chemistry. Bill Hogan is due home in February pending change in assignment to the destroyer Osmond operating in the Pacific. Lt (jg) George Kaup has a new assignment with the LST Cocinino County which after coming out of mothballs will do some traveling. George is presently in Philadelphia. Mike Hanna and his wife Barb are taking up horseback riding as they will be moving to the Lubbock Texas area in January. Mike's new territory with Eastman Kodak includes part of Colorado, New Mexico and all the Panhandle to the Mexican border.

More future legal advice will come from—John West, at N.Y. Law third year, Jim MacMahon, Fordham Law, John Pellegrini at Columbia Law.

Lt. Bernie Theriault is in the Air Force and married to George Bourque's sister. Phil O'Brien is serving with the Navy at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Dick Gould is studying at B.U. Bill Murphy gets married in January.

Kevin Leary is flying for the Navy in the Mediterranean. Mike O'Sullivan still with the Navy, visited the Massachusetts area recently. Tom Jackson and Leo Kuckro are at Georgetown Law.

Dave Dillon has received his Masters degree. Ray Mitchell teaches at Canterbury School in Conn. Jim McSwiney is a science teacher at St. Dominics in South Boston. In addition to teaching sophomore and senior year he is coaching hockey. Bill L'Ecuyer has been promoted to Lt (jg) USCG and is serving on the U.S.S. Casco. He is married to the former Barbara Lekowitz, B.C. Nursing '65. Paul P. Daley and wife Nancy have a son, John, 6 months. Paul is working in Sales for 3M company in the St. Louis, Mo. area. Pete and Mary Brady have a daughter, 6 months old, Mary Margaret. Gene Laroche is in his 3rd year at Georgetown Dental. Don Moynahan is at the St. Louis Medical School, third year. George Cunningham is engaged and working for the Telephone Company. Dave Lee works for the Boston Office of the Secret Service.

Paul Hardiman is married to Marilyn Clark and works at the First National Bank of Boston. Dick Condon and Dave Ahern are studying at Babson for their MBA's. Ens. Jerry Green, stationed in Naples, is married and has a little daughter, Dawn. Also with a daughter, Dawn, are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxwell of Waterbury, Conn. Lt. Tony Bonello and wife Mary Jo are in Louisiana with the Air Force. Bill Phelan is working for his Masters at B.C. in English. Gene Durgin is engaged and working in the Trust Dept. of the First Nat'l Bank in Boston Jeff Speno is studying at the Syracuse Graduate School of Business.

If you're not in the above, drop E.J.C. a line and let us know where you are. John Walker was engaged before Christmas to a nurse from West Haven, Conn. A July wedding is planned. Lt. Pat and Gay McLoughlin '62 are stationed in Okinawa with the Army.

Lt. (jg) Ken Leon was married on April 25, 1965. Ken and his wife Barbara are living in Rota, Spain, while finishing out three year hitch in the Navy. Lt. Luke Lavalle received an MBA from U. of Mass in 1964 and is now serving in the U.S. Army's "Screaming Eagles". Jan and Ken Zak are now living at 134 Huntington Street, Hunting, Conn. Tom Goode has recently taken over the Vermont area for the North British Commercial Union Insurance Co. Mary and Tom and Lauren Goode are all doing their skinning out of 16 Madison Street, Rutland, Vermont. Lt. Tom Fitzpatrick is flying helicopter reconnaissance missions in Vietnam. For those who would like to drop Fitzzy a line, his address is: 1st Lt. Thomas H. Fitzpatrick H & S Co. 3rd Battalion, 9th Marine Division, Marine #20 Forward, Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif. Mike Lydon was married last April to Maureen Cassidy (Regis '63). Mike is now circulation manager for "Microwave Journal and Solid State Design" an electronics publication of Horizon House Inc.

The highlight of the football season was Dennis Farrington's chartered bus trip to the Holy Cross Game. For those interested in such trips there's always a large segment of the Centennial Class ready and willing to go. Jack Connors's time-bomb game is provided free of charge to all. Lt (jg) Bob Donohoe is stationed at Norfolk, Virginia. Frank Duffy received an MBA from Columbia in June and is now working for Anheuser-Busch in St. Louis as an assistant to August Busch III.

Many thanks to you all for your news-

SUPPLIERS FOR Furniture, Carpets, Draperies and Interior Decorating for McElroy Commons, Carney Faculty Center, Welch, Williams and Roncalli Halls

JOHN C. GILL, Inc.

2201 COMMONWEALTH AVENUE

Boston 35, Mass.

STadium 2-1974

John C. Gill, '31

The Alumni

filled letters. Eileen Mayhew writes that she and her husband Ernie are spending their second year in Paris where he is continuing his studies in Music at the Conservatory in Fontainebleau. They now have two children Eileen Elizabeth and Ernest, Jr. They would love to hear from any B.C. grads in the area. Their address is 11 rue de Birague, Paris 4e, France.

'64 THOMAS C. CORSO, CBA
119 Shultas Place, Hartford, Conn.
THOMAS J. JOYCE, Jr., A&S
7 Morrow Road, Brighton
ELEANOR (COLLIMORE)
SLUBEN, N
230 Walnut St., Apt. 37
Newtonville

William J. Daly announces much to the consternation of his fraternal friends his engagement to Jane Grainger (N '65). A June wedding is planned.

Paul Farry and his wife (nee Mary E. Folan) will be marking one year of marriage this February. Paul is presently a sales representative for Hallmark. . . . Dave Lynch was married to the former Francine Domenick of Hartford, Conn. Jim Bambrick served as head usher. Dave is in his second year at the University of Connecticut Law School where he ranks third in his class and was nominated to the Law Review. Blessed with sons were Joe and Paula Tuscano (Joseph Louis III on Oct. 17), Skip and Joan Barry (Thomas John on Nov. 13).

In his second year at Harvard Law is Phil Parent who sees 1967 as the year of his L.L.B. . . . Jack Schmid writes: "I was recently reading the latest edition of Alumni News. It was real nice seeing how some of our college friends are progressing along the path of life. Presently I am serving in Korea with an 8 inch self propelled howitzer battalion, 2/76th Artillery. I imagine I am one of many B.C. grads over here with the U.S. Army. Nonetheless, I felt, I too should drop a line to let you know what I'm doing so you in turn could mention it to others by way of the Alumni News. Furthermore, I'd like to wish all the members of the class of '64 a blessed and happy holiday season wherever they may be."

How about following Jack's example and sending your news along?

Proud parents of a baby boy are Paul and Donna Sullivan. Paul Atkinson Sullivan, Jr. was born August 31, 1965 in Des Moines, Iowa, where Paul is employed with Congoleum Nairn Co. of New Jersey.

LAWLER FUNERAL HOMES

Completely air conditioned, decorated and furnished in exquisite taste. We offer you a competent staff with a reputation for fine service.

363 South Huntington Avenue
Jamaica Plain JA 2-9100

43 Cummins Highway
Roslindale FA 3-9100

ROBERT J. LAWLER, '48

After having received his Master of Arts degree from Middlebury College Graduate School of French in France, Richard A. Bachand is presently a teaching assistant and a doctoral candidate in the French department, University of Kentucky, in Lexington. He writes: "I have just returned from a very fruitful 'voyage d'étude' in Paris with the Middlebury College Graduate School of French program in France. Its program is quite unique, I believe, because an American degree (M.A.) is awarded but the actual study is done in France. While there, I was also able to continue my work in piano with an exceptional teacher, Mme. Jeanne Manchon, former pupil of Cortot and a very respected pianist and teacher."

A first child, Monique Danielle, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Deragon on September 22. Paul is a claims adjuster for the Travelers Insurance Co. of Boston. The Deragons live at 5 Cambridge Terrace in Allston.

James F. Gaul has been graduated from the training course for U.S. Air Force weapons controllers at Tyndall AFB, Fla. . . . Peter A. Curtin has been graduated from the training course for U.S. Air Force communications officers at Keesler AFB, Miss. . . . Terrance A. Frechette is now employed by Royal Golf Equipment.

Owen F. McCann was commissioned an Army second lieutenant after graduation from the Officer Candidate School at Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla. . . . Jim Hughes is associated with the National Shawmut Bank of Boston in the Comptrollers Division. Jim is married.

Tom Egan is doing graduate work in Psychology at the University of Colorado. . . . Joe Hearn, another Psych. major, is at the University of Massachusetts; Joe received a grant from the Navy to investigate reaction time and memory traces. . . . John Cunningham and Dick Svelta are in the M.B.A. program at Amos Tuck. John expects to graduate in June and has announced his engagement to Ellen Condon, an Emmanuel alumna now teaching in Norwood. Once again, the leading news events appear to be engagements and weddings. Leading the list are the marriages of Joe Murphy and Mary O'Hara, and Ed Lothrop and Marjorie Holland. The Murphys are living in Narragansett, R.I.; and the Lothrops are living in Plainville, Mass.

Francesca Sullivan (Ed.) and Richard Finnegan were wed in Chelmsford; Dick went to the B.C. Grad. School. . . . Jane Beggan (Ed.) and Dave Goodwin (Ed.) were married by Jane's cousin, Rev. Robert Chambers. . . . Mike Howard (A&S) and Carol Ritterbush (Ed.) were recently wed; Mike received a master's degree from Stanford. . . . Dick Conron, now a 2nd Lt. in the Army, and Marilyn Coughlan (Ed.) were married. Also marrying classmates were: Jim Bambrick (A&S) and Janet Penny (Ed.), who will be living in Baltimore.

The list of weddings reported since the last issue of the Alumni News includes: Eileen Howley (Ed.) and Thomas Luddy, a graduate of B.C. and the Grad. school; George Davis (CBA) and Diane Rice; Anthony Baldwin (A&S) and Mary Hanigan (Ed.); Eileen Hallahan (N.) and Joseph M. McLaughlin, Jr., also a B.C. graduate; Dick Stirling (A&S) and Marie Murphy, who were married by Father Harney; Mike Barrett (A&S) and April Purcell, who will be living in Tennessee where Mike is a candidate for a Ph.D.; Alfred J. DiSciullo (A&S) and Joan Pelletier; Joe Fustanio (A&S) and Sheila McCarthy; Jim Kealey (A&S) and Anne McCusker; Jim MacDonald (A&S) and Jane Kinchla; and Lt. Paul Rollins (USMC) and Annemarie Royle.

John Brozcek and Nancy O'Neil announce their engagement; Louis Coletti and Cynthia Baptist; Frank Lawrence and Marilyn Cullinane; Peter Merrigan and Mary Anne Lane; and John T. Shea and Bette-Ann Bergeron. Alumni from the Colleges of Education and Nursing were: Barbara Berg (Ed.) and Nicholas Campagna, Jr.; Carole Munsey (Ed.) and Thomas Acone; Kathleen Neville (Ed.) and Martin Berwick; Katherine Riley (Ed.) and H. Peter Brewin; Elaine Selvitella (Ed.) and Steven Young; Joanne Bennett (N.) and Thomas Deffley; Rose Donahue (Gad. N.) and Francis Holman; Mary Elizabeth Russo (N.) and Leigh T. Briggs, Jr.; Margaret Supple (N.) and Michael Mone; and, listed last and out of place, Hamlet Collina (CBA) and Linda Barto.

Announcing their engagements are: Ens. Robert Smith (A&S, Class Secretary) and Jacqueline Ferren; Bill Deveney (A&S) and Mary Murphy; Mike O'Leary (Ed.) and Pat Hegarty (B.C.A.A.); Joseph F. Walsh and Pauline Roche, both B.C. graduates and Joe is in the Graduate School; Bill Riley (A&S) and Mary Lucid (Ed.); Tom Dolan (A&S), now a Lieutenant at Loring Air Force Base, and Margaret Flynn; Tom Donovan, who was also a Modern Language major and is also a Lieutenant in the Air Force, and Susan Logan; John Cahill (CBA) and Rita King; Bill Fitzpatrick (CBA), who is at Trinity College, and Pat Yukna; John Frame (CBA) and Barbara Stone; Timothy Lane (CBA) and Kathleen Buckley; Dave Dykeman (CBA) and Pat Keavney; and Colleen Navin (Ed.) and John Cortes. Almost needless to say, all errors and mismatches are unintentional. I certainly hope that the above announcements are correct and wish to thank those who sent the information along.

Nancy Balboni is an assistant head nurse at Newton-Wellesley hospital.

'65 JOHN D. FRECHETTE, CBA
71 Virginia Rd., Waltham
K. PATRICIA MCNULTY, Ed.
50 Laurel St., Somerville
CAROLE A. TREMLETT, N.
4 Mt. Vernon Street, Brighton

A Thanksgiving Birthday gift to Kathy McVarish was an engagement ring from Jim Sullivan. They plan a July 30, 1966, wedding. Jim is doing grad. work at the University of Massachusetts. Planning their wedding for a week later are Jane Cavanaugh and Gerry Gewalt, August 6, 1966 is their wedding date. . . . George Anthony and Joanne Frazzetti announce the arrival of a new baby in Washington, D.C.

Donna Paelaert is teaching junior high English in Weymouth and trying to stimulate creative writing in her classes. Maybe getting future B.C. Ed. students ready for the Skits! . . . Jill Jackson is with the Peace Corps in Liberia, Africa. She is teaching at a Catholic Mission School, grades 7 and 8. Another Peace Corps Volunteer, Priscilla Cox is in Barbados, West Indies and a Christmas letter from her says she is working hard at a tan.

Dick Gibbons is with the 101st airborne division and is due to go to Vietnam in March. . . . Pete Femino is in Texas and he experts to be sent to Korea in March. . . . Mary Cooke is a social worker for the Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and commutes to Fall River every day. . . . Mike Vaughan is going to Boston State for his masters. . . . John Orlandello is going to the University of Michigan for his masters. . . . Paul Mullen is going to grad. school at B.C. as is Jim Malanson and Tom Gordon. Tom is majoring in psychology. He and Sheila Burke have set their wedding date for August 20, 1966.

Renia Hayes teaches at the Meadowbrook School in Burlington while Maureen Aherne teaches French at the high school and Jack Eydenberg teaches English in the Junior high. . . . Don Kelly is now at O.C.S. in Newport. . . . Joe Condon is teaching a special class in Dorchester, while Cindy Couch is teaching a special class in Quincy. . . . Mary Kingsbury is teaching at the Kennedy Memorial in Brighton. Her class is not only retarded, but also handicapped. Mary really enjoys working with these children. . . . Tom Sullivan is very happy at St. John's Seminary, Brighton. You can write to him c/o St. Clement's Hall, St. John's Seminary, Brighton, Mass.

We wish to express our sincere sympathy to Jim Huse on the death of his father last Fall. Jim is now stationed at Devens.

Kathy Dullea formerly of the School of Education Registrar's Office is now at Lawrence Memorial School of Nursing, Medford, and would like to hear from members of our class. Kathy says she really likes nursing.

Heard from Ginny Breslin and Betsy O'Neill and they both say Jamaica is quite the place. Their work involves nursing and teaching the young and old of the island. From the tone of their letters it appears that they are receiving a wonderful satisfaction from their work as Lay Apostles.

Barbara Brown has recently become engaged to her Bob from Ohio. Have heard it mentioned that she will be heading for California in January. Certainly wish her well. . . . Nancy Brox and Mike Jones have become engaged. . . . Nancy and Marty Choquette are working at Montifiore Hosp., N.Y.C. and have an apartment in the city.

A baby girl has been added to the Conte Family. Congratulations to the proud parents, Marie and Steve, on their recent October arrival. . . . Claire Polek and Atto Curley have moved into their new apartment in San Francisco. Both love California. Their address is 1222 Clayton Street, San Francisco, Calif. . . . Donna Doyle and Dave Gavin were married last September and are now living in Southwestern Calif. Either Arizona or New Mexico. Best always to them.

Kathy Edwards is working at B.C.H. Med. 5. She will be getting married early next summer. . . . Rachel Salter is also at City. Their third roommate, Sue Evans, was married in November to a B.C.H. intern. . . . Marianne Gutch and Betty Michalski have an apartment in New York City and are working at Montifiore Hospital trying to convert the client. . . . Nancy Frenz was married early last fall. It was held in N. J.

Heard from Marcia Lee who just loved Europe last summer. Upon returning, she started work for the Newton UNA. Around Christmas, she wrote that she had become engaged to Jimmy. Also she is now working for the Boston Health Department. . . . Pat Loban is working at B.C.H., Psychiatric. She has an apartment in Allston.

Kathy Keegan is still with the UNA in N.Y.C. Gene is still around and is going to school in the city her roommate, Joan McGregor, continues to enjoy her studies. Joan called Christmas eve and she is really happy.

At the Newport scene Judy Thibault became engaged in October to a Naval Officer, Jay Calden. . . . Sandy Stable and Jan Wiker are Lay Apostles in Peru and are learning lots about the country, its people. Both appear to really love it. Also at Newport, Joanne Knight has settled in hospital life. She is certainly is getting quite a bit of experience in working on 10 wards in 3 weeks. . . . Sheila (Lynch) and Billy Josephs are quite happy now that Sheila is better. She spent a month at the Naval Hospital recovering from Duodenitis. She was quite a sick girl but is now back nursing at Newport Naval Hospital. . . . Got a card from Joanne (Plasse) and Steve Root who are living in Killeen, Texas. Both are very happy. . . . Last October marked the wedding of Pat Sullivan and Bill Lenz. After a trip to Europe, they are living in White Plains. Wish them all my best.

Washington, D.C. is the new home of Gail Sylvester, who is working at Georgetown. Also she is sporting a bright, shiny diamond given to her from her boy, Ed Cashmen.

Got a funny note from Brenda Pulinas who is at the Naval Hospital, Portsmouth.

Ann Pietraszek likes her work at U.S. Naval Hospital, San Diego. She will be heading home for a few days in January. . . . Steve and Jane (Murphy) Otis missed the B.C.-H.C. game but I bet their wedding was really nice. Heard Fr. Curtin was unable to perform the ceremony because of illness. Hope he's better. . . . Stella Kosowicz and Carole Tremlett are enjoying life on the west coast and have an apartment near the Pacific. Best of all is a place called the Downwinds, where they met Tom Harrington, A&S '65, an ensign in the USNR and Wally Johnson, CBA '64, also an ensign. Also are impressed with a place called San Francisco.

Judy (Nisius) and Tom Hagan are both very happy and are living in Schenectady, N.Y. They were in Ohio for Christmas. Married as of Dec. 27: Gerry Galvin and her Paul, Elaine Boucher, Sally Bissett, Cindy Burnett (to Russ and they are living in New Hampshire. None of this Southern comfort for Cindy). Engaged: Marie Formichell, Fran Gately. Last fall, Claire Tyrell was named Miss Auto Rama at an Auto Show at the War Memorial. She will be rooming with Muffie Tilley who is having just the best year. . . . Sue Moynihan is working at Pratt New England Medical Center. . . . Liz Shea and Betty Wareing are enjoying life in San Francisco.

Sister William Mary is up at Bethany and loves her nursing. Sister Helen is down in Peru with the other missionary nuns. Our religious have done quite well. . . . Sheila Quinn is at Floating and likes everything except the hours. . . . As a sideline, C. A. Tremlett is working with two B.C.S.N. Grads here in San Diego, Calif., Kathy Reardon and Mary Bradley, N'63. . . . Congratulations to Rosemary Thomas on her engagement to Jack MacKinnon, '62.

For your new . . .

LINCOLN - MERCURY - COMET

and other fine used cars

see

REGAN and STAPLETON

453 WASHINGTON ST.

WELLESLEY

CE 5-6000

Stan Regan '43 Jack Stapleton '51

Members of the November graduating class at OCS, Newport Rhode Island are the following: new Ensigns, USNR and their new assignments; from A&S: Tom Harrington (Engineering School, San Diego, California) and Jeff Forster (Japan); from CBA: Ken Dolan, (Norfolk, Va.), Harold McNeil (USS Tripoli), Mike Valenti (Communication School, Newport), and John Brunelli (USS Philip).

For the most part, the male graduating Class of '65 is divided into two categories: Graduate School and Military Service. John Griffin is at Harvard Law School. "Boots" Connelly, Neal Hunt, and Jeff Somers are enrolled at Boston College Law School. . . . Jean Gosselin is at Columbia Business School. . . . Andy Kinney is at Georgetown Law and Bill MacLaughlin is at Georgetown Medical School — with his wife and new baby. . . . Bob Perotti is in Law School at U. Conn. and Vin Griffin is taking grad. courses at Pace. . . . Billy Murphy is taking grad. courses in education at Adelphi. . . . Both Bob Furbush and Jim Nelson are in graduate education at Boston State. . . . Chris Lane and Jim Lucie are enrolled in the MAT program here on the "Heights". . . . Bobby Murphy and Pete Butler are working for Burroughs Corporation and attending business school nights at Boston College.

Among the military are Marine Lt. Jim McGowan and Lu Tessier. . . . Of course the U.S. Army gained many officers from the ranks of ROTC: Bill Schoeck, Sal Armento, Paul Riley, Jim Malm, and Cole Landers — to mention a few. . . . Gary Testa has just entered officers training with the Air Force. Mike Roddy is in OSC at Newport with the Navy. Hal Cail will soon enter OCS with the Coast Guard. In January the Marines gain William G. Hayward, affectionately known as "Weekend Willy" to his classmates. Carl Pergola recently completed six months with the Marines.

The Class of 1965 was very well represented in both Professional Football Leagues. In the A.F.L. Jim Whalen started at tight-end for the Patriots and scored several times during the season. In the N.F.L. both Bob Shann and Bill Cronin were reactivated by the Eagles and turned in fine performances. The first time Bobby handled the ball he ran 68 yards for a touchdown. Bill and his wife, Jackie, are the proud parents of a baby girl — Caryn Lynne. Emile Kleiner, from Kearns, George Humann, John Regan and Joe Mollicone among those recently married.

THOMAS CARRIGG & SON

MONUMENTS AND HEADSTONES
ALL KINDS OF GRANITE

JOHN J. CARRIGG, '51

165 BROOK ROAD, QUINCY
Tel. GRonite 2-3664

41 NORTH CARY STREET, BROCKTON
Tel. BRockton 5-888

772 LAGRANGE STREET, WEST ROXBURY

Tel. FAirview 3-2454

This summer Dick Cremin became engaged to Elaine Perfetto (N. '66) and will be married in November. Until then, he will be living in Providence with Don Moran, Frank Grywalski, and John Frechette — sales representatives for Raybestos, International-Harvester and United States Rubber, respectively. Among the missing are Bob del Signore and Bob Pisinski both lost in Worcester. Dave Wilson recently completed a training program with Dow Chemical and is working in Camden, N.J. Ed Downes is with Cramer Electronics and Dave Schillp is with Coca-Cola — both have travelled extensively with their companies. Bill Connor is with the Peace Corps and roommate Pete Flaherty is with the Lay Apostolate as is Paul Belford.

The following is a brief report on some of the members of the ROTC: Ted Brown is in the 82A ABN. He was at Ranger/Airborne School and will go to Santo Domingo in January.

Dick Gibbons and Bob Berry are in the 101st ABN and are also at Ranger School.

Hugh Barry and Andy O'Brien are in Infantry School, ABN-Ranger.

Tom Murray is at Armor (Tank Platoon Leader) School.

Fred Voto, Wynne Hanrahan and Warren Barnard have been stationed in Korea.

Steve Perry is in the Transportation School at Fort Dix.

Jim Huse is at Ft. Devens.

Paul Pescatore and Paul Riley, two of last year's officers in CBA are in Germany.

Jack O'Toole and Henry Harrington are at Airborne-Artillery School.

Jim Hartnett is now producing movies across the world for the Army.

Jack Landers, Paul Waring, Dan Toomey and Pete Olivieri are now in grad. school and hoping to stay deferred.

Others heard from:

Jim Mahoney, Al Suarez and Dave Conely are at the University of Illinois in Business, Physics and Law respectively.

Bill Hardiman is studying history at Brown.

Paul Diamond and George Coakley are in the Peace Corps. Paul is in Khartoum while George is in Ghana.

John Griffin and Bob O'Hare are at the Harvard Law School, while Joe Lynch is there studying history and John Brock studying linguistics.

GRADUATE BUSINESS

ROBERT P. ZIOMEK

16 Spring Street, Lexington

Last year, a group of interested alumni met to form the Graduate Business School Alumni Association. After many planning meetings were held, a founding organization of officers and committees was established. Currently, we are in the second phase of the formation of this association which includes:

- preparing a constitution.
- developing a financial plan.
- establishing a placement program.
- planning functions (both business and social) for 1966.

In the near future, you will be receiving information regarding the programs we are planning this year. You will also be receiving a questionnaire which we ask you to fill out which will give us information regarding the skills of the graduates of the school. This data will give us a profile of the alumni and will aid in keeping information of graduates up to date. The results of the survey will be published and will also help in the placement of alumni.

We solicit your assistance in helping the Alumni Association grow and those of you who are able to participate on committees, we welcome any help or ideas that you have. Contact the writer with any suggestions.

Information concerning appointments, publications, social items that may be of interest to the alumni should also be forwarded to the writer.

We would like to extend congratulations to Raymond Keyes, class of 1960, for his appointment as Assistant Dean of the Graduate School and wish him success.

Necrology

Your prayers are requested for the repose of the souls of the following deceased alumni:

Walter J. Clear, 1941 January 6, 1966
John H. V. MacGrath, ...
1921 December 30, 1965
Arthur J. Dowd, 1936 December 28, 1965
Austin J. O'Connor, 1918 December 25, 1965
John R. Ambrogne, Esq., ...
1941 December 23, 1965
Miss Mary Ann Desmond, Ed., ...
1956 December 22, 1965
Frederick W. O'Brien, M.D., ...
LL.D., 1948 December 20, 1965
John F. Kelly, Esq., Law
1934 December 19, 1965
Bernard C. Hogan, 1942 December 19, 1965
Hugh McQuaid, S.W., ...
1965 December 19, 1965
John J. McKenna, Law, ...
1936 December 14, 1965
Arthur B. Crowley, 1939 December 12, 1965
Sister Mary Francis Monica, ...
Cunningham, S.S.J., Ext., ...
1935 December 6, 1965
John T. Henderson, 1939 December 5, 1965
Robert J. O'Donnell, Ed., ...
1963 December 2, 1965
Cyril M. Lydon, M.D., ...
1917 November 30, 1965
Robert J. Pettie, 1944 November 30, 1965
Rev. Donald W. Whalen, ...
1922 November 29, 1965
Arthur T. Ronan, M.D., ...
1923 November 27, 1965
Thomas M. Killion, 1930 November 26, 1965
Daniel G. O'Sullivan, ...
1950 November 21, 1965
Rt. Rev. Robert E. Lee, ...
1906 November 14, 1965
Sister Mary Constance Landrigan, ...
R.S.M., G.S., 1935 November 13, 1965
Mother M. A. Orpha Masse, ...
R.C.D., Ext., 1937 November 8, 1965
Hon. Stanley E. Qua, LL.D., ...
1949 November 8, 1965
J. Leo Rooney, 1928 November 7, 1965
John E. Riley, 1954 November 6, 1965
Paul R. Hinchey, M.D., ...
1928 November 2, 1965
Very Rev. Vincent R. Hughes, O.P., ...
1919 October 30, 1965
Rev. Charles A. McCarthy, ...
1931 October 29, 1965

Frederick L. Mahoney, ...
1915 October 26, 1965
Rt. Rev. Francis J. Greene, ...
1928 October 26, 1965
John J. Cochran, 1918 October 24, 1965
Miss Mary G. Bellamy, G.S. October 21, 1965
Howard F. Rooney, 1929 October 19, 1965
James E. Hayes, 1955 October 19, 1965
Sister Mary Frederick Holbrow, ...
S.C.N.J., M.A., 1951 October 17, 1965
Louis F. P. Nolan, 1902 October 14, 1965
Thomas F. McHugh, 1900 October 7, 1965
Andrew J. O'Brien, Esq., ...
1939 October 3, 1965
Richard P. Kelley, 1927 October 2, 1965
Ayres A. Sequeira, Esq., Law, ...
1955 October 2, 1965
Charles T. Brady, 1919 September 30, 1965
Donald R. Sheehan, 1929 September 30, 1965
Norman C. Canning, ...
1956 September 30, 1965
John T. Gannon, Jr., ...
1921 September 25, 1965
Joseph D. Galvin, 1923 September 25, 1965
Rt. Rev. James H. Phalan, ...
1896 September 24, 1965
George L. O'Connell, ...
1931 September 24, 1965
James W. Hickey, 1926 September 21, 1965
Rt. Rev. Carroll F. Deady, ...
1922 September 15, 1965
Timothy A. McInerney, ...
1922 September 10, 1965
Anthony R. Mancini, Esq., Law, ...
1965 September 8, 1965
Col. Paul H. Raftery, U.S.A., ...
1931 September 7, 1965
Kevin B. Ryan, CBA, ...
1963 September 7, 1965
Frederick C. Robinson, Esq., ...
1950 July 23, 1965
Miss M. Mildred Lynch, G.S., ...
1935 June 7, 1965
Miss Mary L. Carty, G.S., ...
1940 June 21, 1965
Albert H. Perry, S.W., 1954 April 23, 1965
Francis E. Hannon, Esq., Law, ...
1941 March 20, 1965
William V. Lepeisha, 1941 January 27, 1965
Rev. John M. Gibbons, 1926 January 23, 1965
John F. Mann, 1935 December 5, 1964
Patrick R. McGrath, CBA, ...
1951 November 6, 1964
Walter J. Sullivan, 1921 October 29, 1964

Alumni BUSINESS DIRECTORY

HANCOCK MONUMENT CO.

James J. Ricciuti, '39

295 Hancock St., North Quincy
GRonite 2-3447

970 Ashley Blvd., New Bedford
WYmon 5-0144

PAUL A. REYNOLDS '33

REAL ESTATE

SCITUATE

Tel.: Linden 5-1303

PAUL F. FLAHERTY, '36 OPTICIAN — HEARING AIDS

42 HIGH STREET, MEDFORD
EX 5-9861

25 Richfield Street (Off 311 Columbus Rd.)
DORCHESTER 25 COLUMBIA 5-0112

DEDHAM INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.

EUGENE F. DONALDSON, '35, V. P.

All Forms of Insurance

394 WASHINGTON STREET, DEDHAM SQUARE
DAvis 6-0109

SCHOLASTIC JEWELERS, Inc.

OFFICIAL B. C. RINGS

Miniature and Large — All Classes

JOHN F. LYNCH, '25

5174 Washington Street, Boston

EDMUND C. WESSLING, '50

business equipment
CORPORATION

255 Atlantic Avenue
Boston, Massachusetts
Tel. HANcock 6-6800

Est. 1896

BOSTON

BOB DUNN, '42
DAN DUNN, '42

JAmoica 2-3300

CHARLES F. MURPHY, '30 CHARLES F. MURPHY, JR., '55

Insurance & Bonding

24 School Street Boston
LAfayette 3-2076

ELBERY MOTOR CO., INC.

Greater Boston's No. 1 Ford Dealer in Sales

360 River St., Cambridge
(near Memorial Drive) KI 7-3820

JIM ELBERY '51 SALES REPRESENTATIVE

New England's Fastest Growing
Printing Establishment

SULLIVAN BROS. PRINTERS

Main Office and Plant at LOWELL

Auxiliary Plants:
BOSTON, CAMDEN, N.J., MIAMI,
OCEANPORT, N.J., PAWTUCKET, R.I.,
PHILADELPHIA

All BC's:
JOSEPH E. SULLIVAN, L.L.D., '51
THOMAS R. SULLIVAN, A.B., '39
JOSEPH E. SULLIVAN, JR., A.B., '43
JAMES H. SULLIVAN, A.B., '45
HELEN M. (SULLIVAN) McNAMEE, M.Ed., '57
WALTER T. SULLIVAN, B.S., '61

REID & HURLEY TRAVEL SERVICE

60 Adams Street, Milton

EDWARD F. HURLEY, '32

OXford 6-1884

HAYES OIL PRODUCTS CO.
475 Rindge Ave., No. Cambridge
Cambridge 491-0300

FUEL OIL OIL BURNERS
Daniel J. Hayes '22 — Daniel J. Hayes, Jr. '49

FOR YOUR OFFICE OR DEN order a

BOSTON COLLEGE CHAIR

Featured in Block and Gold or Antique Maple with College Seal

Priced at $35.00, delivered in Greater Boston.
Call or Write—ALUMNI OFFICE—BI 4-5230

Beef, Lamb, Veal, Pork, Poultry, Provisions

JAMES J. DERBA CO., '51

"Integrity is the Difference"

Hotels, Institutions, Restaurants

Business: CA 7-6766 CA 7-0916 Res: MI 3-8699 14 NORTH STREET BOSTON 13, MASS.

TALLINO'S

of CHESTNUT HILL

(Opposite Shopping Center) for a

Delightful Luncheon and Dinner

Organ Music Nightly in Our Club Lounge

FRANK B. TALLINO, B.C. '30

Tel. BE 2-1749

FLORISTS Since 1896

F. W. HOLBROW & SONS

Fred Holbrow, '58

Telephone: 288-6300

301 HARVARD STREET, DORCHESTER
Holbrow's Parker House Florist
Downtown in the PARKER HOUSE
Telephone: Capital 7-8057

School Supplies School Furniture

School Equipment Blackboards

FRANCIS J. DALY, '29

J. L. HAMMETT COMPANY

KENDALL SQUARE CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

JOHN R. WISEMAN, '59

INSURANCE and REAL ESTATE

See "Jack" for all forms of Insurance,
Mortgages and Real Estate Investments

421 Highland Ave. Bus. 776-1454
W. Somerville, Mass. Res. 643-1096

SHAW-WALKER CO.

BOB O'HAYRE, '36

JOHN PASQUALE, JR., '63

178 ATLANTIC AVE., BOSTON

Largest Exclusive Manufacturers of Office Equipment and Office Systems in the World

LI 2-9410

E. D. ABBOTT COMPANY PRINTERS

THOMAS F. TRUE, Jr., '38

PAUL V. TRUE, '41

181 Mossachusetts Avenue
Boston 15, Massachusetts
Copley 7-5550

For Greatest Over-All Value in '66 ... Shop First National!

You do better at First National Stores with the happy combination of low prices, quality and variety, friendly courtesy and famous S & H Green Stamps. It all adds up to total food shopping value.

Low prices are traditional at First National . . . the lowest possible prices every shopping day of the year. And nobody knows better than First National that there is no economy without quality. That's why quality is guaranteed. You'll also find your favorite foods in wide and exciting variety and you'll get the most valuable stamps of all — S & H Green Stamps — choice of over 35,000,000 smart housewives all over America.

You can't buy better because nobody gives you more for your money than your friendly, convenient First National Store.

First National Stores

